SUDDEN ILLNESS COMES TO VETERAN FINANCIER

Russell Sage Forced to Leave His Office for Home—Wall Street Agitated.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Russell Sage, the aged financier, is under the care of a physician at his home, No. 506 Fifth avenue, today. The physician is authority for the statement that Mr. Sage's condition is not serious. The aged financier left his home in Cedarhurst, L. I., this morning as usual for his office, No. 31 Nassau street, and was taken ill. The report that Mr. Sage was seriously ill went through Wall street rapidly this afternoon and a flood of friends called at his offices seeking information as to his condition.

At the Sage residence a reporter was told that Mr. Sage was only slightly ill and that he had gone to his country home at Cedarhurst, L. I. It was said that Mr. Sage had been working very hard for some time past.

KELLY NOT SO WELL

The Improvement of Yesterday Morning Lost at Night and His Family Less Hopeful.

STOCKBRIDGE, MASS., Sept. 11.—1 a. m.—(Special.)—George A. Kelly, who was stricken with a nervous affection of the heart at the Red Lion inn here, is not so well as he was early yesterday. He had passed a good night and a very comfortable day, showing improvement almost every hour, but about dark the family had not quite so much hope for Mr. Kelly's recovering.

He was unwilling to take all the medicine offered him and did not rest quietly. At this hour Mr. Kelly is still somewhat restless and his condition is unchanged.

JUDGE STOWE'S DECISION HAS CAUSED ALARM

Recorder Brown Has Asked Solicitor for Information.

FEARS LEGALITY OF MAYOR DIEHL'S ACTS

Ordinances Approved After Passage of Ripper Bill May Be Affected.

LIST OF MEASURES IS NOW BEING PREPARED

Alarmed by the sweeping decision of Judge Stowe, City Recorder Brown yesterday began a hasty investigation of the city affairs with which Mayor Diehl was connected just prior to his supplanting by Recorder A. M. Brown. He summoned City Solicitor Carnahan and instructed him to furnish a list of all legislation that was enacted by Pittsburgh councils and signed by Mayor Diehl after the approval of the charter act by Gov. Stone.

The recorder feared that he had become involved in some of the points whose legality is disputed, and he read very carefully the decision of Judge Stowe that the acts of Mayor Diehl were void after March 7, 1901, as exclusively detailed in The Gazette of yesterday. Recorder Brown told the city solicitor that he wishes to be fully informed of the effects of Judge Stowe's decision, so as to avoid making any mistakes. Mr. Carnahan went at once to work, first to get a certified copy of the decision, and later to make a thorough study of the opinion and its possible effects.

Wants to Be Informed.

"I do not know to what extent the decision of Judge Stowe will affect city business at present," said Recorder Brown yesterday afternoon. "There is no doubt in my mind that contracts that are completed and paid for could not be affected. But there may be some improvements that were authorized by councils at that time and approved by the mayor which have not yet been contracted for. There are likely to be several street improvements, but I am not certain that there are any. I would not care to award contracts on any of the ordinances which were passed at that time, for it is possible that they are not legal.

"It may be, however, that the decision does not affect purely councilmanic legislation which does not come in the form of a contract. The case in question, upon which Judge Stowe gave his opinion, was as to a contract which the mayor signed in behalf of the city. That is a different matter. There the act of Mr. Diehl binds the city to something definite, which is not the case when it comes to an ordinary ordinance, as in any case the ordinance becomes a law if the mayor does not put a scratch of a pen upon it. Any action of the mayor there could not make any difference."

An examination of the ordinance shows that there was little legislation passed by councils and approved by the mayor in the interim between the approval of the charter act and the induction of A. M. Brown into office. The ordinance providing for condemnation proceedings to get possession of land wanted for the filtration plant was passed at that time, but the lands have been reported and the report has been accepted by Mrs. Delafield, and the city has given her the money for the land. That incident is closed, and as Mrs. Delafield sold her land and received the money, the decision could not affect it.

Physicians May Be Affected.

Another important ordinance, which was the signal for a prolonged fight in city councils, was that creating the position of physician to the department of public safety, at a salary of $2,400 a year. The position is filled by Dr. A. E. McCandless, a brother of Dr. J. Guy McCandless, director of the department of public works. This ordinance was approved by Mayor Diehl after the charter act had become a law, when the office of mayor was abolished, according to Judge Stowe. Another ordinance passed during the same time provided that city police who were injured during the discharge of duty should receive full pay for the time during which they are incapacitated.

There was also a number of other ordinances passed establishing grades of streets, relocating streets and the like, and several for the grading, paving and curbing of streets, but these improvements have been made and the majority of them paid for.

Lawyers Raised the Point.

At the time the contract between the city and the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston and Pennsylvania railroads was signed by the mayor, the attorneys for the railroad company demurred, and said that in their opinion the mayor could not sign in behalf of the city. The matter ended with that protest, however. Their objection was discredited here because it was held that the countersignature of the city controller was sufficient to bind the city in the matter. It was also argued by the attorneys for the city that councils had simply deputed to the mayor the authority to sign for the city, just as the same authority might have been deputed to the city clerk, or to the director of the department of public works.

City Solicitor Carnahan does not discuss the decision. He will not say anything about it until he has examined it, and is aware of its scope. He did not know yesterday whether any ordinances would be affected, as he had not examined any of them.

President Lambie Concurs.

A copy of the opinion was furnished to President Lambie, and while he had not given it full consideration he stated that he thoroughly coincided with Judge Stowe's opinion and thought that some action would have to be taken by councils to fix up matters left, through the decision, in a bad tangle.

Judge Stowe stated yesterday that the equity suit had caused him to delve deep into the question because it involved in that one case over $3,000,000. He said that if Recorder Brown had not afterward affixed his signature to the ordi-

WIDENER WILL NOT BE CANDIDATE FOR SEAT OF PENROSE

He Adds Emphatically That His Refusal to Allow Use of His Name Is Final.

ULTIMATUM FROM MORGAN

By CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 10.—The effort to induce P. A. B. Widener to become a candidate for the United States senate has failed. Mr. Widener is not and will not be a candidate, and he today authorized The Gazette correspondent to make this statement.

Two months ago prominent insurgent leaders asked Mr. Widener to permit his name to be used in opposition to Senator Penrose. He refused. Mr. Widener yesterday consented to act as the intermediary between Gov. Stone, Senator Flinn and Attorney General Elkin, and J. Pierpont Morgan, in an effort to see what could be done to end the coal strike. I have the highest authority for the statement that Mr. Morgan gave the governor and his friends a very chilly message, unmixed with encouragement. That he sent any reply was due to his personal friendship for Mr. Widener, a friendship that exacts the utmost courtesy. Mr. Morgan's reply was not verbal. He said there must be no possibility of a misunderstanding, hence his reply was typewritten. In substance it was:

"The miners must first return to work before the question of concessions will be considered."

The fact that Mr. Widener took part in the negotiations was widely hailed as an indication that he was again in politics. The insurgent leaders here and elsewhere industriously circulated the rumor and by insinuation sought to strengthen it. They knew Widener was not a senatorial candidate, but believed the rumor would injure Penrose.

I called upon Mr. Widener at his office this afternoon.

"It is stated that you are a candidate for the United States senate in opposition to Senator Penrose. The Gazette desires to know if credence is to be given the story?" asked your correspondent.

"No credence whatever," quickly responded Mr. Widener. "I am not and will not become a candidate for United States senator. That is final."

Mr. Widener refused to discuss the coal strike from any standpoint.

PRESIDENT HOME AGAIN.

Reaches Oyster Bay Tired Out from Constant Travel—Western Tour Begins on the 19th.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Sept. 10.—President Roosevelt returned from his southern tour this afternoon. The Sylph, on which he came from New York, arrived here at 4:50 p. m. The president was accompanied by Secretary Cortelyou, Assistant Secretary Loeb, Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Ethel Roosevelt. The last three joined him in New York. The president was pretty well tired out and retired early. Cortelyou went to his home in Hempstead.

President Roosevelt will make no more appointments to receive visitors before going on his western trip, which begins on September 18. He will devote the time between now and then in preparing for the trip, and in disposing of accumulated business.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 10.—Secretary Wilson will return here tomorrow from Indiana and will accompany President Roosevelt through Iowa during the president's tour of that state.

QUAY SEES PLATT.

Pennsylvanian Not So Sure as New Yorker About End of Coal Strike. Is Not Now an Issue.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(Special.)—Senator Quay reached New York today from the Adirondacks and said:

"I saw Senator Platt this morning. I am not here on matters relating to the coal strike. I am on my way to Philadelphia, after a vacation. I shall leave on the 4 o'clock train. I do not know when the anthracite strike will end. I wish I were as sure of knowing as Senator Platt seems to be. If I were as sure as he is, I would buy stock.

"I have had no conference regarding strike settlement with any one since I have been in the Adirondacks. The coal strike is not a political issue in Pennsylvania now. There is no telling whether it may be until the campaign begins in earnest."

CHAIRMAN QUAY TAKES THE HELM IN QUAKER CITY

Doubts Legality of the Butler-Westmoreland Agreement.

FLINN MAY STUMP FOR OPPOSITION

By CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 10.—Chairman M. S. Quay returned from the Adirondacks this evening. He will be on duty at Republican state headquarters in the morning. Many important matters are awaiting his attention.

Col. Quay declined to say anything about the Stone-Flinn junket to New York. He showed not the slightest interest in the perigrinations of the postscript governor. There is little doubt that the senator clearly discerns the actual motive which influenced the governor and the "labor expert" from Pittsburgh, but he modestly refrains from comment, believing that the public also has cut its eye teeth.

Chairman Quay's brief vacation had a good effect. He is looking better than at any time since he assumed personal charge of the campaign.

The following letter has been mailed by Chairman Quay to the Republican chairman of Westmoreland and Butler counties, bearing upon the congressional deadlock in which Huff and Showalter are the principals:

According to the rules agreed upon on August 28 by the committees appointed by the representatives of the Republican party in the counties of Butler and Westmoreland for the purpose of choosing a candidate to represent the Twenty-second district of Pennsylvania in the congress of the United States, it is my duty to notify you to direct the conferes from your county to meet the conferes from ——— county, at the Hotel Duquesne, Pittsburgh, at 2 p. m. on Thursday the 11th inst. ATTORNEY GENERAL INQUIRES CLOSELY INTO CANAL TITLE

Mr. Knox Does Not Think His Work in Paris Will Take Long.

HE VISITS M. DELCASSE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Paris, Sept. 10.—Attorney General Knox informed the correspondent of the Associated Press today that the only thing which can now be given out regarding the proposed Panama canal purchase is that he has under consideration many questions of law and fact bearing or supposed to bear upon the title to the property.

"The intelligent diligence of Mr. Russell," said Mr. Knox, "has greatly cleared the ground. I do not anticipate that many days will be required to finish the work necessary to the preparation of my report and opinion to the president, which will not be undertaken until I return to Washington.

"The questions of the gravest importance are those relating to the legal character of the old and new canal companies and their relations with the French government, if any, and to each other, the nature of their title and dominion over their respective properties and the legal bearing of the liquidation of the old company upon the affairs of the new company."

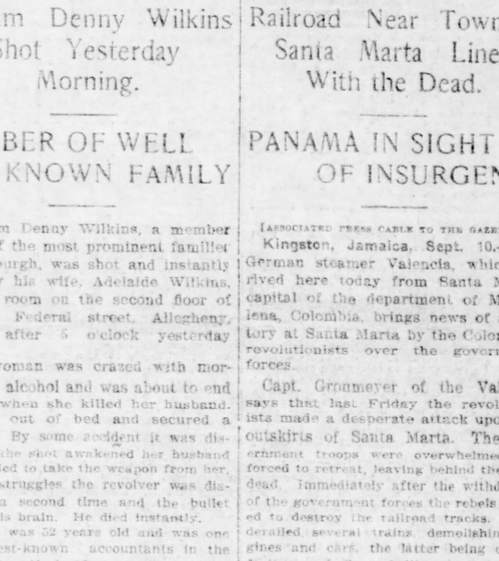
Horace Porter, United States ambassador to France, accompanied by Attorney General Knox, had an audience with M. Delcasse, French minister of foreign affairs, this afternoon.

TUNNEL IS COSTLY.

Proposed Boring Through Sierras for Southern Pacific Means an Outlay of $34,000,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Sept. 10.—The new route laid out by the Southern Pacific surveyors, who are nearly ready to report to President E. H. Harriman, provides for a tunnel 24,800 feet long, or nearly seven miles. The estimated cost is $14,000,000. It will cut down the summit grade 1,500 feet and enable the company to get rid of all but three miles of the 42 miles of snow sheds.

The proposed tunnel will pierce the mountains at an elevation of 5,900 feet. The tunnel is part of Harriman's plan to reduce the time between San Francisco and Chicago 12 hours, or from three days, as at present, to two days and a half.



WILLIAM DENNY WILKINS,
Who Was Killed by His Wife, Adelaide.

KILLED TRYING TO PREVENT HIS WIFE'S SUICIDE

William Denny Wilkins Shot Yesterday Morning.

MEMBER OF WELL KNOWN FAMILY

William Denny Wilkins, a member of one of the most prominent families of Pittsburgh, was shot and instantly killed by his wife, Adelaide Wilkins, in their room on the second floor of No. 813 Federal street, Allegheny, shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday morning.

The woman was crazed with morphia and alcohol and was about to end her life when she killed her husband. She got out of bed and secured a revolver. By some accident it was discharged, the shot awakened her husband and he tried to take the weapon from her. In their struggles the revolver was discharged a second time and the bullet entered his brain. He died instantly.

Wilkins was 52 years old and was one of the best-known accountants in the state. His wife is 38 years old and was formerly Miss Aledaide Hudson of Altoona. The couple had been married about 10 years. Mrs. Wilkins was committed to the Allegheny county jail by Coroner McGeary to await the result of the inquest on Wednesday morning. The remains of the murdered man were taken to the morgue, where they were identified by his brother H. Brady Wilkins, a well-known newspaper man. They were then taken to Fullerton's undertaking establishment, and will be interred from there.

Crazed by Morphine.

The tragedy is the outcome of the irrational act of a morphia-crazed woman. Mrs. Wilkins has been a victim of the morphine habit for some time. She attempted to cure herself but was unsuccessful. Recently she became dispondent over her failure and threatened to end her life. She told her husband that unless she could soon overcome her insatiable desire for alcohol and morphin she would kill herself, but he was not inclined to pay much attention to her threats.

Sunday she became heavily drugged from the effects of morphine and suffered considerably since that time with remorse. Tuesday afternoon she bought a quantity of alcohol and took it to her room. Her husband returned home that evening from his office and found his wife in an intoxicated condition.

She when to sleep early in the night and woke about midnight. She was seized with another attack of remorse and lay awake in bed. About 5 o'clock she decided that she would kill herself and relieve her husband of his troubles and care of her. She got out of bed, went to his bureau drawer and secured a revolver. In some way the weapon was discharged. This shot aroused her sleeping husband, who, realizing that she was about to execute her threats, to kill herself, ran to her side and tried to wrest the weapon from her.

Killed in the Struggle.

Mrs. Wilkins struggled with him, and in doing so fell toward her husband, and the revolver went off a second time, the bullet entering his brain. Wilkins fell with his face downward on the bed, dead.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Robinson, with whom the couple boarded, heard the shots. The smell of the burnt powder made them suspicious, and they raised the windows and called to Officer William McCullough and Acting Lieutenant George McNenny.

The officers rushed upstairs and found Wilkins lying on the bed dead and his widow frantic. She acted them in a nervous way that she had killed him by accident. She said that he had attempted to frustrate her in her attempt to kill herself, and in their struggle he was shot.

The officers sent word to Assistant Superintendent of Police John Glenn, and started with the woman to the Allegheny police station. Superintendent Glenn arrived at the house and made an investigation. At the police station the woman told him that she had been addicted to the use of morphine and that she had decided to end her life. She said the first shot from the revolver was by accident. This aroused her husband, and he, in his efforts to prevent her mad act, was killed in the struggle. She was almost crazed

ATROCITIES MAR NEW COLOMBIAN REBEL VICTORY

Railroad Near Town of Santa Marta Lined With the Dead.

PANAMA IN SIGHT OF INSURGENTS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Kingston, Jamaica, Sept. 10.—The German steamer Valencia, which arrived here today from Santa Marta, capital of the department of Magdalena, Colombia, brings news of a victory at Santa Marta by the Colombian revolutionists over the government forces.

Capt. Grommeyer of the Valencia says that last Friday the revolutionists made a desperate attack upon the outskirts of Santa Marta. The government troops were overwhelmed and forced to retreat, leaving behind them 100 dead. Immediately after the withdrawal of the government forces the rebels started to destroy the railroad tracks. They derailed several trains, demolishing engines and cars, the latter being chiefly fruit vans. Several lives lost were in these wrecks.

On Saturday the revolutionists occupied the banana district of Senega, where they continued to wreck the railroad, at the same time keeping up their advance toward Santa Marta. When the Valencia sailed from Santa Marta Monday the revolutionists were so near the town that Capt. Grommeyer could see the flashes of their guns.

Surrender Momentarily Expected.

Several buildings in Santa Marta were then blazing, having been ignited by the few troops left there to oppose the attack of the revolutionists. The town was expected momentarily to surrender.

Officers of the Valencia say that horrible atrocities were committed during the fighting by the rebels, who chiefly used machetes. Almost all of the government troops killed were found along the railroad track, their bodies being terribly mutilated.

Santa Marta is entirely cut off from communication with outside points, and the residents of the port have sent an appeal by sea to Colon for protection. It is feared the revolutionists will sack Santa Marta when they capture it. The stores are closed and the greatest terror prevails.

The attack of the revolutionists was entirely unexpected, and, owing to the rebels' superior numbers the resistance of the government forces was halfhearted.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 10.—The navy department has received the following cable dispatch dated Panama today, from Commander Potter of the United States ship Ranger: "Two thousand men surrendered to revolutionists at Agua Dulce, Colombia. Revolutionists are reported advancing near Panama."

Rebels in Sight from Panama.

PANAMA, Sept. 10.—The insurgent warships can be seen from here, but they are not in the harbor of Panama. The troops commanded by Gen. Herrera, the insurgent commander, are at Chorrera, a port 15 miles from here. The government officials are making defensive preparations.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 10.—In a mail report dated August 21 Mr. Goldschmidt, consul at La Guayra, Venezuela, has advised the department of state that on August 19 the revolutionists took possession of Cumana without a conflict, the government troops embarking for the island of Margarita on the approach of the revolutionists, who occupied the place immediately. Mr. Goldschmidt reports the whole coast east of La Guayra, with all its ports, to be in the hands of the revolutionary party.

Confirmation has come to the state department from Minister Powell of the press report that the Haitien government has declared Gonaives and some of the other Haitian ports which are in the hands of the Firminists, closed to commerce.

GONAIVES, HAITI, Sept. 10.—An investigation into the sinking of the Firminist gunboat Crete-a-Pierrot at the entrance of this harbor Saturday shows that Admiral Killick, her commander, personally fired the after-magazine of that vessel when the German gunboat Panther attempted to capture her, and that he went down with his ship. The body of Admiral Killick was recovered Saturday afternoon and was buried the same evening. The surgeon of the Crete-a-Pierrot, who was asleep in his cabin, and two sailors of that vessel also perished.

GOVERNOR AND STRIKE LEADER WILL CONFE

Meeting Will Occur a Harrisburg on Saturday.

INITIATIVE CAME FROM CAPITAL CITY

Chief Executive Refuses t Talk About the Question.

HIS MESSENGER IS NON-COMMUNICATIV

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 10.—Gov Stone of Pennsylvania and John Mi chell, president of the United Min Workers and leader of the coal strik are to meet Saturday, either in th state capital or Wilkesbarre. Thi conference is of the governor's seei ing and details were arranged throug a messenger who visited this cit today.

The governor's action is thought t be the sequel of his visit to New York where he met, among others interested in the strike situation, P. A. B. Widener business associate of J. P. Morgan. I is believed that he learned while in New York just what concessions the operator will make and upon what basis they ar willing to effect a settlement.

Mr. Mitchell was seen today by Col Richardson, a messenger from the gov ernor. He arranged that the governo and the miners' leader shall confer. H left for Harrisburg immediately after concluding negotiations.

Looking for Murderers.

The coroner's jury investigating the cause of death of the Italian union miner Castelli, by strikers at Maltby last Monday morning returned a verdict this evening that the murdered man came to his death from a gunshot wound inflicted by parties unknown to the jury.

Frank Portay, the companion of the murdered man, who was with him on the morning of the tragedy and who sustained serious injuries at the hands of the mob was able to be present and testified that he and Castelli started out on a gunning trip Monday morning. Walking up the railroad they saw a bird on a tree ahead of at it. The discharge of the gun caused a large number of men to rush up to where they were standing. Before the hunters could offer any explanation the mob attacked them. After being knocked down and clubbed, Portay escaped to a cornfield, where he remained in hiding until the crowd went away.

Ten men have now been arrested charged with being implicated in the assault on the Italians. They will be given a hearing before Magistrate Pollock tomorrow.

Governor Is Reticent.

HARRISBURG, PA., Sept. 10.—(Special.)—Gov. Stone and Col. William J. Richardson, keeper of the state arsenal, will not talk about Richardson's visit to President Mitchell at Wilkesbarre today as the bearer of a message from the governor relative to his efforts to settle the anthracite coal strike.

Richardson returned to Harrisburg at 10 o'clock tonight and went direct to the executive mansion to report the result of his mission to the governor. The colonel declined to state whether or not he had seen Mitchell, neither would he admit that he had gone to Wilkesbarre as a bearer of a message from Stone to the strike leader.

Richardson remained with the governor until 11 o'clock, and then left the mansion for his home. As he was leaving the governor, the colonel was again asked if he had seen Mitchell, and he said that the governor would have to answer for him. Gov. Stone said that there was absolutely nothing that he would say at this time, except that he was doing everything in his power to settle the strike. He would not say anything for publication about his efforts to end the strike or what he expected to accomplish at his meeting with Mitchell on Saturday.

Work Resumed at Brisbin.

SCRANTON, PA., Sept. 10.—Work was resumed today at the Brisbin, one of the largest collieries belonging to the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Company. No information will be given out at the colliery as to the extent of the operations begun there, but it was said that a sufficient number of men was at work to enable the company to mine and ship coal. No disturbance attended the resumption of work.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Sept. 10.—Vice President Lewis and Secretary Wilson of the miners were at headquarters today, but they had no authoritative information regarding negotiations for settlement of the strike.

Mr. Wilson said: "A big defense fund is still being collected. We are able to care for the strikers, and according to the outlook we can care for them indefinitely. It looks more and more as if we were going to win."

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 10.—The Team Drivers' International union today voted $2,000 to the anthracite coal strikers, and a check for $1,000 of that amount was mailed this afternoon.

Returning to Work Slowly.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Sept. 10.—(Special.)—There is very little change in the strike situation in the Kanawha and New River fields. Each day this week there have been some accessions to the working force, but not as many as was expected. It is reported that the operators had a meeting at Fayette station today at which representatives of the miners' organization were present and the situation discussed looking to a general resumption in the New River fields. This report, however, has not been confirmed up to tonight.

There has been no disorder in the strike region. Three companies of state militia are still in the field, one being at Red Ash, two at the other two at Thurmond. The troops withdrawn several days ago are still kept under arms and ready for duty at a moment's notice.

It is reported that the Kanawha and Hocking Company has granted some of the demands, but refuses to recognize the union. Several of their mines are working this week with small forces. Chris ilroad Employes' Legislative Board Has Three Propositions for General Assembly.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
HARRISBURG, Sept. 10.—Three bills being formulated by the legislative rd of railroad employes of Pennsylvaa for consideration by the general asably, if Gov. Stone should call an exsession for the enactment of arbitraon legislation to settle the anthracite l strike.
The committee in charge of the proed legislation is the same as that ich called upon Gov. Stone last Thursy to urge him to call an extra session. d to which he said that if he was certhe legislature would enact an arbiation bill that would settle the strike d prevent others, he would not hesitate call an extra session.
One bill provides for the appointment the governor of a court of arbitration be composed of the chief justice and o associates, which shall consider all portant labor disputes. The court shall e both sides a fair and impartial hear- and its decision shall be binding on th parties and there may be no appeal om it. The members are to serve for ur years and may be removed only for use.
Another bill creates a state arbitration ard, which shall consist of seven men, rs, three to represent the employers, ree to represent the labor organizations d the seventh to be selected by the her six. The third bill authorizes the apintment by the courts in the counties in ich the strike occurs of an arbitration ard and embodies the essential features the Haag arbitration bill, which failed the last session of the legislature.

NO ARBITRATION," SAYS A LARGE OPERATOR

ohn Markle Claims That Past Experience Makes Such a Course Impossible.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—John Markle, e head of the firm of G. B. Markle & o., the largest of the individual coal perators in the anthracite field, made a tatement today respecting arbitration.
"There will be no arbitration," said Mr. arkle, "and no settlement of the coal rike in any way. We have not forgotten r experiences in 1900 Mr. Mitchell apeared and began a campaign on our roperty. Our employes presented a list f grievances and I replied to them and greed that if our answers were not atisfactory they could demand arbitraon under the existing agreement. Mr. itchell distinctly opposed any arbitraon, asserting that we were insincere.
"Marcus Hanna came into the dispute nd got some concessions. The strike nded and it was heralded as a triumph r Mitchell. Work was resumed under ese conditions on October 9, 1900. The sult has been the establishment of every ind of trade union in the coal district. rom that time on there have been innuerable strikes. Mitchell has become a emi-god and is alone obeyed, so that all rdinary and usual means of discipline re practically disregarded. With this istory before us, I am sure no reasonble man will ask us to engage in any rbitration with Mr. Mitchell or his imediate followers."

NEW YORK HERALD HAS A QUEER TICKET

Nail the Names of Roosevelt and Dewey on Their Masthead for the Two Highest Offices.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—(Special.)—A political sensation will overspread the country when the banneret of the New York Herald is discovered.
At the head of its editorial page this morning in bold faced capitals appears the following:
The people's anti-trust candidates for 1904:
For president of the United States, Theodore Roosevelt of New York.
For vice president, George Dewey of Vermont.
The Herald simply nails this banner to its masthead without comment.

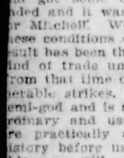
HARD WORDS FOR CARNEGIE.

Bitter Opposition to Acceptance of Library Money Fails.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The Battersea borough council has accepted the gift of $73,000 from Andrew Carnegie to build three libraries in the borough, the council providing sites and maintainance.
Councilman Raynor, one of the chief objectors to Mr. Carnegie's gift, described his offer as "blood money, for men have died in earning it." Councilman Rogers declared that Battersea should have nothing to do with Mr. Carnegie and the surplus wages obtained from thousands of his employes.
The gift was finally accepted by a vote of 27 to 13.

THE WEATHER.

The forecast of the Washington weather bureau for Pittsburgh is for a continuence of the present fine weather for the next two days. It is predicted that today will be warmer and tomorrow there will be a slight cooling off in the temperature. Yesterday the highest mark reached by the mercury was 68 degrees, although the day was bright and fair throughout. A curious feature of yesterday's weather is that rain fell in only one place in the United States at Havre, N. D., where only .01 of an inch was reported.



Fair.

The Gazette's weather service thermometers at Kaufmann's corner at the following hours yesterday registered:

PRESBYTERIAN ACTIVITY STIRS THE BAPTISTS

Movement Is Started for Another Evangelistic Campaign.

CALL HAS BEEN ISSUED TO THE CHURCH

New York Minister Makes Appeal That Will Be Taken Up at State Meetings and Carried to General Assembly.

Spurred on by the efforts of the Presbyterians, the Baptist church is soon to commence an evangelistic campaign throughout the country. The preliminary steps will be taken at the state meetings to be held next month. A temporary organization has been formed with the Rev. Dr. R. S. MacArthur of New York city as chairman and the Rev. E. S. Stucker secretary. This committee has forwarded a call to Baptists in every part of this country asking them to take up the work.
The ministers of the various churches throughout the two cities have received copies of the "call" and heartily favor the evangelistic idea. It is feared, however, that there will be many opposed to it, for the reason that the Baptist discipline provides other methods for attaining the same ends.
Despite this Dr. MacArthur asserts that the Presbyterians have awakened to the fact that there are able evangelists in the Baptist denomination, and not a few of these have been invited to work for the Presbyterians.

A Startling Statement.

In the circular sent out by the committee, the startling statement is made that Baptists are unappreciative of the evangelistic element in the denomination and that a man "who feels that he is called of God to this special work, has to take his chances as a theological tramp." Futher on it is stated, "the Presbyterians and Disciples are putting us to shame—nay, inciting us to evangelistic work." Continuing the call says:
It is not, therefore, surprising to learn that some of our Baptist evangelists are already engaged by the evangelistic committee of the Presbyterian church, in which it was recognized fully that the Baptist denomination has taken a foremost place in higher education in the entire membership of our churches, as well as in our constituency. Without appreciating in the slightest degree these great advantages, which we believe to be of God, it was felt that the time had come for a new consecration to God of your intellectual culture, and also of our social position and financial ability, and that a great forward movement should at once be inaugurated by all our ministers and churches in distinctively evangelistic effort.

Suggestions Are Made.

To awaken the spirit of evangelism in the denomination, the committee makes these suggestions:
1. That each state convention at its next meeting provide in its programme for the presentation and full discussion of the scriptural sphere, and present need, of thoroughly trained and approved evangelists in our denominational forces, and also that emphasis may be given to the importance of this phase of the pastor's ministry.
2. That each state convention be urged to appoint one delegate to present it in the denominational meeting already provided for in connection with our anniversaries to be held in Buffalo in May, 1903, and that such delegate be instructed to enc. trage any movement looking toward the appointment of a national evangelistic committee at that time.
3. That a state evangelistic committee be appointed at the next meeting of the state convention, which shall conduct special Bible and evangelistic conferences, and also encourage and direct evangelistic effort during the coming winter.
The evangelistic idea will be carried into the state conventions next month, and from them brought direct to the general session, which convenes in Buffalo next May. The session will be memorialized to appoint a national committee, whose duties it shall be to organize the movement on a proper basis. It will require equally as much money to carry out the work in the Bantist denomination as in the Presbyterian, it is said. For this a fund of nearly $125,000 will be required.

CARNEGIE COMES FIRST.

English Scientist Says Endowments to Universities Are of More Benefit Than Rhodes' Bequests.

BELFAST, Sept. 10.—The annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science commenced here tonight. Prof. James Dewar, president-elect of the association, in his address referred to recent munificent benefactions to science and education, and especially to the gifts of Andrew Carnegie and the late Cecil Rhodes.
Referring to Mr. Carnegie's endowment of Scottish universities and the foundation of an educational institution at Washington as a more direct benefit to higher education than the bequests of Mr. Rhodes, Prof. Dewar remarked that the establishment of the institutions at Washington meant a scouring of the old world as well as the new for the best men in every department.
Reviewing the meager contributions to the royal institution of Great Britain during the past century, Prof. Dewar reached the conclusion that, without such endowments as Mr. Carnegie's, the outlook for disinterested research was rather dark. The Carnegie institute, he said, could dispense in one year of as much money as the members of the Royal institution had expended in a century in its purely scientific work, and it would be interesting to note how far the output of high-class scientific work corresponds to the hundredfold application of money to its production.

PROCLAMATION ASKS STATE TO HONOR NATION'S MARTYR.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]
Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 10.—The following proclamation was issued today by Gov. Stone:
"In accordance with the action of the governor of our neighboring state of Ohio, and as a fitting tribute to the memory of William McKinley, late president of the United States, who was held in such high personal regard by the citizens of our commonwealth;
"I, William A. Stone, governor of Pennsylvania, recommend that Sunday, September 14, the first anniversary of his death, be reverently observed by the people of this state and that memorial services be held in the churches of all denominations throughout the commonwealth at the regular hour of worship."

A CAMPAIGN FOR FOREIGN TRADE

MANUFACTURERS ASKED TO JOIN NOVEL SCHEME

Ship Fitted to Carry Samples of Manufactures for Operation on Shipboard.

Pittsburgh manufacturers are asked to take part in a novel attempt to secure for American industry a large share of the commerce of Siberia, China, Japan, the Philippines, Australia, the South sea islands and Africa.
Under the auspices of the Commercial Oriental Expedition Company of Seattle, the steamer Oregon will leave that port on November 15, carrying representatives from many of the industries of the country, with samples of the work turned out by their firms. The tour will last six months and its primary object is to open new markets for American products in that portion of the world, whose commerce is now in the grasp of British and German manufacturers.
As a method of replacing the traveling salesmen, it is a novelty. The American consuls at each port of call will be notified of the coming visit and will in turn notify the principal merchants, planters and others interested in the articles represented on board. Each firm, whose products are carried, will be expected to send a representative, who will attend to the business end of the venture. Launches will be carried by the steamer to bring the customers to the boat instead of taking the salesman to the customers.

Can Operate Machines.

This method will allow of arranging machinery so that it can be operated before the eyes of the prospective buyers. Bridge and structural iron work will be shown by small models. An entire deck of the ship will be given over to these object lessons, which are expected to result in a great increase of foreign business to the firms represented.
Alfred Rimmer, business agent of the Commercial Oriental Expedition, is in Pittsburgh, and, in addition to interviewing large manufacturers personally, will appoint a local agent, to care for matters here.
Mr. Rimmer said last night at the Schenley: "This is not a visionary scheme, but the beginning of a regular business. By this method we can take the manufactured article and put it before the oriental customer, in a way that cannot otherwise be accomplished. Next year we expect to have at least two steamers in operation.

To Cover 30,000 Miles.

"Structural iron and steel, bridge work, electrical machinery and supplies, mining machinery, sanitary manufactures, in fact, every line of American manufacture, will probably be represented on this trip. As Pittsburgh is the workshop of the world, I am here to interest your manufacturers in this project. We have at present no branch here, the nearest one being at Chicago, but I will secure a local man as agent, who can give any necessary information to those who may seek it.
"The steamer is a big modern vessel and will waste no time between ports of call. The following itinerary has been arranged: Yokohama, 4 days; Kober, 2 days; Vladivostok, 5 days; Nagasaki, 2 days; Shanghai, 5 days; Hong-Kong, 10 days; Manila, 7 days; Singapore, 5 days; Colombo, 2 days; Mauritius, 2 days; Delagoa Bay, 10 days; Cape Town, 4 days; Adelaide, 4 days; Melbourne, 5 days; Sidney, 6 days; Honolulu, 5 days."
The Oregon will travel almost 30,000 miles and be gone from November 15 to May 12.

PITTSBURGHERS ENTER TROPICAL FRUIT TRADE

Many Local Men Form a Company to Invest Heavily in Porto Rico.

Pittsburgh attorneys and business men have organized the American Colonial Fruit Company, capitalized at $120,000 and bonded for $100,000, to raise oranges, bananas, lemons and other fruits near San Juan, Porto Rico. They expect to raise several hundred thousand boxes of oranges for the markets of the United States, and especially Pittsburgh, after the fifth year of cultivation, and sent as representatives to the island Dr. J. A. Koch, the president, and professor of chemistry in the Western University of Pennsylvania, and Dr. E. A. Schaefer of Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh. These gentlemen have just returned with glowing reports.
Among those interested are Attorney George Shiras III., vice president; Charles Geyer, president of the Provident Trust Company, treasurer; E. E. Keller, vice president of the Westinghouse Machine Company; J. A. Wilson, P. & A. Telephone Company; J. H. Hunter, engineer; Louis Emanuel, druggist; J. B. Jones, iron manufacturer; G. A. Hays, United States Steel Company; David Hunter, superintendent of the Allegheny city light plant; J. Warren Hunter, attorney; F. T. Aschman, chemist; John G. Braydon, J. E. Kreps, Charles Lamb, S. W. Connor, George I. Stahl, C. W. Smart, R. W. Wharton, E. A. Josephi and Isaiah Josephi.
The company will start with the purchase of 1,000 acres of fruit lands and plant the same with 47,000 orange trees.

TRACTION EMPLOYES HAD HOT BALL GAME

At Their Picnic They Played Eight Innings With a Score of 2 to 1.

President James D. Callery of the Pittsburgh Railways Company breathed a sigh of relief when he got away from Calhoun park late yesterday afternoon. He had acceded to the request of ball teams representing the Allegheny and the Second avenue lines, and his presence alone prevented riot. For six years there has been intense rivalry between the teams, and at the outing of traction men yesterday they had it hot and heavy.
The Allegheny men were captained by P. J. Ward and the Second avenue nine by William Curtin. For eight innings they battled and Allegheny, which has in the past met defeat at the hands of the Second avenue men, was victorious. The score was 2 to 1. In the forenoon the Birmingham men defeated the West End employes. This afternoon the two winners of yesterday will play off for $100 offered by President Callery.
It was a great day for the car men and their families. Gen. Supt. John Murphy had directed that every man be given a chance to go to the picnic yesterday or today. Most of them wanted to go yesterday. With their families they made a crowd of over 8,000.

GERMAN SOLDIERS BURN GUNPOWDER

AMERICAN GENERALS SEE SHAM BATTLE.

Emperor Was Early on the Field and Had His Guests Up at 3 A. M.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
FRANKFORT-ON-THE-ODER, GERMANY, Sept. 10.—Emperor William's guests were a yawny and rather haggard lot this morning. Prince Albrecht, as the emperor's representative, entertained all of them at dinner last evening, and it was toward 12 o'clock when the party broke up. At 3 a. m. they had themselves called, the emperor having directed that the battle begin at 7. The field of the maneuvers is situated quite a distance by rail from Frankfort-on-the-Oder, and the princes and generals had to assemble at the railroad station at 4:30 a. m. to catch the special train. Even the emperor was afield before them.
Tons of gunpowder were burned today. Sixty thousand infantry and 200 pieces of artillery were in action. The reports near and distant of the many thousands of rifles were broken at intervals by the tearing, rip-sawing effect of the firing of the machine guns.
Emperor William, Maj.-Gen. Corbin, Maj.-Gen. Young, Brig.-Gen. Wood, Lord Roberts, Gen. French and the other visitors and the numerous staff, in all 100 horsemen, looked on from a hilltop midway between a portion of the hostile lines. On a rim of the horizon to the west flashed 11 batteries of artillery, under whose imaginary shells the infantry of the Red army advanced. The scenic effect of the whole, especially of the seemingly limitless number of troops, satisfied the observers.
The Red army pushed through the Blue's center after three hours' brisk work and the aeronauts sent up a great yellow ball, which was visible for ten miles around, as a signal that the umpires had ordered a suspension of the engagement.
The opposing forces were freshly rearranged on the field after the guests and unofficial visitors accompanying them had returned to Frankfort-on-the-Oder. The emperor remaining tirelessly on his horse, the engagement was resumed and at the end of the day the Blue army was adjudged to have won superior positions.
The start tomorrow will be half an hour earlier than today, requiring the guests to be up at 3 a. m. There is some jocular complaining of this "too strenuous life," Emperor William will camp with the cavalry tonight, occupying a wooden pavilion specially constructed for him. The imperial baggage consisted of 200 trunks.

CHAIRMAN QUAY TAKES THE HELM IN QUAKER CITY

add, however, that I doubt the legality of the agreement above referred to.
An interesting statement made by a Western Pennsylvania Republican leader to The Gazette correspondent at state headquarters today was:
"I am informed by a friend who received his information from State Senator John S. Weller, formerly of Bedford, now living in Pittsburgh, that Senator William Flinn has agreed to take the stump in opposition to Judge Pennypacker and the other candidates on the Republican state ticket. My information is that Flinn will not take the stump until late in the campaign."
Neither Senator Quay nor Senator Penrose would comment upon this statement.
W. C. Miller, candidate for state senator in the Bedford-Somerset-Fulton district, called upon Senator Penrose today. Mr. Miller feels certain of election. There is fusion in the senatorial district and fusion in Bedford county, but as he has defeated twice, when a candidate for representative, the forces now opposing him, he feels no anxiety as to the outcome.
Attorney Hampton L. Carson, who placed Judge Pennypacker in nomination at the Republican state convention, will address the Republicans of Bedford September 18.

DROVE HER TO POISON.

Garnet Gaskill Was Despondent Over the Desertion of Her Lover.

Because her lover deserted her, Miss Garnet Gaskill, 19 years old, of No. 1508 Colwell street, committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid. She had not heard from her lover, Harry, as she called him, for two weeks, and was despondent when she confided this fact to her friend, Mrs. Grant Hay, at No. 172 Main street, West End, Tuesday evening. When she was found she had been dead six hours.
The girl was an adopted daughter of Rebecca Gaskill. Her name was Dawson, and she came from California, Pa. Her mother died of consumption when she was quite young, and her father was killed on a railroad one year later. She was then cared for by Mrs. Gaskill. Four months ago her foster father was killed on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. Since that time she had been working at night in the Baltimore & Ohio offices as a telephone operator.

Indorsed the Ring Ticket.

The convention of the Afro-American League of Allegheny county, a machine organization, held in Odd Fellows' hall, in Arthur street, yesterday, indorsed the entire ring ticket.

MAN'S BODY CONSUMED IN WHITE HOT METAL.

Cremated in a ladle of hot slag, with not a vestige of his body remaining, his name unknown to eyewitnesses, the identity of a man who met death in this awful fashion last night at the Edgar Thomson mills, in Braddock, will probably forever remain a secret. The victim was an Italian just employed yesterday, and unknown to his fellow-workmen. He was working on a wall about 10 feet above the track, on which the ladles are run to the dump. About 8 o'clock he slipped and fell, landing squarely in one of the huge ladles, filled with molten slag. A dozen saw the accident, but his body was burned to a crisp and in spite of the fact that a heavy stream of water was turned on the molten mass, not a vestige of the body was visible in the mass of cinder, that was emptied out of the ladle, two minutes after he fell into it.

QUAY TO SETTLE THAT DEADLOCK FOR CONGRESS

Conferees in Twenty-Third District Have Failed to Agree.

FAVORITE SONS STAND QUITE FIRM

Democratic Committee to Meet Today—Will Not Indorse Dalzell—Candidate Burke Works a Friend for a Protest.

Senator Quay will have to break the deadlock in the Twenty-third congressional district. According to one of the candidates, the senator asked the conferees to agree on a nominee and to keep him out of it. When the senator acts it will be in his capacity as chairman of the Republican state committee. The Twenty-third district is composed of the counties of Greene, Somerset and Fayette.
The conferees held their last meeting last evening. At the conclusion, with the ballot still standing three votes for each of the candidates, it was decided to turn the matter over to the state chairman. A letter was drafted notifying Senator Quay that the conferees could not agree, asking him to proceed under the rules of the party and notifying him that they would meet again in the Monongahela house next Monday evening.
The Democratic congressional committee of Allegheny county, appointed by the chairman of the county convention, W. J. Brennen, met yesterday in the Democratic headquarters in Diamond street, organized and adjourned to meet this afternoon. Dr. M. E. O'Brien was elected chairman and Henry Meyer secretary. When the committee meets today it will indorse the Citizens party candidates from three of the congressional districts, but will not indorse John Dalzell.
At the request of James F. Burke, one of the machine candidates for congress, Attorney John F. Miller yesterday addressed an open letter to the Democratic congressional committee. Mr. Miller has been opposed to the municipal and county fusion movement. In his letter he protested against an indorsement of any Republican for congress, particularly in his district. Notwithstanding Mr. Miller's request the Democratic committee will indorse the Citizens candidates this afternoon.
Senator Flinn returned yesterday from New York, where he assisted Gov. Stone in an effort to settle the anthracite strike. The senator declined to discuss the governor's work.
T. B. Alcorn, chairman of the Democratic county committee, yesterday appointed Attorneys H. L. Hegner, J. W. Sloan and T. L. Kerle a naturalization committee. They will prepare blanks for naturalization and help them through the proceedings in the United States courts.
The colored Citizens party of the Seventh ward held a mass meeting on Monday night in the headquarters, No. 80 Elm street. James Gross is president, M. Bell vice president, B. D. Brown secretary and James Kane treasurer. The speakers were H. A. Clay, Stanley Mills, R. H. Allen and James Kane. The headquarters was crowded to overflowing and the meeting was enthusiastic.

PITTSBURGH MUSIC AT EXPO TODAY

It Has Been Set Aside for Rendition of Music Written by Local Composers.

John Philip Sousa has responded to the request for a public hearing of Pittsburgh music and the result is "Pittsburgh composers'" night, which will be a memorable one for local musicians. So numerous have been the applications that Pittsburgh music will be heard at all three concerts today. A number of the city's vocal societies will march to the exposition tonight in a body.
Miss Estelle Liebling will sing Stephen Foster's "My Old Kentucky Home" and "Old Folks At Home," and Ethelbert Nevin's lovely "Mighty Lak a Rose." Miss Liebling's triumph last night in her initial solo was marked.
"The Pittsburgh Gazette March" will be a feature of the 9:30 concert on Saturday evening. The program in full for today follows:

with grief while talking to Superintendent Glenn. The detectives are inclined to believe her story, as Mr. and Mrs. Robinson say the couple never quarreled.

Took Remains to the Morgue.

Deputy Coroner H. F. Dempsey was notified of the morgue and hurried to the scene. The remains of the murdered man were taken to the morgue. His brother was notified at his rooms, at No. 411 Penn avenue, and went to the morgue and then to the Allegheny police station. The remains of the dead man were identified and later in the morning Detective James Steele of Allegheny took Mrs. Wilkins to the Allegheny county jail, on the commitment of Corner McGarry.
William Denny Wilkins was born in 1850 in this city. He came from an old family of Pittsburghers. He was a son of Hugh Brady Wilkins and Sophia Elizabeth Denny and a grandson of Judge William Wilkins, who was secretary of war 70 years ago.
Wilkins was educated in the Western university and was graduated from that institution in 1867. He entered the Chester Military academy at Chester, Pa., and was graduated from there in 1868, as a civil engineer. He took up bookkeeping, and after being employed by several large manufacturing establishments, became bookkeeper for the maintenance of way department of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. He was fond of sports, and was one of the original members of the old Olympic baseball club, and also of the Pittsburgh Barge club. He was instrumental in organizing the Duquesne club.

His Military Record.

Early in the 70's he became interested in military affairs and enlisted in the Duquesne Greys under Col. Pressley N. Guthrie. General Joseph Brown, the commander of the Second brigade, appointed Wilkins adjutant, and in such position he attended the centennial at Philadelphia. The next year he was made adjutant to Col. Guthrie of the Eighteenth regiment, and served during the famous railroad strike in this city. At the time of his death Mr. Wilkins was adjutant and secretary of the Veteran corps of the Eighteenth infantry. He is survived by one brother, H. Brady Wilkins.
The funeral of Mr. Wilkins will be held from Fullerton's chapel in Ninth street this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Yesterday afternoon it was announced by George S. Houghton, commander of the Veteran corps of the Eighteenth regiment, that the members would attend the funeral, in citizens' dress at the chapel.

Was a Belle of Altoona.

Mrs. Wilkins was formerly Miss Hudson of Altoona. She was recognized as one of the most beautiful women of that place. She was married to Harry Hemmer, a traveling salesman. Soon after the wedding they located in Denver for some months, where, after a disagreement, they separated. She returned home and secured a divorce in Blair county. She married a special apprentice named Bolmer, who was learning his trade in the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's shops in Altoona. This nuptial venture also proved a failure and a second divorce followed. Her last husband, William Wilkins, she knew long before she married Bolmer. Her family was opposed to the match because they were Catholics, while Wilkins was a Presbyterian. The couple was secretly married at the parsonage of the Second Presbyterian church, the Rev. A. W. Spooner officiating. Shortly afterward they came to Pittsburgh. This was 12 years ago, and even before that time Mrs. Wilkins was strongly addicted to the morphine habit. There are four brothers and four sisters living in Altoona.

West Virginia Exposition and Fair.

For this occasion the B. & O. R. R. will sell excursion tickets at two cents per mile, good to return Sept. 9th to 12th, inclusive, good to return Sept. 13th at one fare for round trip, plus 50 cents admission to Fair.

SIX MISSOURIANS HUNTED TIMBER

POLICE STILL LOOKING FOR BOODLERS.

More Sensational Developments Are Expected When Grand Jury Reconvenes.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10.—Search for six of the 10 members of the alleged combine of the house of delegates, who are still at large and who are under indictment on various counts, charging bribery and perjury in connection with the passage of measures granting valuable franchises to public corporations, continued vigorously today. Those who are still at large are Delegate Charles F. Kelly and Former Delegates Emile Hartman, Louis Decker, John A. Sheridan, Julius Lehmann and Adolph Madera.
It was learned today that Sheridan, who lived at the Hurst hotel, was last seen there Monday. He left hurriedly on that day when the Murrell confession was made public.
The friends of Messrs. Hannigan, Schnettler, Gutke, Helms and Schumacher, who were remanded to jail yesterday because of their inability to furnish bonds to the amount of $45,000 each, are making strenuous efforts to secure their release.
Delegate Faulkner's proffer to turn state's evidence and make a clean breast of all the operations of the house combine came too late and has been declined by Circuit Attorney Folk.
William Tambiyn, the ex-delegate who was arrested Tuesday at Cleveland, O., where he is now prominent in business, reached St. Louis today in the custody of a detective. Ex-Delegate Maders has been located in Colorado.
Edward E. Murrell, speaker of the house in the days of the lighting and suburban bills, was released from custody today after his bond for $15,000 had been signed. Only one charge, that of bribery, it is now stated, rests against Mr. Murrell.
"I have made a full statement to Mr. Folk," said the former speaker, as he left the Four Courts building, "but I am not at liberty to say anything for publication."
No session of the grand jury was held today, but tomorrow, when that body reconvenes, the city lighting bill, as well as some of the other measures passed on by the municipal assembly during the past five years, will be considered in the light of Former Delegate Murrell's confession. Sensational developments are looked for, as it is stated the council combine members will be put on the rack. The statement made last night that the jury would look after the bribe givers as well, and that some influential citizens would be indicted, was repeated today with stronger emphasis.

MISS TAYLOR AND M'VAY WON CUPS

Fast Play in Final Match of Edgeworth Club's Mixed Foursome Event.

Miss Bertha Taylor and Chester H. McVay won the cups offered by Charles McKnight and R. D. Haworth on the Edgeworth course at Sewickley yesterday, defeating Miss Mary Cree Porter and John W. Dix by a score of 2 up and 1 to play in a fast contest. The defeated players had the advantage of two strokes of a handicap. Both played fast golf, many of the holes being negotiated in three strokes each.
The Edgeworth team plays its opening match of the fall league schedule on Saturday with the Edgewood six at Sewickley. Edgeworth will be much stronger this fall, having developed a strong addition to the team in Christy Payne, who won the McVay cup. The team will be picked from the following: Christy Payne, R. F. Nevin, Jr., W. N. Kerr, C. Lee Campbell, C. B. McVay, Jr., Chester H. McVay, David Hays, W. S. Eyster and F. M. Hutchinson.
In the play for the E. P. Roberts cup on the Logans Ferry course of the Westmoreland Country Club yesterday William McCandless, with a handicap of two strokes, defeated William Parkin by 2 up, D. D. Pendleton beat W. A. Nicholson, handicap 3 strokes, by 5 up and 4 to play; while H. H. Howard, Jr., 2 strokes, defeated W. L. Drill, by one up. The most interesting match of the first round of play is between F. B. McSeely and Walter Williams. In the second round W. W. Woodruff, handicap 7 strokes, defeated F. M. Steiner by 3 up and 1 to play.
Westmoreland, which plays Highland at Cottage Farm on Saturday, will have by far the strongest team this fall, that has ever represented the golfers of the neighboring county. J. C. Thaw the well known Pittsburgh Golf Club player will be with the Westmoreland team for the first time in a league match on Saturday, while the other members of the team will be J. Offara Denny, C. McV. McCance, C. C. Preston, J. T. Moore, F. M. Steiner. Westmoreland members are wagering that Highland will not beat them by a margin of 15 holes.

ARGUING STEEL SUIT.

Plaintiffs Set Forth Their Reasons for Asking for Injunction Against Bond Issue.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 10.—Argument on the application of J. Aspinwall Hodge and others to secure an injunction to restrain the United States Steel Corporation from carrying out its plan to retire $200,000,000 in preferred stock and issue $250,000,000 in bonds was resumed today by Alan Strong of counsel for the complainants before Vice Chancellor Emery.
Mr. Strong was followed by Attorney Frank Bergen for the plaintiffs. He will continue in the morning. He attacked the valuations placed on the property and plant of the corporation and claimed that the estimators evidently acted as if they expected the very earth to turn to gold. He attacked the valuations item by item.

NEW MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL MAY NOT BE ERECTED

Controller Larkin Refuses to Sign Contract for Building.

DIRECTOR LESLIE IS IN QUANDARY

Does Not See How Demands of Controller Can Be Complied With—Larkin Says Contract Must Include Everything.

Director A. H. Leslie had a conference with City Recorder J. O. Brown yesterday afternoon concerning a contract for the construction of the Municipal hospital, to which City Controller John B. Larkin has refused to attach his countersignature, and which is thereby null and void. Both the recorder and director were rather chary about talking concerning the controller's action, but they decided during their talk upon a method to be followed. They consider that the decision of Controller Larkin stops the building of the municipal hospital.

"I do not wish to discuss the legal question involved in the controller's refusal to countersign the contracts," said Director Leslie after the conference, "because I am not a lawyer, and because I have not yet thoroughly studied his communication to the recorder. I have only read it over hurriedly, and am not sufficiently conversant with it to discuss it. However, I do know that if Controller Larkin is correct, it will throw the construction of the hospital into the future, and may stop it altogether."

Estimate Is Not Full.

"From what I gathered from what the controller says, he is objecting to the contract because, as he says, under the decision of Judge Buffington, the estimate furnished should include every cent necessary for the buildings, equipments, furnishings, supplies and all other matters and things for the completion and use of the hospital. I do not see how that can be done. I cannot understand how any firm can bid on the equipment for the hospital when they cannot tell anything about the buildings or what is wanted except by the plans and specifications. I thought it was best to have the building begun, and on the way, when we would be able to tell just what we will need. There are all the wards in the hospital to equip, the kitchen, and administration quarters to equip, and everything of that sort, and I do not think any one could intelligently tell what would be needed until we get it on the way and know what we will have.

Leslie Defends Contract.

"The equipment and furnishings should be in a contract entirely distinct from the construction of the building. We have done just what we thought best in the matter, and we have tried to follow the law. If the controller wants to stand in the way of this hospital let him do so. He is the arbiter of his own actions. If he will not allow us to build this hospital, with a winter coming on with sickness and suffering imminent on account of the great contagious disease that is now prevalent, we will have to take care of these patients as best we can in our present limited quarters. I do not know now just what we will do. We will decide upon that later. But I fear that the action of the controller effectually puts a quietus on the hospital project."

City Controller Larkin yesterday notified Recorder J. O. Brown that he could not countersign the contract for the construction of the hospital, which was awarded to Kerr & Fox, and he returned the contract to the recorder without the countersignature. This renders the contract null and void.

Bills Would Come Later.

The controller stated that he did so because in his judgment the contract had not been made in accordance with law. He calls attention to the ordinance authorizing the award of the contract, and which sets apart $80,000 to be used for "the purpose of the necessary machinery, apparatus, equipment and furnishings therefore, and for the erection and construction of the necessary buildings, improvements, equipment, furnishings, supplies and all things necessary for the completion of the requirements and needs of municipal hospitals for isolated and contagious diseases."

As the contract, which is awarded provides for the construction of the building only, and uses up all but about $4,000 of the money at hand the controller refused to countersign it, as he knew that there would come later a great bill for the equipment and furnishings, and for which councils would have to vote additional funds.

WILL REOPEN BRIDGE ON SATURDAY NIGHT

Repairs to Traction Side of Smithfield Street Structure to Be Completed Then.

The Pittsburgh Railroad Company expects to have the work of relaying the tracks on the Smithfield street bridge completed in time for opening the bridge to cars again for the Saturday night crowd. The inconvenience attaching to the present mode of travel has been very annoying, especially on rainy days. No means of crossing the bridge except by foot is provided. Passengers reaching either end are simply furnished with transfers to cars waiting at the other, where the trip is resumed.

Rapid progress is being made on the work. Yesterday rails were being laid. The repairs include changing the approach spans of each end, so as to bring each of the four girders under a rail and thus make the bridge firmer. Entirely new ties and flooring are being put down. The ties are 16 feet long and 8x10 inches in size. On these, the rail, weighing 80 pounds to the yard, is being laid and around the rail the three-inch plank will be placed. One hundred and twenty-five men are now engaged in this work.

The extra pedestrian traffic on the bridge, at certain hours of the day has become so great an annoyance that teams are interfered with. Not nearly all the walkers can keep on the sidewalk at the side that is still open, and many are forced to take to the wagon track. There are continual team blockades caused by this.

West Virginia Exposition and Fair.

For this occasion the B. & O. R. R. will sell excursion tickets to Wheeling and return Sept. 9th to 12th, inclusive, good to return Sept. 13th at one fare for round trip, plus 50 cents admission to Fair.

New Exposition audiences were carried away last night with Miss Estelle Liebling's glorious singing of the "Pearl of Brazil," and Mr. Sousa's lovely "Snow Bloom."

DESERTED WIFE HAS SUED HAYDEN

MRS. RAFFERTY ALLEGES HE CAUSED SEPARATION

She Charges Conspiracy Between Hayden and Her Husband's Family That Is Denied.

Mrs. George B. Rafferty, wife of a son of the former Pittsburgh millionaire, Gilbert T. Rafferty, has entered suit at Watertown, N. Y., against John Harold Hayden, son of W. B. Hayden of Columbus, O., to recover $25,000 damages for alleged alienation of her husband's affections and for assault. Hayden was arrested but released later on bail.

Mrs. Rafferty was Mrs. Deborah M. Smith, a widow, engaged in the photographic business at Clayton, N. Y., when she was married to young Rafferty last October, before a justice of the peace of that town. Rafferty is but 21 years old. In her suit she says that they lived at Alexandria Bay until last February, when John H. Hayden, the defendant, came, and, according to the allegations, by fraudulent and false misrepresentations, induced Rafferty to leave his wife. He is alleged also to have obtained from her the execution of an agreement of separation by telling her that Gilbert T. Rafferty, father of her husband, would give Hayden $15,000 for securing this separation, and that half of this sum should be hers for granting it.

She alleges also that he induced her to drink intoxicating liquors, and that he assaulted her in front of a hotel, the purpose all being to carry out a conspiracy between the elder Rafferty and Hayden, to bring her into disrepute and cause a separation. Hayden is alleged to have told Mrs. Rafferty that if she would agree to a separation the Rafferty family would care for her.

Hayden was arrested Tuesday night at the summer home of his father on the St. Lawrence river. He was released on a $10,000 bond given by W. B. Hayden and C. H. Hayden, bankers of New York.

Gilbert T. Rafferty, father-in-law of the plaintiff and formerly of this city, has lived in New York for several years. Oliver Rafferty, a brother of George, lives in Lincoln avenue, Allegheny. When shown the telegram last night he said that the newspapers alone had brought the story of the suit to the family and that they are absolutely without other foundation about it. He said that there is no truth in the statement that the father was plotting to secure a separation. George had lived with his wife only for a short while, he said. His present whereabouts are unknown. He has been in the west for some time, and has only indirectly been heard from by the other members of the family.

NEXT WEEK'S PLAYS.

The List Includes a New Comic Opera With DeWolf Hopper. Other Bills.

"Mr. Pickwick," the brand new musical composition that serves to reintroduce DeWolf Hopper to his legions of friends, is built around the famous Dickens sketches, "Pickwick Papers," and promises to be one of the most amusing concoctions produced in many a day. The big company, including Digby Bell as Sam Weller and Laura Joyce Bell, comes to the Alvin next Monday night.

"A laugh in every line" is the announcement Manager Davis makes with his bill for next week, when Pittsburgh theatergoers will have their first view of "A Stranger in a Strange Land," which was one of last season's big New York successes. The piece will be given some pretty stage effects by Mr. Huffman, while the cast will introduce to especial advantage Mr. Ingersoll, Miss Taylor, Miss Gale and Mr. Abbe. Every part in the play is said to be a good one, and every member of the company will be employed.

In the endeavor to secure material for the coming season the metropolitan managers are on the qui-vive for sensation; most of them are compelled to resort to old cut-and-dried methods. It has fallen to the lot of Messrs. Taylor and Irvin, who bring the new domestic drama, "A Mother's Heart," to the Empire theater next week, to originate a number of new and startling climaxes which it is said will cause considerable enthusiasm.

Much interest is being shown by theater patrons of this city in the forthcoming production, "The King of Detectives," which is announced to begin an engagement at the Bijou, commencing with the Monday matinee next week. The play is from the pen of Theodore Kremer, one of the greatest melodramatic writers in this country. It is sensational throughout, some of the electrical and mechanical effects displayed being both wonderful and marvelous. The great feature of this play is shown in the third act, when the audience has an opportunity of witnessing the actual movements of an airship and balloon.

Harry Bryant's Burlesquers will make merry at the Academy for one week, commencing Monday, September 15. Mr. Bryant this season is presenting a performance far above the average, and has selected a company of the best vaudeville and burlesque talent obtainable. The olio portion of the entertainment contains many head-liners; among them are the Imperial Japanese troupe, six in number; the Misses Mildred Murray and Lillian Beach; Ferguson and Watson, and the musical Craigs.

To See Biddie Play.

R. M. Gulick, manager of the Bijou theater, left last night for Buffalo to witness a performance of "A Desperate Chance," now running in that city. This is the Biddie play in which the chief figures are Ed and Jack Biddie and about which there has been so much talk. Time was offered Manager Gulick, but he wanted to see the show first before booking it. If it proves to be as good as claimed Mr. Gulick will book it for the Bijou.

HAMILTON'S PIANOS
At Special Prices.

The prices prevailing at Hamilton's old reliable music house at present are very much more attractive to conservative buyers than are the prices ordinarily quoted at so-called special sales. Hamilton's are offering splendid inducements to purchasers who make their selections immediately on account of the very heavy fall and winter business which is predicted. There is more time at present in which to select, consequently it is to everyone's advantage to buy at present without delay. Especially is this offer attractive to parents whose children are learning to play. It need hardly be said that one's children should have a really good piano for practice purposes. There is no fear of demoralizing the taste of the little ones when the instrument is a worthy one. Only the best makes are sold at Hamilton's.

It speaks volumes for the character of Hamilton's establishment that so many hundred customers out of town should order entirely by mail. Such confidence in a music house means many years of painstaking care in catering to the wants of the public. But that explains the wonderful popularity of Hamilton's and accounts for the fact that this is the leading piano store of the State.

You can get a really good piano at Hamilton's from $200 upward—and pay for it at your convenience, in easy weekly or monthly payments. Old instruments are taken in exchange at their full value.

BURGHERS MAKE MANY REQUESTS OF CHAMBERLAIN

Boer Generals Furnish List of Grievances to Colonial Secretary.

ASK COMPLETE AMNESTY FOR REBELS

Surprise Is Expressed at Character of Proposals, and the South Africans Are Informed That Terms Cannot Be Reopened.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, Sept. 10.—A parliamentary paper issued today gives a full report of the recent conference between the colonial secretary, Joseph Chamberlain, and the Boer generals, Botha, DeWet and Delarey. Prior to agreeing to the interview which the Boers asked for August 20 the colonial secretary requested a list of the subjects which it was desired to discuss, and the generals forwarded a list, including the following:

Complete amnesty to rebels; yearly grant to all Boer widows and orphans and maimed burghers; equal rights for the English and Dutch languages in the schools and courts; that equal rights with the British be conceded to burghers complying with the terms of surrender, including the right to return to South Africa; immediate release of all prisoners of war; reinstatement of officials of the late South African republics or compensation for their loss of office; compensation for all loss occasioned by the British troops by the use, removal or destruction of all private property; reinstatement of the burghers in the ownership of their farms confiscated or sold under the proclamation of August 1, 1901; compensation for the use of the properties of burghers taken by the British authorities; payment of the lawful obligations of the late South African republics, including those incurred during the war; reinstatement of the Boer colonies of the Transvaal to Natal; granting an extension of time for the payment of all debts due by the burghers to the late governments of the South African republics.

Proposals Surprise Chamberlain.

Mr. Chamberlain, in replying, expressed great surprise at the number and character of the proposals, pointing out that the conditions agreed on at Vereeniging were duly accepted by the burghers and the British government, and that they could not be removed, nor could proposals rejected at that time be again discussed. If the interpretation of the agreement was open to question his majesty's government would endeavor to remove all doubts.

On the subject of amnesty to rebels Gen. Botha expressed disappointment that, after the promise given by Lord Kitchener, the rebels had not been granted amnesty at the time of King Edward's coronation, in reply to which Mr. Chamberlain promised that the imperial government would not hinder any generous intentions of the governments of Natal and Cape Colony in regard to rebels.

As to the return of burghers to South Africa, the colonial secretary declared it was the government's intention to retain the right to prevent the return of disloyal persons who had not frankly accepted the terms of peace. Mr. Chamberlain promised that the farms bought by the government would be re-transferred to their former owners.

Botha Must Leave His Home.

Relative to the transfer to Natal of part of the Transvaal, Gen. Botha said the burghers proposed to trek therefrom. He lived there, but he saw no chance of remaining, the feeling of the British in Natal being so strongly anti-Boer.

Gen. Botha concluded with an appeal for the widows and orphans, and said he considered that the appropriation of $15,000,000 was inadequate. Replying to this, Mr. Chamberlain compared Great Britain's treatment of the Boers with the treatment of the south by the north after the civil war in America.

"I would remind the general," said Mr. Chamberlain, "that we have undertaken already more obligations than have ever before been undertaken under similar circumstances. I recollect very well the great civil war in America, and I appeal to that because that stands out as a case in which, more than ever before, or indeed ever since, the victor showed a magnanimous and generous feeling to the conquered. There was good reason for this, because they were brothers of the same race, the same religion, the same everything. It was a civil war, but even in that case the victorious side made no provision whatever either by way of grant, pension or allowance to the people who had been wounded to the side that had been conquered."

DAY FULL OF BUSINESS AND SOCIAL FEATURES

Three National Conventions of Printing Trades Continue in Session.

In the three national conventions of printing trades now in session in this city, yesterday was full of business and social features. The United Typothetae of America, which are meeting at the Schenley, spent the whole forenoon in the discussion of the proposed amendments to the constitution. By these amendments, the resolutions of the Typothetae are to be made mandatory upon the members instead of advisory. There was apparently a majority in favor of this change. The vote will be taken this morning, when the proposed new contract with the pressmen's associations will also be voted upon.

In the afternoon the whole party of delegates and ladies was driven in carriages through the parks, along the boulevards and through the finer residence sections of the East End. In the evening some of the visitors formed a trolley party to Mt. Washington to get the famous view of Pittsburgh at night. Others attended a stereopticon lecture by Isaac H. Blanchard of New York. Mr. Blanchard is a noted authority on the basis of costs of printing and his lecture dealt with that subject.

The events today will include a morning business session and an afternoon final session. Beside the decisions to be made on two questions already mentioned, the officers are to be elected, and the place of meeting in 1903 chosen. Baltimore seems a sure winner, with St. Louis for 1904, the world's fair year.

A carriage drive through the East End and the parks was the social feature of the day for the national convention of the photo-engravers, which is meeting at the Hotel Henry. In the afternoon a business session was held, papers being read by George H. Benedict, on "A Few Words About the Business," by Charles J. Wolfram, on "The Spirit in Which to Meet Exterticnate and Unreasonable Labor Demands," and by H. C. C. Stiles, on "Some Knocks and a Few Suggestions." An executive session considered several points of new business. The business today will consist of the election of officers and other business, after which the formal work of the convention will end.

The convention of the National Association of Electrotypers, which is in progress at the Henry with the photo-engravers, held a morning business meeting and in the afternoon there was a carriage drive for the party. Today's program will include unfinished business and the election of officers.

Mayor Charges Chief of Police With Drunkenness; War Veterans Hold Annual Reunion at Oil City

WOULD OUST POLICE CHIEF

Zanesville Mayor Says Officer Tried to Drive Team Into a Saloon.

CHARGES OF DRUNKENNESS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ZANESVILLE, O., Sept. 10.—At a special meeting of the city council last night Mayor Holden reopened the feud between himself and Chief of Police Tracy by filing charges of sensational character against the chief and asking that he either be disciplined or removed. This makes the fourth attempt on the part of the mayor to have the chief removed. In each case the council has refused to confirm a successor, thus allowing Tracy to hold on.

The mayor's charges are that the chief got drunk on Labor Day, drove through the band and crowd in a dangerous fashion; that on other occasions he visited numerous saloons, drinking intoxicants; that last July he attempted to drive a horse and carriage into a Main street saloon and only failed because the door was too narrow; that on September 6 he arrested and ejected from the city street venders who had taken out licenses and were entitled to do business, telling them that he was "running this town."

The mayor asks the council to investigate the charges, which were referred to the police committee.

CONFESSED WIFE MURDER.

Prisoner Says He Has No Remorse for Killing Woman.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 10.—James McGinn, the husband of the woman whose dead body was found in a pasture field at Hubbard yesterday and who was captured in New Castle last night, has confessed to the crime. McGinn said he was insanely jealous of his wife, and every time he got drunk determined to put her out of the way.

"I did it," he said, "and I do not feel any remorse for it."

DOWNED GOMPERS PLAN.

Steam Engineers Do Not Like Scheme of Organizating Locals, Proposed by Him.

The International Union of Steam Engineers, in convention at the Hotel Henry, voted yesterday on three important resolutions. It adopted a resolution, declaring for trade autonomy, and discountenancing the plan, said to be favored by President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, and to be broached at the convention of that organization at Louisville in November.

This plan provides for locals being formed by trades, but by all employes working for the same employer, being put in the same organization. In this way, it is said, the lines of distinction between the various trades will be broken down. The plan was turned down hard yesterday by the engineers.

The resolution proposing a universal system of licenses for engineers was also voted down. The plan was to have licenses issued under national instead of state laws as at present. The proposition to form a ladies' auxiliary was also defeated.

The report of the committee on by-laws was then taken up and its discussion in executive session consumed the rest of the day and will be continued today.

AGREEMENT REACHED.

Railroad Ordinances Will Probably Be Introduced Simultaneously.

An agreement has practically been reached by which the ordinance granting a franchise to the Pennsylvania Company for elevated tracks along Duquesne way, and the ordinance granting a franchise to the Wabash shall be entered in select council at the same time, which will give both roads equal rights when the franchise ordinances are passed. President John S. Lambie had charge of the Wabash ordinance and will present it. It was said yesterday that the Pennsylvania ordinance will also be given to Mr. Lambie to present.

Both ordinances provide for elevated tracks on Duquesne way. If either road was able to get its ordinance presented before the other, it would have all the rights and would bar the other from passing over or under it.

The Citizen members remained away from select council meetings and broke the quorum so as to delay matters until the Pennsylvania ordinance could be completed, and both enter select council at the same time, and thus enjoy equal rights.

STEEL FOR BATTLESHIPS.

Eight Companies File Bids for Supplying the Connecticut.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 10.—Bids were opened in the office of the secretary of the navy today for the steel to be used in the battleship Connecticut at the New York navy yard. The material comprises 7,106 tons of ship plates, nickel steel plates, steel castings and hull rivets.

The firms who submitted proposals were the United States Steel Company, the Carbon Steel Company, R. C. Hoffman & Company, Carnegie Steel Company, Bethlehem Steel Company, American Iron & Steel Company, Penn Steel Castings and Machinery Company, and the American Steel Castings Company. A number of the firms submitted bids for only one branch of supply, and the proposals were in such shape that a hasty inspection could not disclose the "lowest bid." The proposals will be gone over in detail by the construction bureau before an award is made.

The Carnegie Steel Company put in the lowest bids for material—4,200 tons of ship plates at $.019; 987 tons of nickel steel plates at $.0715, and 1,327 tons of ship shapes at $.019.

Patent Was Sustained.

The decision of Judge Buffington in the cases of the Best Manufacturing Company against the Fox Copper and Bronze Company sustained the patent on the bosh plate of the plaintiff company. In the suit of the same plaintiff against the Lawrenceville Bronze Company the court decided that the defendant did not infringe the Best company patent and ordered the bill dismissed. Attorneys Kay & Totten represented the complainants.

EMBALMERS ELECT STATE OFFICERS

Association Decides to Meet in Pittsburgh Next Year.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 10.—The convention of the Pennsylvania Embalmers' association closed here this evening. The association decided to meet next June in Pittsburgh at the same time the State Undertakers' association is in session.

The election of officers today resulted as follows: President, N. A. Knight, Mt. Pleasant; vice presidents, A. W. Kelly, New Kensington; John A. McGonigle, and A. M. Armstrong, Leechburg; secretary, W. S. Newcomer, Allegheny; treasurer, A. L. Methune, Oakdale; state chemist, Prof. H. C. Eckles, Philadelphia; executive committee, James M. Fullerton, F. C. Beinhauer, Pittsburgh, and William H. Shepherd, McDonald.

Erie Presbytery Meets.

MERCER, PA., Sept. 10.—(Special.)—The fall meeting of the Erie presbytery is in session in the Second Presbyterian church of this place. The Rev. A. J. Herries of Union City was elected moderator to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Joseph Hunter, of Jamestown, Pa., to accept a chaplaincy in the United States army. The overtures from the general assembly, for the revision of the confession of faith, were passed on affirmatively.

Industrial Plant Promised.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Sept. 10.—(Special.)—Morgantown received an industrial impetus today in the sale of lots by auction in the suburb of Sabraton. Eighty thousand dollars worth of lots were sold in a few hours. Of the sum realized $50,000 will go toward building five big factories which promise to add 10,000 population to the town in a year. Senator Stephen B. Elkins and George C. Sturgiss were the owners of the land.

Elopement Broken Up.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 10.—(Special.)—An elopement of a couple from Butler, Pa., was broken up by the police here today. Miss Nettie Hilliard and Michael Harney, aged 16 and 18, had agreed to meet in this city, and the girl came here with friends. The father of the girl telegraphed local police to arrest the couple and this was done.

Quarrel Ended in Death.

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 10.—(Special.)—A drinking bout at Potomac, W. Va., which ended in a fight last Sunday, resulted today in death. James Bilby and Alvin Mazingo, both of West Alexander, quarreled and the unconscious body of Bilby was found a short time later lying in the road. He was taken to his home, where he died.

Explosion Killed Two Men.

NEWARK, O., Sept. 10.—(Special.)—Nelson Hutchison, aged 28, and Hartford Spicer, aged 18, were killed this morning by the explosion of a boiler which furnished the power for a saw mill in McFarland's woods, near Martinsburg.

Eighth Infantry Officers at Odds With Custom House Over Filipino Trophies.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Officers of the Eighth U. S. infantry, who arrived from the Philippines on the transport Buford, are at loggerheads with the customs officials over the admission, duty free, of a trunk full of trophies from the far east.

All the articles were intended as a gift to the museum of the United States military academy at West Point. Assistant Surveyor of the Port St. John says he cannot pass the articles without consulting higher authority.

Principal among the articles are two religious images and the robes in which they were draped. One of these is an ebony figure of the Savior, known in Southern Luzon as "The Black Christ."

ONE THOUSAND VETERANS MEET

The Northwestern Association Holds Annual Reunion at Oil City.

MANY POSTS REPRESENTED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

OIL CITY, PA., Sept. 10.—The annual reunion of the Northwestern association, G. A. R., department of Pennsylvania, was held at Monarch park today. Nearly 1,000 veterans, including 100 inmates of the Soldiers' home at Erie, participated. An address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Hasson, who presented the association with a large solid silver key, appropriately engraved, emblematic of the freedom of the city. The association is composed of 113 posts and all were well represented, coming on special trains.

Following the dress parade the veterans were addressed by Department Commander Scott of Butler, Gen. Miller and Maj. McDowell of Sharon. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Commander, R. A. Dempsey, Bradford; senior vice commander, L. L. Shattuck, Titusville; junior vice commander, A. M. Breckenridge, Oil City; chaplain, the Rev. D. S. Steadman, Union City; surgeon, E. E. VanNaten, Cooperstown; quartermaster, G. S. Shattuck, Meadville; chairman of the council of administration, J. B. Maitland, Oil City. The survivors of the One Hundred and Twenty-first Pennsylvania volunteer infantry and the Forest County Veterans' association, known as the "Bucktails," also held a reunion and campfire.

Tonight, in keeping with "Pittsburgh Composers'" night, Miss Estelle Leibling will sing Nevin's "Mighty Lak a Rose," and Foster's immortal "Old Folks at Home."

Mahogany Hall Table

Keep your hall attractive. You cannot over-estimate the importance of its furnishment. The hall should sound the keynote of the owner's ideas of good taste.

There's usually a place for a mahogany table in the hall. Not only is its utility apparent, but the air of gentility which it imparts renders it attractive at all times.

The Hall Table shown above is a thing of beauty—made of mahogany—oval top—40x28 inches—finished exquisitely—

It's one of those original pieces for which this store is famous—one of the many styles seen only at

For This Upright Folding Bed.

We have good reason to think that we sell more good Folding Beds than any other store—Probably it is because we make them a special feature and give them more prominence than other stores.

Displayed in a room by themselves and showing very many more kinds at each price than it is possible for any other store to show—because others haven't the room—gives our customers a chance for comparison and a variety to choose from at whatever price you wish to pay, and there isn't a poorly made bed in the lot—you take no chances here.

The Folding Bed here illustrated is the best bed we've ever shown at the price. Reliable in construction. Easy to operate. Room for bedclothes. A good golden finish and furnished with WIRE BED SPRING COMPLETE. Usual price $25.

JUROR READ THE LAW TO JUDGES AND GOT HIS PAY

Now He Thinks He Can Work the Commissioners for an Extra Day.

WILL SPEND HIS LIFE TO GET IT

Corporation Act of 1895 Requiring That Employes Be Paid Semi-Monthly the Basis of a Remarkable Argument.

A juror who was discharged by court of common pleas No. 3 one day before his term of service was up has made unlimited trouble for the county commissioners by insisting that they execute a warrant for that day's pay, notwithstanding the fact that the clerk of courts refused to certify to his service. For several weeks he has been a daily visitor to the commissioners' office, and it all came through the action of Judge Kennedy in listening to his argument on the corporation act of 1895, providing that all corporations must pay their employes semi-monthly.

During the last term of common pleas court No. 3 the jury empaneled for the last two weeks was requested to put in another week to finish up the business. One juror wanted his money for the two weeks served and did not care to wait until the three weeks or the end of the term. In order to justify his demand he visited the law library and requested Librarian Percy Digby to give him a copy of the act in question.

Read Law to Judges.

Securing the book, the juror went before Judge Evans and argued in open court, reading from the act that Allegheny county was a corporation, and that under the laws of Pennsylvania the court was compelled to issue a warrant for his pay at the end of two weeks. He said he needed the money to pay a claim upon him, and surprised all the other jurors, as well as the court, by his remarkable method of attempting to collect in advance of the time. Judge Evans could not see it his way, and refused the special order on the county commissioners. He then tried Judge Kennedy, and his honor, while coinciding with the views of Judge Evans, decided to issue the order to get rid of him, thereby establishing a precedent that other jurors may follow in the future. His order was received by the commissioners and payment made.

Says He Accomodated Court.

The juror turned up on Monday and went five days. He showed up on the morning of the sixth all right, but a trifle under the weather. When the court asked him where he had been he intimated that he had been in jail. The court did not require his services that day, and told him so. He replied:

"All right, your honor. You're the judge and I'm the victim."

As he had served five days and appeared on the sixth he claimed full pay, arguing that the term of service was voluntary for that week and not required, as he had only been subpoenaed for two weeks and was accommodating the court. The pay was refused, however, and the gentleman has turned up at the county commissioners' and clerk of court's offices every day since. He says he will get his money if he has to visit the office every day during the rest of his natural life. The county commissioners think he will be always with them.

OVERRULED REFEREE.

Judge Buffington Discharged One Bankrupt and Ordered Arrest of Another.

Judge Buffington of the United States district court handed down an opinion yesterday, in the bankruptcy case of Alfred B. Lindsay of Greensburg, who, it was alleged, had made false statements concerning the assets arising from the sale of goods. Exceptions were filed to his discharge from bankruptcy before Referee Keenan, who recommended that a discharge be refused.

The court says that he can find no statutory warrant for refusing the discharge and says that an oath which is untrue is not a crime but that a false oath, made knowingly, is.

Judge Buffington issued an order for the arrest of Charles Goerman, against whom a petition in bankruptcy was filed some time ago. He was taken into custody yesterday afternoon and released on bail. He is charged with attempting to defeat the bankruptcy proceedings against him by leaving the city.

BROWN GETS TWO YEARS.

Criminal Court Refuses Any Leniency to House-Breakers.

James Brown pleaded guilty in Judge Collier's court to entering a house at No. 2627 Fifth avenue and stealing jewelry. He was sentenced to the Western penitentiary for two years.

Other pleas of guilty are as follows: Michael J. Drew, embezzlement of $170 from Patrick Linaugh, one year to the workhouse; Jack Jackson, larceny of $28 from Grace Clarey, workhouse one year; Charles Bass, assault and battery, by Sallie Bass, 15 days to the workhouse.

Henry Keyser was acquitted of a charge of assault and battery preferred by his wife, Dora Keyser of Duquesne, and the costs were divided.

Louis Roman was sentenced to the workhouse for 18 months on a charge of felonious assault and battery. He shot William Bennett of Braddock in the leg. William Wesley was sentenced to the penitentiary for 18 months on a charge of unlawfully cutting James Kemp.

Mary Igler, aged 50 years, charged with malicious mischief, made a precise curtsey to the court when told she was a prisoner no longer, as her case had been ignored by the grand jury.

RULE MADE ABSOLUTE.

Judgment for $10,000 Against H. H. Swaney Opened.

A rule to open judgment in the case of J. P. McIntyre against Attorney H. H. Swaney was made absolute. The suit was to recover $10,000, an alleged balance due on a contract growing out of the building of the Youghiogheny Valley Passenger railway. The plaintiff took judgment and it was alleged the service was improper.

The same defendant filed an answer to the suit of H. R. McPherson to recover an amount due in connection with the formation of the railway. In this suit Attorney Swaney says that if any work was performed by the plaintiff it was as agent of the company.

Railroad Files Demurrer.

A demurrer was filed yesterday by the defendant to the cross-bill of the borough of Braddock against the Pittsburgh & Connellsville Railroad Company, an action to prevent the latter from erecting switches upon certain property. The defendant alleges the plaintiff's cross-bill is in effect a bill for ejectment and that the plaintiff asks for an injunction to compel the defendant to remove tracks already constructed on a right of way to which they are conceded a record title, and which, it is admitted, they used as such before the incorporation of the borough.

PLEADED SELF-DEFENSE.

Garfield McIntyre on Trial for the Murder of William Mitchell Near Mt. Washington.

Garfield McIntyre, colored, was placed on trial in criminal court yesterday for the murder of William Mitchell, also colored, on February 27, near Mt. Washington. The case went to the jury about 4 o'clock and when court adjourned the jury was still out.

McIntyre and Mitchell were bunkmates at the Wabash camp, where they were working on the tunnel.

Dr. A. L. McCandless, who conducted the post-mortem examination, testified as to the death of Mitchell.

J. C. Cooper, colored, who lived in the shanty with Mitchell and the defendant, testified that trouble arose over the loss of a pocketbook containing $1 04., which he thought McIntyre accused Mitchell of stealing.

After a heated argument, Mitchell threw an empty beer bottle at the defendant and ran out of the shanty. McIntyre gave chase, overtook Mitchell and catching him around the neck, struck him about the stomach. Mitchell fell out arose and McIntyre left the camp.

McIntyre admitted cutting Mitchell, but said he did it in self-defense. He said Mitchell threw a beer bottle at him; that the fight took place in the shanty, where the cutting was done, and that he did not follow Mitchell.

GIVES A CLEAR TITLE.

Judge Frazer Decides Act of 1812 Does Not Prevent Joint Tenancy of Property.

An opinion was handed down yesterday by Judge Frazer in the case of the Redemptionist Fathers against James B. Lawler. The court decides that the act of March 31, 1812, which was passed to abolish joint tenancy in this state, does not prevent joint tenancy as a principal.

On November 19, 1862, the Rev. Francis Muller and others sold to John De Dycker and others a two-acre tract in Allegheny. The deed expressly stated that it was surveyed to the purchasers "as joint tenants and not tenants in common." The property finally went into the possession of the Redemptionist Fathers, from whom Lawler proposed to purchase a portion of the property, but he declined to accept it, on the ground that a clear title could not be given by reason of the act of March 31, 1812, abolishing joint tenancy in the state.

The court says it cannot find anything in the act of 1812 which prevents the creation of a joint tenancy as a principal, as it exists in the case in question, as a principal by express words and not as an incident. Judgment was entered in favor of the plaintiff for $10,000, which represents the purchase price offered by Lawler. Attorneys Fagan and Magee represented the plaintiffs.

Joseph Allen, who was to have been placed on trial in the Criminal court yesterday for the murder of Achsah King, will be tried September 22. The case was postponed at the request of the defendant's attorney, Rody P. Marshall.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

By the will of John D. Jones, late of Mifflin township, an estate worth $1,200 goes to his wife.

An inventory and appraisement of the estate of Sarah C. Macoun shows a valuation of $178 45.

David Howell and others filed exceptions to the account of the administrator of the estate of John R. Evans.

A petition was filed for the appointment of a committee for Charles W. Ziegler, who, it is said, is unable to care for his estate.

Exceptions were issued as follows: Welden & Kelly against R. F. Thums and Mary Kellbocker, $300 and $358 17; W. A. Minteer against S. J. Schlegel, $329 85.

J. T. Groomly, J. T. Stettler and William E. Von Bonnhorst were appointed commissioners of Chartiers township in quarter sessions court. This is the result of the formation of the borough of Ingram.

An execution attachment was issued by Mrs. L. E. Shoup against L. E. Shoup, her husband, upon judgment entered in favor of the plaintiff who had the satisfaction of a judgment held against the defendant, opened.

Exceptions were filed in orphans court by Heeren Bros. to the account of the administrator of the estate of Joseph A. Link, alleging the $4,000 received from the sale of saloon fixtures should not be an asset upon the estate.

Kate V. Kammerer took out letters of administration on the $6,000 estate of David M. Kammerer, who died in a hospital at Boston September 1. The decedent was a resident of Allegheny. Attorney R. M. Barnes represented the administratrix.

LOCAL NEWS OF ALL PITTSBURGH

Yesterday's Health Report—Eighteen cases of typhoid fever, three of scarlet fever and seven of diphtheria were reported to the bureau of health yesterday.

Suspended by Burgess Horner—Policeman James R. Chaney of Wilkinsburgh was suspended by Burgess Horner yesterday for 10 days for alleged disobedience of orders.

Fever in Oakmont and Verona—Oakmont and Verona are reported to be suffering from an epidemic of typhoid and scarlet fever. The cases are scattered over the two boroughs.

Dowe Succeeds Bittner—Director Leslie appointed William Dowe of the Twenty-eighth ward, janitor of No. 7 police station yesterday, to take the place of John Bittner, recently appointed captain of police.

To Hold Memorial Service—Burgess J. C. Miller of Homestead yesterday issued a proclamation calling on the people and churches of the borough to unite next Sunday in a memorial service in memory of President McKinley.

Held For Selling Liquor—Eunice Friel of Mulberry alley and Mrs. Alice Carey of No. 1640 Penn avenue were held in $1,000 bail for court trial at No. 3 police station yesterday morning, on charges of selling liquor illegally and on Sunday.

Given a Salty Dose—Gussie Smith was given a hearing at Central police station yesterday morning on a charge of running a disorderly house at No. 441 Water street, and fined $100. The police testified that there has been considerable complaint against the place.

Humane Society Met—At the regular monthly meeting of the Western Pennsylvania Humane society yesterday afternoon the following moneys were reported: Donated by Frank Kissinger, $2.50; fines from Aldermen W. R. Armstrong and C. F. Oyer, $20 each. Total, $42.50.

Laid the Cornerstone—The cornerstone of the municipal building in Wilkinsburg was laid yesterday morning without ceremony. An aperture in the stone was filled with the daily newspapers of the city, publications of Wilkinsburg and coins bearing the date of 1902. The building will be completed by December 15.

Homestead Man Finds Trouble—Peter Ratz was held for court yesterday by Justice G. W. Giles of Homestead on a charge of slander preferred by Mrs. Ella Kish, who alleged that she received a number of unsigned letters in which she was called a robber, and that Ratz, at a recent meeting of a society of which she was a member, said she had stolen fruit from a festival given by the society.

Boy Attacked by a Dog—Michael Cauley, a 10-year-old Homestead boy who lives with his mother in Hays street, was terribly bitten on the left leg by a dog he alleges was set on him by a number of companions with whom he was playing near his home yesterday. A physician dressed the boy's wounds and Officer Roll Calvin shot the dog. The case is being investigated and a suit will likely result.

Many Viewers Appointed—Twenty-one viewers have been appointed since the recent session of court, on the application of City Solicitor Carnahan, who will be put to work shortly in the office of the board of viewers, to fix the benefits and damages in 58 public improvements, including street and sewer work. The first sitting will be held on September 29, and will continue for about three months.

Wayward Girl Arrested—Mamie Maloney, 14 years old, who was arrested in North Highland avenue, several weeks ago, was again arrested early yesterday morning in Point Breeze. She was accompanied by Mary Waters, 10 years old, of Charlotte street. At No. 6 police station several packages of cigarettes and matches were found in Mamie's pocket. Mary was discharged and Mamie will be sent to the Morganza reform school.

Organize For Fall Campaign—The Homestead borough Republican executive committee yesterday organized for the fall campaign. L. L. Davis was chosen chairman, C. K. Bryce, vice chairman and Robert McWhinney, secretary-treasurer. The meeting was largely attended and it was decided to conduct a vigorous campaign. H. E. Johns and C. K. Bryce were appointed to secure meeting places and Mr. Davis and Mr. McWhinney the speakers.

Will Try to Collect Bond—West Homestead council yesterday instructed Attorney John G. Silvens to proceed against the New Homestead Street Railway Company on its bond for failure to keep an agreement with the borough. The concern is an independent street railway running into Mifflin township. It is alleged by council that the company has not laid its tracks properly; has not paved the streets and made other improvements. The time for so doing has expired.

Glass Company's Troubles—Some trouble is being experienced by the management of the Oakmont Glass Company in starting its plant at Hulton, on the Allegheny Valley railroad. The breaking of the Philadelphia Company's main at Hulton Ferry last spring caused a shutting off of the gas supply and a sudden cooling of the pots. Six were broken, and strikes during the summer have delayed the procuring of new pots. It is expected that the pots will be set in time to start on Monday.

May Go Through After All—The rebate proposition of the American Tin Plate Company, which has been twice voted down by the tin plate workers, who are members of the Amalgamated association, may have another chance. The supporters of the proposition are encouraged by the announcement yesterday that the lodge at Martins Ferry, O., had reconsidered the matter, after having twice voted it down. This lodge is composed of the workers at the Laughlin plant, which has 22 mills, and is one of the largest of the combine works.

Newsdealers Combine—The Allegheny County Newsdealers' Protective association was formed last night at a meeting held at the news stand of H. A. Schafer at Nos. 307 and 309 Third avenue. About 100 news dealers attended the meeting and a total membership of 160 is claimed. The purpose was stated to be to affiliate with the national association of the same kind and to make it possible to deal directly with publishers, instead of dealing through the American News Company. The officers chosen are: President, J. H. Nihlon, No. 1103 Wylie avenue; secretary, W. J. Flower, No. 1523 Penn avenue; treasurer, David Lewis, No. 3409 Butler street.

WOMAN REFUSED TO GIVE UP THE BOOKS

CONSEQUENTLY UNION DID NOT MEET.

Police Were Called Upon to Help the Secretary Out of an Embarrassing Predicament.

The regular monthly meeting of the Tile Setters' union had to be adjourned Tuesday night because James Stauffer, the secretary, could not produce the books of the union. The books were in the possession of Ettie Henderson, colored, who refused to give them up. Superintendent of Police John McAleese came to the aid of the union yesterday and secured their corporate seal, books and papers from the woman, and the monthly meeting will be held tonight.

Stauffer came to this city several weeks ago and met Ettie Henderson. She lives in Fuscys court. Stauffer went to her place about two weeks ago and took the organization books with him. Miss Henderson says she loaned him $20 to buy a suit of clothes.

She had possession of the books and told her friends that she would not give them up until the money from Stauffer was forthcoming. Tuesday night the regular meeting of the Tile Setters' union was scheduled. Secretary Stauffer went to get the books, but the Henderson woman refused to give them to him. He reported the fact to some members of the union and they appointed a committee of three to see Superintendent McAleese and ask him to get the books for them.

They went to the Central police station yesterday and Superintendent McAleese agreed to aid them in getting possession of their books. Inspector Fred Will was detailed to make an investigation of the case. Ettie Henderson agreed to give up the books, but not without a protest. Consequently the union will meet tonight.

Bright Church Wedding.

Frank M. Gorman, a member of West Homestead borough council and a well-known business man, and Miss Katharine Keenan of Frazier street, Oakland, were married yesterday morning in the St. Agnes Roman Catholic church in Fifth avenue. Mr. Gorman until recently was a resident of Oakland. His bride is well known in the East End. The couple left last evening on a wedding trip in the west and on their return will reside in West Homestead.

Sousa will play "The Pittsburgh Gazette March" at the 9:30 concert Saturday evening at the Exposition. Get a copy of this march FREE with next Sunday's Gazette.

THE RIVER INTERESTS

WILL INSPECT LOCAL STREAMS

All Arrangements Made to Entertain Members of River and Harbor Committee.

All arrangements have been completed for entertaining Congressman Theodore E. Burton and other members of the congressional river and harbor committee, who will come to Pittsburgh tomorrow to make a tour of the Monongahela river with Pittsburgh rivermen. The headquarters of the delegation will be at the Monongahela house.

Capt. W. B. Rodgers, Capt. Samuel S. Brown and Capt. John F. Dravo held a meeting yesterday and arranged for the visitors' entertainment. Capt. Brown tendered the use of his yacht Troubadour, and it will carry the party. Capt. W. L. Sibert, the local government engineer, will accompany them.

It is the wish of the rivermen that the trip be made up the Monongahela as far as Charleroi, which is in the fourth pool. The rivermen want locks and dams Nos. 1, 3, 4 and 5 rebuilt. The rebuilding of Lock No. 2 has already been authorized.

The visit of Mr. Burton is not an official one. The party will leave for the trip up the Monongahela river just as early tomorrow morning as it is convenient to do so. The party will return to Pittsburgh either Friday night or Saturday morning; it all depends on the distance the party goes. Capt. Rodgers is acting on behalf of the chamber of commerce, he being chairman of its river and harbor committee.

THE THREE RIVERS.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 10.—River 4.4 feet and stationary. Clear and cool. Packets in and out on time. The rains above here have checked the fall in the river at this point. The H. K. Bedford passed down today to engage in the low water trade.

LOUISVILLE—River falling. Canal, 2.8 falls, 6 inches; foot of locks, 3.8. Business quiet. Weather clear and pleasant. Packets delayed by fog. Capt. H. B. Blackburn of Pittsburgh was here today.

HUNTINGTON—River 4 feet and rising. Weather clear and cool. H. K. Bedford due down tonight.

MARIETTA—River 2.8 feet and stationary. Weather pleasant.

WHEELING—River 2 feet and falling. Weather clear and warm. Departed, Bessie Smith, Parkersburg, 6 p. m.

PARKERSBURG—River 2.5 feet and falling. Weather clear and warm. No boats.

WARREN—River at low water mark. Showers and cool.

BROWNSVILLE—River 5 feet 3 inches and stationary. Weather clear.

GREENSBORO—River 6.2 feet and falling. Weather clear and cool. Gertrude and Wood-ward down Thursday; Elizabeth and Cherry up.

MORGANTOWN—River 7 feet and stationary. Weather clear and cool.

OIL CITY—River 5 inches and stationary. Weather clear and pleasant.

POINT PLEASANT—River 1 foot 7 inches and falling. Down, H. K. Bedford.

STEUBENVILLE—River 1 foot 9 inches and falling. Weather clear and cool.

GALLIPOLIS—River 3 feet 2 inches and falling slowly. Weather clear and cool.

News of the Rivers.

The wharfboat of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Packet line is being repainted and refurbished.

The annual meeting of the national board of steam navigation will be held at Cincinnati October 7 and 8.

The rain of Monday night and Tuesday morning had no appreciable effect upon the stage of the river.

Capt. Oliver Dodds is expected home from Atlantic City next week, where he has been summering for six weeks.

The Queen City and the Virginia of the Pittsburg and Cincinnati Packet line will be overhauled for next season.

The steamer M. P. Wells, the Chilo packet, laid up for a few days to have some repairs made. The Courier took her place.

I. W. Parks yesterday returned from a business trip to New York.

Capt. Samuel S. Brown, who spent several days in the mountains near Uniontown, where he has a summer home, returned to Pittsburgh.

The towboat Elias yesterday took a large tow of sand and gravel into the pools of the Monongahela river for the Rodgers Sand Company.

Capt. James A. Henderson did not return yesterday from Cincinnati. Mrs. Henderson, who is with him, has not been well for several days.

Capt. Leonidas Drake, who has been threatened with typhoid fever, has gone to Fredericktown to rest, in the hope of recovering his health.

Capt. J. L. McGeeters, the local harbor master, says that no encroachments are being made on the Monongahela river banks within his jurisdiction.

Maj. Alexander J. Henderson of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Packet line expects to leave tonight for Atlantic City to spend a few weeks' vacation.

A mass meeting of the citizens of Steubenville will be held tomorrow night in the interest of improving the Ohio river from Pittsburgh to Cairo. It will be a union meeting of all towns in that vicinity.

Bryan island, a tract of land containing 420 acres, in the Missouri, a short distance from its mouth, is to be sold by Sheriff Hencken of St. Louis county, Mo., after 60 days' notice, for the use of the school fund.

Capt. D. L. McDonald, Sr., was in Pittsburgh yesterday from Logstown and says that he is going to have a "blow out" at his home today. He bought a quantity of dynamite while in the city and took it home with him for the purpose of removing stumps on his farm.

The Sprague is reported to have broken her hog chains several times while on her way to Cairo. The chains let go once or twice before the boat left St. Louis, but were tightened. Nothing is known here about the report that the boat is out of shape and may have to go on the docks, at least coal combination officials profess to have heard nothing about it.

The members of harbor No. 25, Masters and Pilots, held a meeting yesterday and the location of a marine hospital was discussed by the rivermen. All appear to favor a site on Duquesne heights. After the meeting Capt. Thomas T. Dunlevy, speaking for the harbor, said: "The members favor Duquesne heights for the reason that it is high above the smoke and dirt of the city. It is easy of access and close to the river. There are a number of available sites there and we have been assured that if no bids were sent offering property from that section it does not bar the congressional committee from selecting the site offered if it so chooses." Capt. Edward T. McLaughlin was installed as captain's clerk.

COFFEE BLOATING.

Coffee Causes Liver Congestion in Some People.

"We drank coffee some years and it seemed an established law in our household to take refuge with some medicine or physic to make the bowels move or relieve the stomach of its pressure (coffee is generally the cause of persistent constipation as it produces more or less congestion of the liver).

"I was so nervous that my hands trembled sadly and sleep fled from me. I felt irritable all the time and unable to do much of any work. I had to force myself to do things; always felt lazy and had to drive myself to get around; the food I ate belched up and I always felt as if I were bloated, and had such a narrow and tight sensation in my chest, so that every little exertion started hot body, followed by a cold, chilly sensation, waves running through the whole.

"But after I commenced to use Postum Food Coffee, and quit coffee these complaints all disappeared; I felt well, energetic and hopeful; am better nourished and able to sleep well every night.

"My husband was often sick and the doctor and medicine were constantly needed in our house, but since we stopped coffee and used Postum, all these things are changed and that heavy feeling around the chest has gone.

"Every wife should introduce this wholesome beverage into her family. She would discover in a few days what a rich food she had prepared for her loved ones, and would be rid of all of these oppressing sensations and stomach and bowel complaints which are caused by coffee drinking." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

FOR THE STOMACH TROUBLE OF CHILDREN

Pe-ru-na Is Unfailing—Read the Following Interesting Letter.

WM. G. BURRESS, District Agent, Home Co-Operative Union, 2414 Main St., Ellwood, Ind., writes:

"After a lapse of one year I take great pleasure in adding my endorsement to the many thousands for bringing relief and a complete cure to our little daughter Helen, who has been sick all her life with catarrh and stomach trouble.

"I was induced by one of our friends to try Peruna, and finally decided to do so, but not until I wrote you asking your opinion of the case. You said that by following directions I might be able to save our little girl, and to advise you as often as the case required.

"When she commenced on the second bottle the change was remarkable, and in three and one-half months you were willing to discharge the case as cured. I could not bring myself to giving a voluntary endorsement of Peruna until I was satisfied beyond a question of a doubt that little Helen was completely cured, and the disease eradicated from her system.

"We keep Peruna in our home, in fact could not do without it. I have also advised many others to give Peruna a trial, and in every case the result has been as satisfactory as mine. I will gladly reply to all letters from anyone desiring to write me regarding Peruna."—Wm. G. Burress.

Peruna is a blessing to the little ones. In the first place, it is not a disagreeable medicine to take. In the second place, it produces no ill effects upon the stomach. It neither weakens, nor irritates, nor deranges the appetite. Peruna is not one of the drugs that must hurt in order to cure. Immediately upon taking Peruna the patient begins to feel better. No symptom follows the use of Peruna except an improvement of the disease, and once introduced into the home, it nearly always stays.

The experience of Mr. Burress, of Indiana, with the use of Peruna in the cure of his little child Helen, is an experience that has been repeated many thousand times throughout the length and breadth of the United States.

If your child is sick and you hardly know what the trouble is, you may be quite sure that catarrh in some form or phase is at the bottom of it. If this be true, Peruna will be sure to bring relief. It is well worth giving a trial.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advise gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Where Responsibility Rests.

Judge Stowe's decision relating to the acts of Mayor Diehl after the enactment of the new charter, which was exclusively announced in yesterday's Gazette, may have serious consequences. In effect the decision declares the office of mayor ceased to exist the moment the act abolishing it was signed and that all public business transacted by the ex-mayor after that time was illegal. It can be seen at a glance the complications may be many and serious.

All of the trouble is chargeable to the tenacity of the machine in opposing the law. Mayor Diehl was disposed to quit his office, but an opinion was procured from a city attorney holding that the former mayor was mayor de facto until a recorder should be appointed, just as Recorder Brown recently obtained an opinion that temporary loans may be negotiated to meet current expenses. Under that opinion Mr. Diehl continued to sign warrants and transact other city business which is now declared by the court to have been illegal. Responsibility for this state of affairs rests, not upon the lawmaking power, but upon those who refused to recognize the law as enacted. The opinion of the city attorney was erroneous, being reversed by the court, and the city will be lucky if it does not prove a costly error.

Editor Smith for Congress.

Yesterday the nomination of William Orlando Smith of Punxsutawney for congress was commented upon as an example in harmony valuable to neighboring districts. But Mr. Smith is of more consequence than that. He will be elected, of course, and when he goes to Washington he will be welcomed there, if Washington has any appreciation of a good thing. Not welcomed merely as a distinguished member of a large family, nor yet merely as a man from Punxsutawney, but for himself alone. It may as well be confessed that Editor Smith is both a wit and poet. This has been known to a few friends and suspected by his subscribers, but the time has come when the fact must be advertised to the world at large.

Mr. Smith's paper is the Punxsutawney Spirit, but Mr. Smith is himself the spirit of Punxsutawney. He is as prone to take the humorous view of things as a Jefferson county ground hog is to see its shadow over its left shoulder. When Editor Smith goes to congress Punsutawney will miss him, but its loss will be Washington's gain. Smith is no ground hog.

Queer State of Things.

A condition of things exists in relation to imports from the Philippine Islands which would be amusing if it did not reflect on the business ability of Americans. The situation is disclosed by correspondence between the collector at New York and the treasury department at Washington. For customs purposes the Philippine Islands are foreign territory, but congress has failed to provide a law to meet the case of territory which is foreign in one respect and American in another.

Invoices of shipments of merchandise from a foreign country require the certification of the United States consul at the port of departure, and in the absence of such an officer the certification of the consul of a friendly nation. As Manila belongs to America there is no United States consul there. The shipment in question could not receive that officer's certification therefore. The exporter thought, however, that he would meet the requirements at the treasury department if he secured the certification of the collector of customs at Manila. This plan really satisfied the collector at New York, but it did not meet with approval at Washington. Assistant Secretary Spaulding could find no law authorizing an American collector of customs to certify a shipment of goods to the United States. In the absence of an American consul he declares that it is necessary to use the services of the consul of some friendly power.

When congress resumes the work of straightening out Philippine tangles it should enact some legislation which will make it unnecessary to call upon consuls of friendly nations to assist the United States in doing business with its Pacific possessions.

What the Public Desires.

There is considerable gossip again about railroad franchise ordinances, particularly in the Point district. This gossip represents a war of railroads responsible for the failure of select council to have a quorum and more of the same kind. The talk is apochryphal, to say the least. But whatever grains of truth there may be in the gossiping, there can be no doubt about the public desire in the matter.

Public opinion demands measures that will give to the railroads concerned all the facilities they ask for, provided they pay a fair price for what they get. No ordinances will be satisfactory that do not give the rival lines equal opportunities to care for the enormous traffic of the city, or to construct and maintain tracks. In this fact there is no reason for the delay of one or another ordinance, since the ordinance itself may reserve from one the privileges essential to another.

Freight congestion has taught the railroads that better facilities must be had for handling the business of this city. Business men reached the same conclusion even sooner. The public is wide awake to the necessity. The problem is not one that a single railroad or interest may solve satisfactorily, so the universal desire is to let all of them in for the best possible facilities and to demand from each a fair return for public property occupied or privileges enjoyed. Pittsburgh does not need to make valuable concessions to any one to get them to come for a highly remunerative carrying business.

Another Racing Machine.

Hopes that the next contest for the America's cup would be a competition between real sea-going yachts have been dispelled. A dispatch from Glasgow brings the news that Fife has completed the designs for the new challenger, and that it will be similar to Shamrock II. This means that another racing machine will be sent over to try for the coveted trophy, and also that the defender will be a mere racing machine.

Recently it was reported the next international contest would be between schooner-rigged yachts, instead of single-stickers, and there was general satisfaction over the expected return to the old racing methods. There will be disappointment over the adherence to the new style of racing craft, and a still greater desire for a test of real yachts of American and foreign construction. We may, therefore, look forward to another series of such mishaps as characterized last year's contests, owing to the enormous sail area carried and the frailty of the contesting boats.

A Modern Cassabianca.

War among the little republics south of us has always been a fruitful source of comic opera plots, but if the latest news from Port-au-Prince, Haiti, be correct a note of stage tragedy has been introduced. Admiral Killick, in command of the Haitien vessel that was fired upon by the German cruiser Panther, is said to have himself applied the match to the magazine which, exploding, sent his vessel and her commander to the bottom of the sea. A Port-au-Prince newspaper so long ago as July 14 published a telegram from Killick to the acting president of Haiti that in an emergency he would blow up his vessel rather than bring a stain upon the national honor. These facts place the sinking of the Crete-a-Pierrot in a new light. The world believed Killick was a mere everyday pirate, whose aim was simply to get supplies for the Firminists without any reference whatever to the means employed in getting them.

But here is Killick's ante-mortem declaration that shows him to have been a hero after the order of "the boy who stood on the burning deck." Instead of being a pirate he was a Cassabianca, and in defense of Haitien honor he fired his own ship and bravely stayed on deck until she sank beneath the waves. Of all the stage material that the islanders have produced the Killick incident is alone fit for tragedy. It fairly oozes with glory and red light. Under the spell of its heroic recital Haiti's future generations may all the more readily take to filching their neighbors' territory under the plea of justifiable war.

Germany should hang her head in shame for having fired upon a hero of Killick's devotion.

Chamberlain and the Boers.

Before granting a conference to the Boer leaders who went to England with the object of obtaining more concessions from the British government, Mr. Chamberlain asked for a list of the subjects to be discussed. The list was furnished and the colonial secretary was surprised at its length and at the character of the proposals. He frankly told Generals Botha, DeWet and Delarey of his astonishment and then went patiently into details, after pointing out that the conditions agreed upon at Vereeniging could not be reopened, nor proposals considered now that were rejected then.

The burghers, among many other suggestions, asked for pensions for maimed Boers, and for all Boer widows and orphans; equal rights for the English and Dutch languages in the schools and courts; complete amnesty to the rebels, with immediate release of all prisoners of war, and the reinstatement of officials of the South African republics or compensation for the loss of their offices. This last proposition is almost ludicrous, and Mr. Chamberlain did not discuss it. The pension subject he dealt with at considerable length, going into a comparison between the treatment of the southern states by the northern states at the close of the American civil war. It may be gathered from the colonial secretary's reply on this point that he entertains the highest admiration for the United States and regards this government's conduct as magnanimous and generous. He pointed out that the victorious side gave to the defeated side their lives, liberties and votes, but no money compensation. England, he thinks, went still farther in magnanimity to the Boers in contributing a very large sum to release those who are destitute in the new colonies.

Although the Boer generals failed to obtain from the British government any new concessions, they secured a promise that martial law would not continue much longer, and that the London authorities would not hinder any generous intentions of the Natal and Cape Colony governments in regard to rebels. The visitors were assured, too, that both sides had much to forget, while each side thought it had much to forgive. With the past put behind their backs, and the situation accepted frankly and loyally, both Boers and Britons can work together and make South Africa a happy abiding place for both.

The McKinley Anniversary.

Pennsylvania needs no urging to induce her to join with Ohio in paying tribute to the memory of William McKinley. Both Gov. Stone and Recorder Brown have added their official indorsement to the suggestion of Gov. Nash that next Sunday, the first anniversary of McKinley's death, be set apart in the various churches as a day of special observances recalling the noble statesmanship and high Christian character of the martyred president. Pennsylvania claims a share in the personal and special loss that Ohio feels in the death of William McKinley, for not only did he live for a time on Pennsylvania soil, but here in Pittsburgh he was often an honored and loved guest.

The whole nation may profitably pause a moment from other duties next Sunday and pay a tribute of love and veneration for the memory of William McKinley's life. In all that goes to form high and exalted conceptions of citizenship and manhood he was an example worthy of perpetual study and imitation.

Floating Exposition.

It is not a bad idea to send a floating exposition of American manufactures into Oriental waters. The thought is not entirely new. There have been other floating exhibits and there have been commercial museums maintained on land. These have been sufficiently successful to warrant the belief that a show of the kind proposed may do something to promote trade. Here in Pittsburgh the principal trouble at present is to keep up with home orders. There is no surplus for export to the Orient, yet an exposition of American manufactures without Pittsburgh in it would be a play with the principal character omitted.

Grand Duke Boris is said to have missed the steamer on which he was to sail for home. It may be safely assumed this is the first thing he has missed since he has been in America.

A KNOCKER'S HISTORY.

A knocker knocked through all his life; when but a child at play
He knocked the little ones who helped him while the time away.
At school he knocked the other boys, and when he older grew
He knocked the fellows whom the girls smiled at as maidens do.
He never had a pleasing word to say of anyone
Who wasn't present when he spoke, he gave good cheer to none;
He rose up from his bed to knock, he knocked through all the day,
At night he knocked and piously fell on his knees to pray.

One day he knocked upon a gate—St. Peter sat inside;
"Why come you here?" the gray saint asked.
The man who knocked replied:
"I never killed, I never stole, I never ever swore,
I always said my prayers each day; please let me in, therefore."
"You cannot come," replied the saint; "but many leagues below
You'll find another gate to which immense crowds daily go.
I care not that you never stole, nor that you prayed each day—
Down there no knocker ever knocked and then was turned away."

ELEPHANT'S GRAY FASHION'S COLOR

Bell Skirt to Rule and Trimmings to Be Red and Gold. Expert's Dictum.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.

What will be the color of the year? This is an interesting question to femininity all over the land, and it is well to know that it has been answered authoritatively by no less a person than Miss White, principal orator and demonstrator of the "Dressmakers' Protective association," now in convention in New York. "Elephant's gray" will be the fashionable color. Whether it bears any resemblance to our old friend, "elephant's breath," which was exploited a decade or so ago, Miss White does not condescend to say. It is understood, however, that the new hue is that of the hide of the animal for which it is named, but that one cannot be too careful to get the exact shade. Grays are common enough, but "elephant's gray" is something different, and every woman of taste must beware of imitations. Another important statement is made by Miss White. She says that "on account of the coronation, red will be the principal color for trimming, but must not be used for costume. Gold will be used as a trimming, too." As to skirts, now what do you think? Miss White solemnly declared this afternoon that the newest skirt is on the order of the old "bell" skirt, but admitted that it may not be used this year. She is afraid that every young woman will insist on the postilion skirt and habit back. She wound up her remarks on this subject by saying: "Nevertheless, mark my words, next season every woman that refused the bell will be looking at it and saying, 'Oh, isn't that just lovely.' That's always the way here in America." Now that we have expert information that "elephant's gray," red and gold trimming and the "bell" skirt will be the swagger thing for the winter, it should be comparatively easy for every woman, whether in New York or Pittsburgh, to come forth in absolutely the latest thing, long before the grand opera season begins.

Not Easy to Kill Uncle Russell.

When the news that Russell Sage had been taken suddenly ill flashed about the town, there was an impression that the old man had come to his end. It was not conceived that a man of Uncle Russell's years could be stricken so seriously that he had to be carried from his office to his home, and still be chipper enough to travel several miles further to his country residence; but it is not easy to kill Russell Sage, and the latest reports this evening are that he will be at his desk as usual in a day or two.

President's Face Healed.

President Roosevelt looked better this afternoon, as he got off the Pennsylvania railroad train in Jersey City, than he did when he went away a week ago. His face has healed and the black eye which was so insistent a feature of his countenance when he departed, has regained its natural hue. He was in a hurry, as usual, as he stepped from the car, but found time to return the greetings of the score or so of persons standing around to welcome him home. When he reached his carriage that was to take him across the river to Twenty-third street, there were about 400 persons there and they cheered him as lustily as if he had just been saved from death a second time. There was a raising of his straw hat and a genial smile, and the president of the United States resolved himself into a plain American, anxious to get to his family in his country home.

Actor Poland Busy Rehearsing.

Joseph O. Poland, the talented young Pittsburgher who has been playing at Duquesne garden this summer, is in New York, spending most of his time at rehearsals. He has been engaged to play "Wiley," the principal detective, in the comic opera, "Foxy Quiller," and is understudying the important character of Blinks, in addition. The company will open its season at Cumberland, Md., on the 20th. Mr. Poland will have the pleasant experience of being in the same company with one of the well-known actors who early in their career played the hind legs of the dancing heifer in Rice's "Evangeline," Richard Golden. It will be a pleasant experience, because Mr. Poland made a hit as the hind legs himself at the Duquesne garden last summer. It will be a long time before he sees Pittsburgh again, in all probability, for the "Foxy Quiller" company will go as far as San Francisco.

Progress of New East River Bridge.

There are indications that the new East river bridge will be finished not much after the contract time, after all. The Pennsylvania Steel Company has completed its work on the approaches at the Williamsburg end, but at the Manhattan side things are somewhat behind. The bridge looks finished for a long way out from Williamsburg. The wires have been bound together into cylindrical cables and wire wrappings with steel bands have been put around them. Of the latter 209 of the 550 have been put in place. More than one half of the steel suspender ropes for the center span are on hand and the contracting company has been storing its steel on the Manhattan side preparatory to beginning the work on the river span. It is expected that the bridge will be ready for opening before Christmas, 1903.

Devery Still in the Fray.

"Big Bill" Devery indignantly denies that he will ever retire from his fight to be leader of the Ninth district. He is in the battle to the end, and to prove it he gave another outing today, attended by 3,500 persons, who started from the "pump" with three bands of music early this morning, and did not get home until the night was pretty well spent. Devery and his "commissioner of charities," Eddie Schneider, led the procession to the pier, where they were to take steamer for College Point, on Long Island sound. Immediately behind Devery and his "commissioner" came a little girl dressed in green and carrying two Irish flags, perched on a donkey. Among the airs played by the bands was the rag-time classic, "I've Got My Eyes on You," which was included in the repertoire at the command of "Big Bill" himself. The reference is supposed to be 'Squire Croker, at Wantage.

Dignity in a Gotham Court.

Another of those extraordinary colloquies between magistrate and police that seem possible only in New York took place in a police court this morning. The magistrate and a detective got into a dispute over a case before the court, and it ended by each telling the other to "Keep your mouth shut." The detective allowed the court the last word, but that was all about it. The magistrate threatened to commit him, but did not do it. It would be interesting to see the outcome of such an incident in a Pittsburgh court—that is, if one could conceive the possibility of it at all.

Rumor Says Croker Is Coming.

Some Tammanyites in high positions—one of them being a member of the famous triumvirate that is supposed to be managing Tammany Hall—declare that Richard Croker is likely soon to return to New York. Croker has said he will not come here for a year, but he has the privilege of changing his mind. It is not believed by the faithful that he will come to be boss, but will drop into New York like any ordinary citizen, to watch matters from the outside, and take his comfort quietly. This may be true, but the chances are that if Croker ever set his foot in this city, he would find himself shoved into the chair of state at the Democratic club, with all the bother of Tammany on his hands. That is the opinion of those that know Croker intimately. They do not think it would be possible for him to be here without taking a hand in the fuss, if there should be one; and, of course, there would be, because there always is.

Democratic Club in a Bad Way.

It would take the arrival of Richard Croker to inject life into the moribund Democratic club, at 617 Fifth avenue, not far from Andrew Carnegie's present New York residence. The club used to be one of the busiest and brightest places in that stretch of serious brownstone houses on the east side of the avenue. Since Croker went to England it has gradually dropped into dolefulness, and there is hardly anyone there in the evenings, or at any other time. Time was when all the braves were required to appear after dinner in evening dress, and with their brightest smiles, for the eye of the chief. Now no one cares, and there are scores of swallow-tail coats getting moth-eaten, while the white bled shirt is an exception, indeed, in Tammany ranks. As for the club, it is practically out of business, and although it is more than 30 years old, it would not cause surprise if it were to die of inanition in the event of Tammany being beaten again at the next election.

A Pittsburgh Woman's Work.

The "Little Mothers" of New York have become an important class since they were brought into notice by a bright Pittsburgh young woman in a newspaper some six or seven years ago. She went among the children that cared for smaller children in the tenement districts and gave them the title of "Little Mothers," as she invoked aid for them. Now there is a "Little Mothers' Aid association," officered by society women and maintained with liberality for the benefit of the small girls of the tenements. A bazar is to be held in its interest at the Waldorf-Astoria on the afternoon and evening of December 10 and a very large sum is sure to be realized. The Pittsburgh girl who first called general attention to the "Little Mothers" of New York surely must be delighted if from her home in the beyond she can see how well cared for are the children in whose behalf she worked so unremittingly that at last her life paid the penalty.

Plaids Are Coming.

According to an expert friend of mine the autumn display of plaid dress goods in the show windows is larger than ever. She says that plaids enjoy a brief vogue once in every seven years or so, but are offered to the autumn dress goods buyer regularly every autumn whether they are a la mode or not. This season's plaids are modest in dimensions and unobtrusive in color. They are in somber shades of green, blue, brown and red, and the most effective is a combination of blue and green with a line of black. I notice, too, without any help from my feminine expert—that plaid neckties are shown in the furnishing stores, and I have seen two or three early birds in the realm of fashion wearing them on Broadway, although they are not common yet.

Unmanly Display in Court.

A young man named Henry J. King, who shot and wounded two sisters of the New York Foundling hospital last July, was before Recorder Goff today and was convicted of assault in the second degree. Then King made a bad mistake. He went on his knees and wept as he asked for mercy. Recorder Goff is a good-hearted man, but an exhibition of this kind will disgust him as quickly as anything. Sentence will be imposed tomorrow, and it is not likely to be any lighter on account of the defendant's abject prayer for leniency.

Mayor Too Efficient to Make News.

Mayor Low is the kind of chief executive that says nothing but "saws wood." More was heard of Mayor Van Wyck in a week than is said about Mayor Low in a month. It may be that the peppery disposition of the former mayor kept him in hot water, which made news, while Mayor Low is proverbially good-tempered and considerate. Anyhow, the report that the mayor will deliver another of his weekly "talks" tomorrow caused a slight ripple of interest this evening, clearly traceable to the fact that most people had forgotten the very existence of Mayor Low personally, although conscious that the business of his office goes along from day to day with smoothness and dispatch. Which kind of mayor is the better for New York is a matter of diverse opinion, according as one is a Tammanyite or a Republican.

Mrs. Mackay a Fearless Sailor.

Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay is a dashing young woman. She is fearless in the hunting field and elsewhere that personal courage is demanded, and she has a will of her own. So, when she said she would go down the bay today in the revenue tug to meet her husband on the White Star liner Teutonic no one doubted that she would do it. She did, too. When the tug got alongside the big steamer and the swinging ladder was thrown over the side Mrs. Mackay was quite ready to climb the side, and she did it with a celerity and grace that awakened the awe-stricken admiration of many a tar who witnessed the performance.

Seeking a Lost Georgian.

The police of New York have been asked to search for Henry W. Grady, son of the late famous Atlanta editor, who has been missing since Friday. He left his hotel at Norfolk, Va., then to buy transportation for his wife and child to Atlanta, and that was the last seen of him. GEORGE C. JENKS.

ITALIAN TITLES NOT SO NUMEROUS

Recent Decree Wipes Out Many Princes, Counts and Others.

By the MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

The Italian government has just issued a decree which deserves widespread publicity in this country. It has the effect of reducing the number of Italian nobility titles now in use by some 80 per cent. The decree prohibits under severe penalties the use of any titles save by the person upon whom they are conferred or by the head of the family in which they are vested.

All Italian titles devolve in the male line only, according to primogeniture—that is to say, it is only the head of the family who inherits, strictly speaking, the honors of the house. Until now it has been the practise for the younger sons to make use of minor dignities belonging to their father, and for younger brothers to adorn themselves with lesser honors belonging to their elder brother and chief of their house.

All this is stopped by the new law, which aims at placing some limit upon the exaggerated and ridiculously excessive employment of nobiliary distinctions.

Thus the grandson of the widowed Mrs. John W. Mackay, who has hitherto borne the title of Prince Andrew Colonna, and who is a boy of 17, will be debarred by the terms of the decree just issued from making use either of the title of "prince" or of any other of the many titular honors of his father until the latter's death, while his 12-year-old brother, Mark Anthony Colonna, will remain without any title at all unless his brother happens to predecease him without issue, and thus enable him to inherit the dignities now owned by his father.

Another Conspicious Example.

Then again there is young Don Marie Ruspoli, the son of an American mother who was connected for a time with the Italian embassy at Washington and who is married to Palma de Talleyrand-Perigord, daughter of the Duc de Dino, by the first of his two American wives, Miss Elizabeth Curtis of New York, who is so well known in New York society under the name of the marquise de Talleyrand-Perigord. Young Don Mario's father being dead, he is now prince of di Poggio Suasa in his own right. But his two boys, born in New York, have no right to the title of "prince," an honor which will come only to the eldest of them on his father's death.

From henceforth, therefore, whenever any Italian nobleman with a handle to his name sues for the hand of any American heiress it will be well for the young lady and for her relatives to ascertain by careful investigation whether the distinguished foreigner has a father living or not, and also whether he is an elder son. For if his father is still living then according to the terms of the new Italian law he will have no right to the title which he is bearing, while if he happens to have an elder brother he has not even any immediate prospects of ever inheriting any titular distinction.

Deprived of Title of Prince.

Among those whom this rule will affect is the Prince Giovanni del Drago, who is now in this country, and who although he has been spending the greater portion of the summer at Bar Harbor, is now established in business in New York. His family is a very ancient one, having been founded in the twelfth century by a certain Rudolphe de Dragonibus. His head in former times was content with the title of marquis del Drago, but in 1832 received the relatively modern and Roman title of "prince"—but only for the chief of the house. Prince Philip, who now fills that position is married to a half-sister of the old Queen Isabella of Spain, that is to say a daughter of the late Queen Christina by the Guardsman Munoz, whom she created duke of Rianzares.

The Del Drago in this country is the fourth son of Prince Philip. But according to the new law he will have to divest himself of the title of "prince," which on his father's death passes to the latter's eldest son, Ferdinand, hitherto known as Prince Antuni.

The name of Del Drago, however, is a sufficiently patrician one to gain rather than lose by the disappearance of the title of "prince" in conjunction therewith, as far as Don Giovanni is concerned, and no one can take away from him the fact that on his mother's side he has the royal blood of the historic house of Bourbon in his veins, while through his father he belongs to one of the oldest of the patrician families of Rome.

It is only fair to add that the new law is not aimed against any such members of the Italian aristocracy as I have mentioned above, although it applies to them.

Patricians Despise Titles.

The members of the old patrician families at Rome as a general rule disdain the use of titles, realizing that their names are sufficiently illustrious without them, and they almost invariably content themselves with the mere prefixes of "Don" and "Dona" to their Christian names. But the new decree is directed against those hundreds, nay thousands of princes in Southern Italy, and counts in the northern part of the kingdom, who lose no opportunity of reminding people with whom they are brought into contact of their titles and trade on the latter socially and very often financially.

Let me add that according to Italian law not only is the owner of Italian titles debarred from distributing them among his younger children, either during his lifetime or by will after his death, but he is likewise prevented from transmitting his honors to anyone by adoption in the event of his being without issue or heir. So when one reads in the newspapers of an Italian duke or prince being willing to adopt an heir to his title, or feud, on terms to be agreed, one may at once set it down for a swindle of the same class as the so-called "Spanish treasure swindle." The latter is worked from Barcelona, and the other, as a general rule, from Naples.

Prince Turns Banker.

Talking of Don Giovanni del Drago, and of his being in business here, I may mention that Prince Hugo Hohenlohe, who has been a good deal at Newport this summer, and who can claim cousinship with the king of England, the German emperor, the reigning house of Baden and of Saxe-Coburg, has just joined the Broad street banking house of Ladenburg, Thalman & Company, for the time being in a subaltern position, although he may eventually secure a partnership. He has resigned his post of provincial magistrate in Silicala as offering no scope for his abilities. He is a lieutenant of the reserve of the Prussian army, has graduated in law, is a bachelor, 38 years of age, a younger brother of Prince Christian, duke of Ujest, who was for a time grand chamberlain of the court of Berlin, and is still president of the Union, the leading club of the Prussian capital. Two other brothers, the Princes Max and Frederick, are married to daughters of the late Count Paul Hatzfeldt, German ambassador in London, whose widow, who survives him, is an American woman, a Miss Moulton of Albany.

There are few more celebrated families in Central Europe than the princely and ducal house of Hohenlohe, the head of which, Prince Herman, a nephew of the late Queen Victoria, is governor-general of Alsace-Lorraine, while his eldest son, Ernest, who married a grand-daughter of Queen Victoria, is regent of Saxe-Coburg. Another Prince Hohenlohe was chancellor of the German empire, while Prince John Hohenlohe is married to one of the archduchesses of the imperial house of Austria.

Looks Suspicious.

From the New York Tribune.

In a single shipment opium of a total value of $1,000,000 was brought into San Francisco. This drug is used freely in medicine, but so large an importation in one vessel gives rise to suspicions that the "hitting of the pipe" has not been completely suppressed in this country.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Mrs. Henry P. Snyder.

Mrs. Jane Roberts Snyder, the wife of Henry P. Snyder, publisher of the Connellsville Courier, died yesterday morning at the West Penn hospital. Mrs. Snyder had gone to the hospital for treatment a week ago, but her condition was not considered serious and her death was not expected. Mrs. Snyder was a native of Lawrence county, where she was born in 1867, her parents being Mr. and Mrs. David N. Roberts. Twenty years ago her father moved to Connellsville, where he purchased the Yough house. Since then her life had been spent in Connellsville. She married in 1871.

MRS. HENRY P. SNYDER.

She was prominent in the social affairs of Fayette county and took a very active interest in charitable matters in Connellsville. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, and both her parents. The remains were taken to New Castle last night and the funeral will take place there from her father's residence tomorrow afternoon.

Funeral of John Dooley.

Funeral services over the body of John Dooley of Oak Hill, North Versailles township, who died suddenly in the First Presbyterian church of Braddock Sunday evening during the services of the Christian Endeavor society, were held yesterday afternoon in the church at 2 o'clock. The Rev. W. G. Reagle, pastor of the church, delivered the eulogy. The Rev. A. C. Betts, pastor of the United Presbyterian mission church at Wolftown, North Braddock, assisted. The choir sang "Some Sweet Morn," the hymn sung by Dooley just as he dropped dead. The pallbearers were prominent members of Monongahela council No. 122, Junior O. U. A. M. of Braddock, of which Mr. Dooley was councillor. They were: William J. Vance of the Pittsburgh Railways Company; Justice Joseph L. Campbell, Attorney Samuel R. McClure, Joseph E. Menges, Jesse P. McCune and Edward P. Flinn. Members of the Junior O. U. A. M. attended the funeral. Burial was in Braddock cemetery.

John E. Shenkle.

John E. Shenkle died early Tuesday morning at his late residence, Ormsby avenue, Mt. Oliver. He was one of the best-known window glass workers in the city, having worked as a glass cutter for 30 years. He was born on the South Side 49 years ago. Besides his widow and two children, there survive him Gus A. and William H. Shenkle, brothers, and Mrs. C. Fuchs and Mrs. John Pfeil, sisters.

Mrs. John P. Coyle.

Mrs. Rose Riley Coyle, 33 years old, wife of John P. Coyle, died yesterday at the family home, No. 128 Twelfth avenue, Homestead, after a long illness. She was a resident of East Pittsburgh for many years and recently moved to Homestead. She is survived by her husband and one brother, James J. Riley of the East End.

John Hart.

John Hart, a well-known resident of Homestead, died at the West Penn hospital yesterday afternoon after a long illness from stomach trouble. He was 44 years old and was born and raised in the vicinity of Homestead. He is survived by his parents, one brother and two sisters.

George Coleman.

George Coleman, 40 years old, of North Braddock, died yesterday morning. He is survived by his widow and one child. He was a foreman in the foundry department of the Westinghouse Machine Company. He was a member of the Emanuel Lutheran church of Braddock.

Mrs. James Lawry.

Mrs. Mildred Lawry, wife of James Lawry, died yesterday morning at her home, No. 202 Sixteenth avenue, Homestead, after a long illness from consumption. Her husband and four children survive.

Obituary Notes.

Walter Edison Rice, a compositor, is dead at his late home in Jacobus alley. He is survived by his widow and one child.

Charles Johnston, aged 18 years, a well-known young man of Port Perry, died yesterday morning of typhoid fever after a brief illness.

Mrs. Charles Zulauf, 40 years old, is dead at her late home in Albert street, Mt. Washington. Besides her husband, five children survive.

Mrs. Mary Paradine, 49 years old, died yesterday morning at the family home, No. 3943 Mifflin street. She was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church, and is survived by her husband, John F. Paradine, and seven children.

Mrs. Clara Barrett, 44 years old, wife of Andrew Barrett, died yesterday morning at the family home, No. 215 Eighth street, Sharpsburg, of typhoid fever. She was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church, and is survived by six children.

PERSONALS.

William N. Cleveland of Columbus, O., is in Pittsburgh on business with the American Bridge Company. He is a member of the firm of Cleveland & Huston, engineers and contractors, who have the Ohio and Kentucky agencies for the bridge combine. Mr. Cleveland is here placing orders. He is a nephew of ex-President Grover Cleveland, being a son of the Rev. J. N. Cleveland, the favorite brother of the ex-president. He is a Democrat himself, and is enthusiastic over what he considers the good chance the Democrats of Ohio have to sweep the state this fall with the Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow as candidate for secretary of state. Mr. Cleveland is a great admirer of his famous uncle and believes that if the Democrats would follow his advice the party would have a chance to elect a president in 1904. His family affection, however, does not prohibit his enthusiastic following of the fortunes of Mayor Astic following of the fortunes of Mayor Johnson of Cleveland, who is touring the state with a circus attachment. He believes that Johnson will be the next governor of Ohio.

E. E. Clark of Cedar Rapids, Ia., grand chief conductor, and W. J. Maxwell of the same city, grand secretary and treasurer of the grand division of the Order of Railway Conductors, will arrive in Pittsburgh this morning to confer with the local committee and look over the ground in anticipation of the convention of the grand division of the order, which will be held in Pittsburgh in 1903.

"Give my love to all the boys," were the last words of Francis Murphy as he boarded the New York and Chicago limited last night at Union station. Mr. Murphy was passing through the city after a visit to New York.

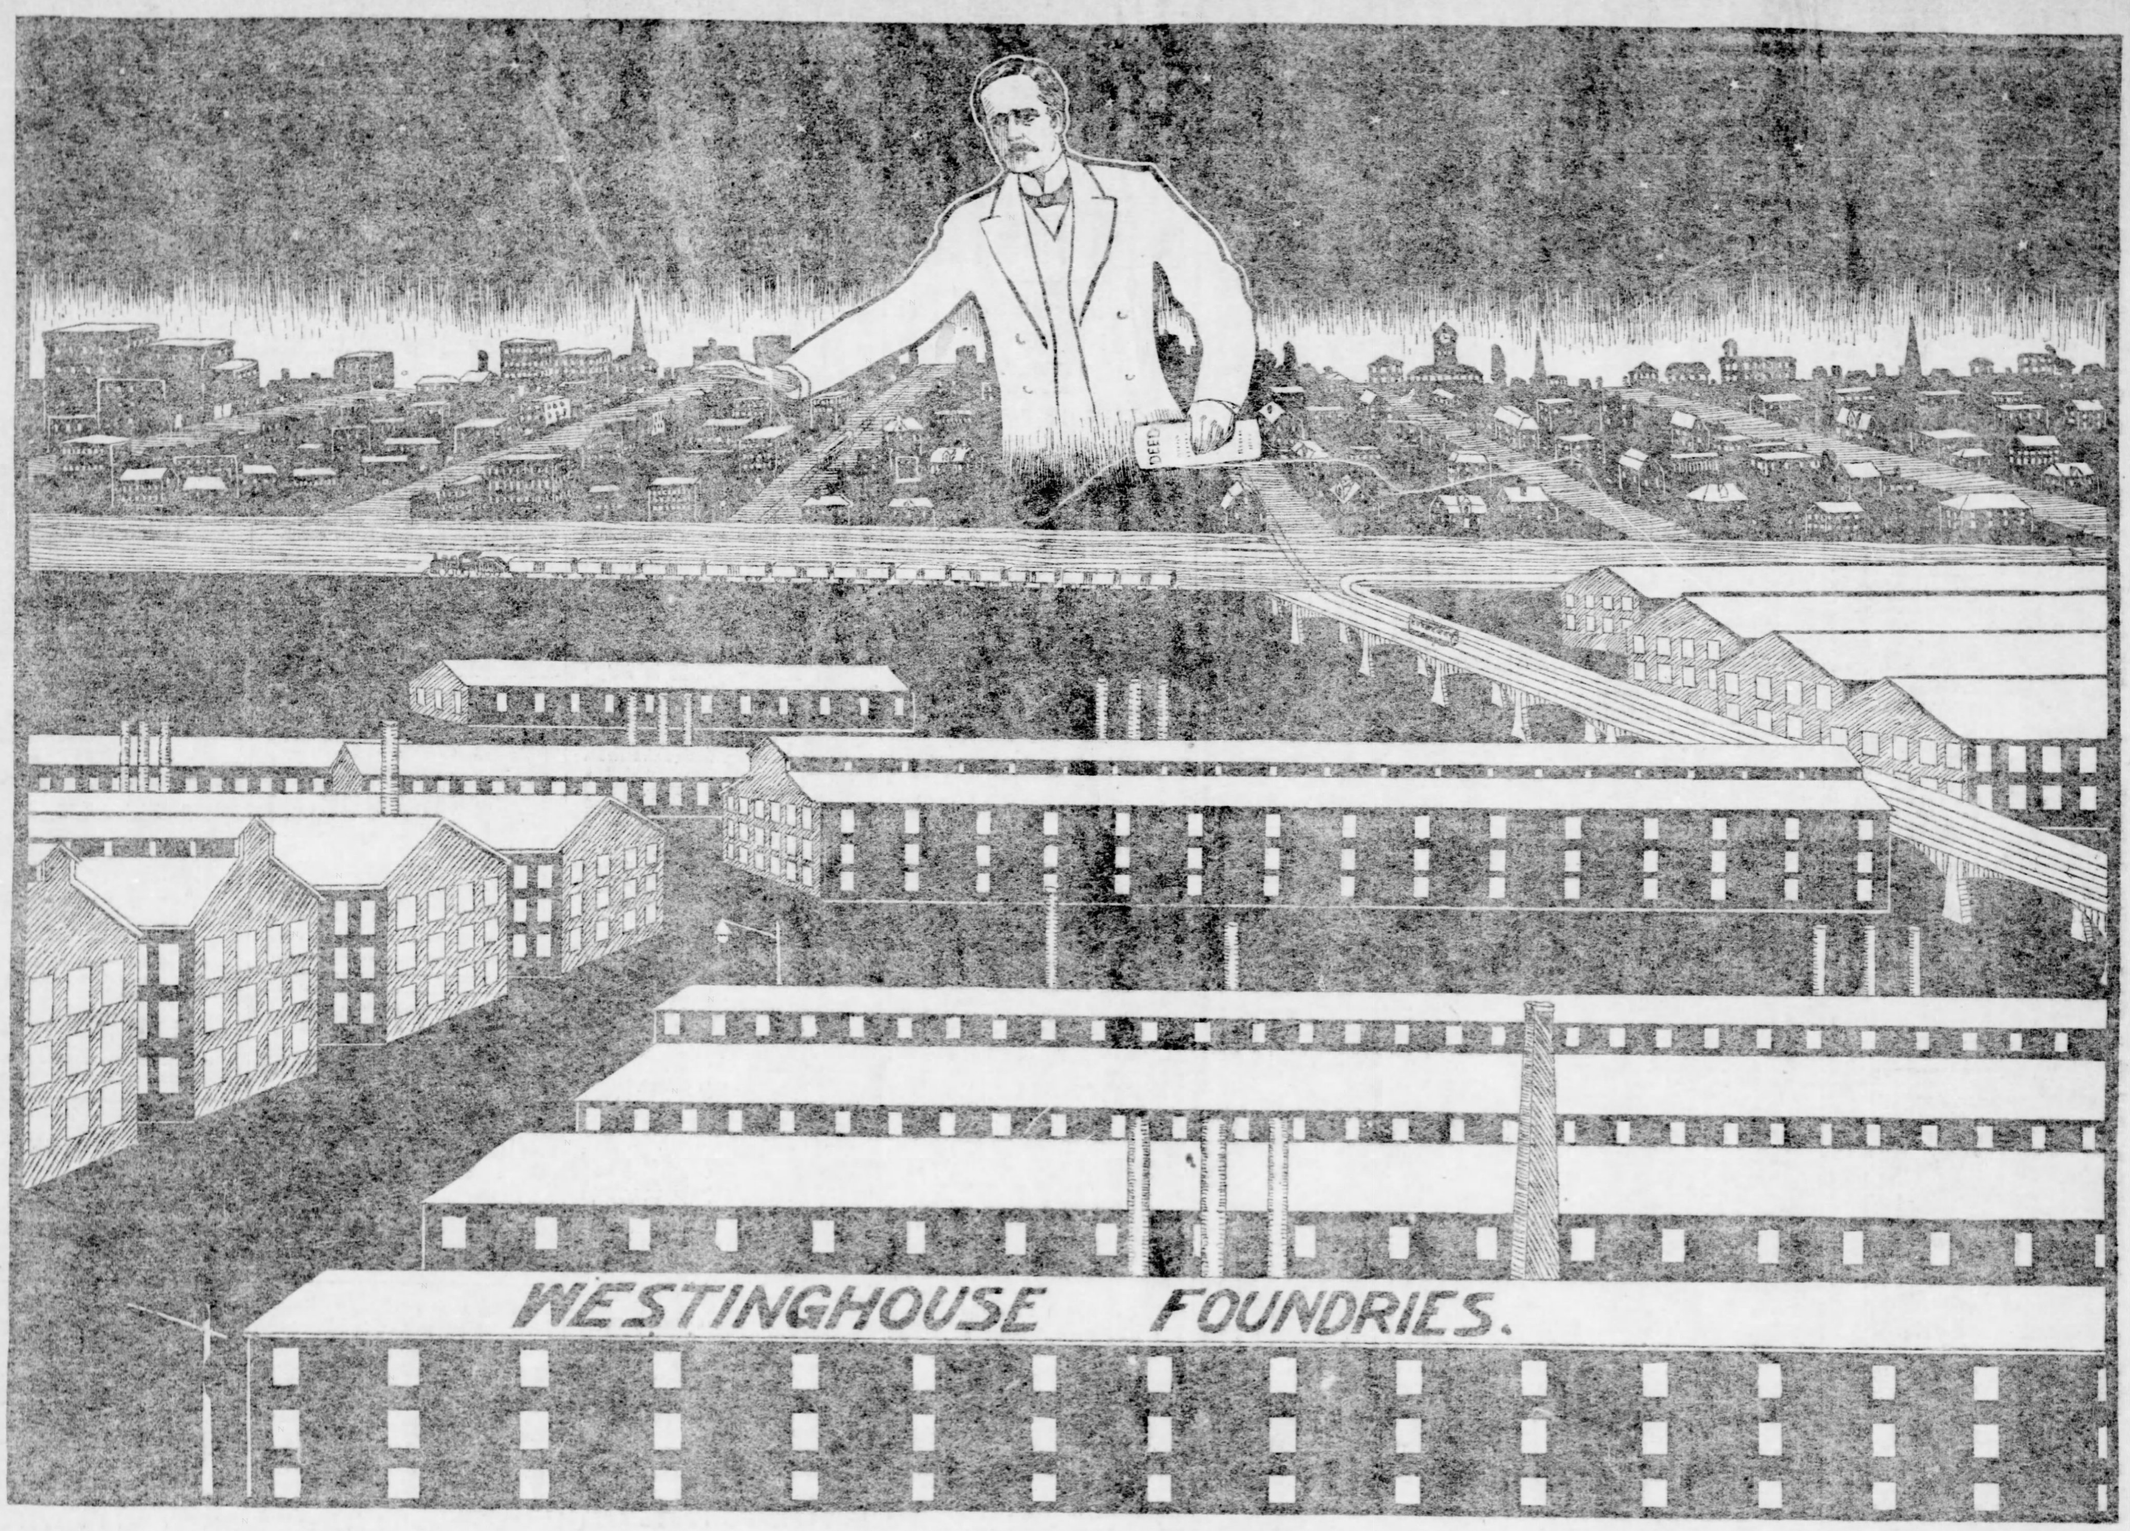
CASH CAME JUST IN NICK OF TIME

Lucky Coincidence Enabled Turning a Neat Profit.

PITTSBURGH is a great place to make money, and Fourth avenue its leading financial district, but not often are its financiers as lucky as in the following instance:

The treasurer of one of the largest trust companies was sitting in his private office the other day when a well-known capitalist came in. Seating himself close to the official he said: 'Mr. Smith, I want $100,000 for 15 days, and must have it at once."

Smith says he was in a quandary. His institution was practically "loaned up," for money has been quite tight for some time in Pittsburgh. He knew he would have to "turn down" the loan, and hated to do so, for the capitalist was a most



This second plan presents just as great an opportunity for investors as the property that was put on the market in the first memorable sale.

It is an extension of the first plan into just as finely situated land, made valuable by the unprecadented march of improvement that has taken place on the lots sold at the opening event, when, in less than three-fourths of a day, $535,000 worth of property was bought up by the first investors, and $70,000 worth resold one to three hours later at large advances.

The Pittsburgh "Times," in its great "scare-head" article the next morning, in the first columns on its first page, did not overstep the bounds of veracity one word when it stated that Oklahoma had been out-Oklahomaed.

It is said that one man made $11,000 the next day reselling lots that he and his friends had purchased. A woman cleared $3,900 before she left the porch in front of the pay window.

It is the second time in the history of town-building that people will have a chance to press in and get prices that are really beneath present market value.

Since that famous opening day all the streets of Trafford City have been paved, sidewalks have been put down, city water has been turned on, electric lights are being placed and the Pittsburgh Railways Co.'s traction line, connecting Pittsburgh and intermediate points with Trafford City, has been completed.

Another big trolley line will be built from Trafford City to Greensburg, Blairsville and Apollo. Saltsburg, Indiana county, is to be the center of this extensive system.

To give you some idea of the progress that has been made in a few short weeks we will state that the Westinghouse Machine Co. has 1st contracts for the building of twenty-five modern brick residences; also for a $50,000 three-story brick hotel, which will contain a magnificent cafe and cosy reading rooms on the first floor.

There will also be a fine banking institution, to be known as the Trafford City National Bank. It will erect, at a cost of $25,000, a handsome three-story brick structure on the corner of Brinton Avenue and Fifth Street. Lots in this neighborhood which sold at the opening sale on June 7th at $850 are reselling today at $1,500. The southwest corner of Cavitt Avenue and Fifth Street, that was sold originally at $2,250, has been resold at $4,100. Advances like this are numerous. They are not the exception.

The GREAT NEW WESTINGHOUSE INDUSTRIAL CITY is even now forging ahead to a rapid realization of this illustration.

TO MAKE A FAST SALE OF THE LOTS IN ADDITION TO TRAFFORD CITY and get building operations in motion all over the great new Westinghouse town, we have set a popular price on every site that will be offered. Choice lots will be sold at $150, $200, $250, $300, $350 and $400.

Some extra choice sites have been priced a little higher. Yet in every instance the price is at least 25 per cent less than the lots can be sold for the day following the sale. You can measure this statement by incidents that happened on June 7 and learn that it is surely a conservative one—that the opportunity to make big money has been trebled owing to the building operations, completion of street improvements, and the extensive but partial construction of the immense works.

The terms on which lots will be sold are:

10 PER CENT DOWN.
BALANCE 3 PER CENT MONTHLY.
NO TAXES OR INTEREST UNTIL DELIVERY OF DEED.
15 PER CENT DISCOUNT FOR CASH.

This discount is allowed when purchaser pays all cash within thirty days or pays one-third cash within thirty days and gives bond and purchase money mortgage for the balance, payable in two equal annual installments with interest.

All lots on residence streets will be sold with restrictions requiring that houses be built back 20 feet from the sidewalk.

The title of the property will be guaranteed to each purchaser by a free policy issued by the Real Estate Trust Company of Pittsburgh, Capital and Surplus $3,500,000.

POSITIVELY NO LOTS WILL BE SOLD AT THIS NEXT GREAT SALE UNTIL EXCURSION TRAINS FROM THE EAST HAVE ARRIVED.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Sept. 10.—The champions played to empty benchese in the contest with the Phillies here today, there being only 172 paid admissions. Nevertheless the contest was a good one, though Pittsburgh had it safe once they got the lead, and won by a score of 5 to 1.

The Phillies tried out two new players and they both made a good showing. Foley of the Norristown semi-professional team was on third, Klug taking Hulswitt's place at short. Pitcher Wolfe of the Jersey City team held the hard hitting champions down very well, and among his feats was the striking out such good batsmen as Beaumont and Wagner. Foley played a grand game at third, though several hits got through his territory which should have been stopped.

Leach Was in the Game.

His stops of Zimmer's grounder in the second and Conroy's in the third, however, were very fine. Klug's work at short was also first class. Leach played a grand game for the visitors, and Bransfield led the batting with three singles. The Phillies had a run in sight in the first inning, but poor base running lost it. Barry got hit, stole second, went to third on Zimmer's wild throw to center and tried to score when Beaumont's throw to third got away from Leach. The latter, however, quickly recovered the ball and easily caught Barry at the plate.

Pittsburgh did not get a man to first until after two were out in the second inning. Burke drew a pass and Conroy beat out a slow one to Foley. The latter made a magnificent stop of Zimmer's drive and retired Conroy at second. The Phillies were first to score, Childs bringing in a run in the third. He reached first on a single and Wolfe followed with a hit. Thomas hit to Conroy who threw wild in trying to catch Wolfe at second. Childs scored on the error while Wolfe took third and Thomas second. Barry walked, but King forced Wolfe at the plate. Jennings flied to Beaumont.

In the fourth inning Wagner reached first on a fumble by Foley, Bransfield and Sebring singled, scoring Wagner. Burke forced Bransfield at third and Conroy did the same to Sebring. Zimmer got hit, but Tannehill flied to Thomas. Pittsburgh scored one more in the fifth, Beaumont bunted safely, but was forced at second by Leach. Wagner's out put Leach on second and he scored on Bransfield's hit to Childs.

They Cinched the Game.

The champions cinched the game in the seventh, scoring two runs. Beaumont walked and stole second, scoring on Leach's single. The latter took second on the throw and scored on Bransfield's single. In the eighth Pittsburgh made three hits and a base on balls, but scored only one run. Burke walked and Conroy singled. Zimmer hit to Foley, was doubled with Conroy. Tannehill hit for two bases, scoring Burke. Beaumont bunted safely and Leach flied to Doolin. Two games will be played tomorrow. White and Fraser will pitch for the Phillies and Philippe and Leever for Pittsburgh. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

A special from New York says: The Pittsburgh club today secured Pitcher Falkenberg, of the Worcester team of the Eastern league. He is an Illinois university boy and pitched on the same team with Carl Lundgren, now of the Chicago Nationals.

A singular thing about the American league games yesterday was that in each town double-headers were played and there was no splitting of games, but the team that won walked off with both contests. It's not often a thing like that happens.

Down in Boston yesterday while the National league team was indulging in a double-header to the delight of 350 people the American league teams were entertaining 5,500 people. That's another town where the American has the National beaten.

Kitty Bransfield broke back into the game yesterday after an absence of nearly a month, and just to show he has not forgotten how he cracked out three fine hits. Besides that Kitty fielded his position in faultless style and gathered in putouts and one assist. That layoff did not have any ill effect on the Worcester lad.

Says the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune: "President Dreyfuss has bobbed Jesse Tannehill and other suspects of the Pittsburgh team that they will be compelled to work for the club until October 15, on which date their contracts expire. Tannehill is raising a rumpus about this order, but it will do him no good. There is now no doubt that he has signed with the American league."

If Connie Mack's team wins the American league pennant, and Pittsburgh followers of the game are hoping it will, the largest share of the glory belongs to Rube Waddell. The Butler county boy has been the real bone and sinew of that team and has pitched might and main to bring victory. Only yesterday he was called on to save both games and the big fellow made good with a vengeance. Waddell may be a rube, but just the same he is a ball pitcher with hardly an equal.

The Pittsburgh champions played a very poor second fiddle to the American league leaders down at Philadelphia yesterday, for while the Pirates were performing before empty benches the Athletics, with Rube Waddell as their leader, were playing to the pinnacle of thousands. The way the Philadelphians lean is shown by the fact that the champions drew just 172 people, while at Connie Mack's park there were 17,201 spectators. The difference is caused by the fact that the National league race was a walkaway and is about over, while the American race is the hottest kind of an affair, with the Athletics leading only by a nose and making a game fight.

WILL NOT PLAY ATHLETICS

Secretary Pulliam Says Champions Will Meet the All-Star Team Only.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 10.—(Special.)—Col. Harry Pulliam announces that the Pittsburgh team will not accept the "den" of the Athletics to play the Pirates at the end of the season for the state championship.

"Our boys," said Pulliam, "play a series at Chicago and Pittsburgh with an all-star team of the American league. Besides, we will not play with Mack's nine because he stole Catcher Smith from us two years ago, after selling the man to the Pittsburgh club."

Mr. Pulliam said that the Pittsburgh team would not lose any players it desired to keep, and that it would meet any offers made by the American league.

LUSH'S GREAT THROW.

It Prevented Donovan's Team from Second Victory.

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—In two poorly-played games today St. Louis won the first, and the second was called at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness. The only feature of the two games was a sensational throw by Lush from deep center, putting Murphy out at the plate and, as it proved, saving St. Louis from winning the second game. Scores:

SPLIT THEM UP.

New York and Chicago Teams Got One Game Each.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—In the first game of the double-header between the Chicago and New York teams the visitors scored all their runs in the sixth inning by freely hitting Taylor when it looked as if New York had the game well in hand. Mathewson pitched the second game and held the Chicagos to eight scattered hits, shutting them out. Four errors and five hits off Rhoades netted the runs for the home team and Mathewson scored a home run. The teams will play another double-header tomorrow. The scores:

SCEPTRE WON ST. LEGER.

The Race Was a Pretty One All the Way.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—R. S. Sievier's Sceptre won the St. Leger stakes at the Doncaster September meeting today. St. Brendan led for a quarter of a mile, when Caro drew out, secured a long lead and led to the red house. There Friar Tuck and Rising Glass went to the front. On entering the straight Rising Glass assumed first place, but gave way below the distance to Sceptre, who won easily by three lengths. Two lengths separated the second and third horses.

The betting was as following: Sceptre, 100 to 30 against; Rising Glass, 9 to 1 against; Friar Tuck, 7 to 1 against.

Philadelphia, Sept. 10.—More than 17,000 persons welcomed the American league leaders home today and saw them take two games from Baltimore. The first contest was won by solid hitting and the second was pulled out of the fire on Baltimore's misplays. Waddell relieved the home pitcher in each game and stopped the visitors' run getting. In the second game Gilbert was ordered off the field for disputing a decision of Umpire Johnstone. Attendance 17,201. The scores:

BOTH FOR THE BROWNS.

Detroit Pitchers Hit Hard and Team Played Stupid Ball.

DETROIT, Sept. 10.—St. Louis made it three straight from the home team by taking both games this afternoon. Mullin's wildness in the third inning, when he gave three bases on balls in succession, all of which developed into runs, was responsible for Detroit's loss of the first game. Three hits and some stupid work in the first inning of the second game gave St. Louis two runs, which proved enough to win. The scores:

CHICAGO TWICE BEATEN.

Lajoie and Hickman Wielded Their Bats With Effect.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 10.—The locals defeated Chicago easily in both contests today batting Callahan and Platt hard. The batting of Lajoie and Hickman was a feature. In the first inning of the first game both sent the ball over the left field fence for home runs. In the second game Jose held Chicago down to two hits, one of which was a scratch. Scores:

BOSTON TOOK TWO.

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—A double-header went to the home team today. In the first game Boston played unsteadily during the early innings, but went after Orth in the eighth and batted out the victory. Dineen pitched a good game. Ryan and Freeman's playing was a feature. Both teams played listlessly in the second contest. A deluge of hits in the third inning gave Boston a commanding lead. THE WEATHER WAS AGAINST RECORD TRIAL

Monster Crowd Was Out to See Dan Patch Make the Trial.

WILL MAKE THE ATTEMPT TODAY

Rythmic Won 2:24 Trot—Fannie Dellard Won the 2:06 Pace Which Proved an Exciting Race—Alice Burns Beaten.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 10.—The announcement that Dan Patch would go for the record drew 25,000 people to the state fair grounds today to witness the continuation of the Grand Circuit races. The weather conditions were unfavorable, a heavy wind being an obstacle to fast time, and in consequence the record trial was postponed until tomorrow. To satisfy the crowd Dan Patch went two exhibition miles.

In the unfinished Woodruff stake 2:24 trotting event, Rythmic, who had a heat to his credit to start on, won two more and the race with ease.

The unfinished 2:06 pace was hotly contested. Dariel, who won a heat yesterday, was not a favorite, Fannie Dillard selling for $25 and the field for $11 before the first heat today. An exciting finish characterized the heat, Dariel, Fannie Dillard, The Bishop and Prince Direct being together in the home stretch. The Bishop won, with Dariel a close second. In the third heat of the race Fannie Dillard sold for $18 and the field for $50. She won this heat, the next one and the race.

The 2:19 trotting event was won in straight heats by Anna Held.

The amateur events were all interesting, especially the 2:12 trotting race to wagon, where a pretty contest took place between Frances B., owned by E. J. White of this city and Alice Barnes, owned by E. E. Smathers of New York. The former took the second and third heats and the race. Summaries:

CALLED ALL BETS OFF.

Wheeling Judges Thought Pinchen Wilkes Was Not Driven to Win.

WHEELING, W. VA., Sept. 10.—(Special.)—Thirteen thousand people saw the splendid speed contest at the state fair this afternoon, with a baby show, balloon ascension and other side features. The Tuesday program was carried out with one of the races on the Thursday card. The track was still heavy from recent rains and there were sensational finishes in the 2:13 pace, which was the stellar event of the afternoon. The free-for-all was a disappointment, the Wheeling horse being drawn on account of lameness and the judges declaring all bets off on the second heat because Pinchen Wilkes was not driven to win. INDIANA FAIR RACES.

There Was a Lively Time Between Drivers in the Pace.

INDIANA, PA., Sept. 10.—(Special.)—The Indiana county fair opened with a favorable day, a fine list of entries, good stock exhibits, extra attractions, such as Cook's Roman hippodrome and Mlle. Zeno, the Pittsburgh aeronaut. The races were very exciting today. The trot or pace was the scene of some disorder. In the fifth heat the driver of Stella S. won the heat on a foul. Rosalie Simmons, a favorite with the crowd, was given the heat and race. Summary:

A DAY OF EXCURSIONS TO THE EXPOSITION.

Supplemented by a Visit to this Store.

You who read this on trains speeding to the city will be pleased to know that this store is aglow with autumnal beauty. Everything that Fashion has sanctioned for wear this Autumn and Winter, both in ready-to-wear garments and piece goods and in all the belongings of correct dress, is ready.

The admirable location of the store—two squares from the Exposition—gives ample opportunity for a peep at the new styles.

And then there are so many conveniences that out-of-town people appreciate; the general parlors and the retiring room for ladies, the checking room where you may check any packages that you have with you, and last, but not least, the great Restaurant where over a thousand people take their noon-day meal.

And in the matter of knowing just how less prices are a feature with us, the following is submitted.

The New Silks for Autumn

No woman, no matter what her ideas, could ask for a better collection—either among the Black Silks or the Colored. Our buyer went abroad early enough to have first choice of foreign weaves; of home manufacture we are always favored with an early opportunity in selection.

Altogether, the Silk exhibit is the most sumptuous we ever made, or that we ever asked women to comment upon.

Some of the prices:

Fancy Silks in Persian, Pompadour and open-work effects—beautiful in their new Fall colorings—65c, 75c, 85c, $1, $1.25 a yard.

Taffetas and Poplins in the engaging new plaids and the quaint clan effects, 85c, $1, $1.25 a yard.

Paillet de Soie and Zibeline de Soie, the most aristocratic of all Silks—light and dark shades of Autumn colors—75c, 85c, $1 a yard.

Fancy Velutinas, something that Fashion decidedly favors for waists, stripes and small effects in pretty colorings—75c, 85c, $1 a yard.

Fancy Black Taffetas in small effects and beautiful openwork patterns, 85c, $1, $1.25 a yard.

Black Moire Velour—22, 27, 36 inches—employed in the making of long wraps and coats—85c, $1, $1.25, $1.50 a yard.

Black Crepe de Chine, a universal favorite, a $1 grade for 75c a yard, 23 inches wide.

The New Bed Clothes for Autumn.

Overflowing counters of Comforts and Blankets, the best goods that we could have made. It takes but little to refurnish the bed for the cool months.

Cotton filled Comforts, the filling of clean white cotton, the covering of best Silkoline, in this price range: $1, $1.50, $1.75 and $2 each.

Merritt's Health Wool Comforts are favorites with many. We show them in their cheese cloth covers—all weights and sizes—from $1.25 to $5.50 each.

The same Comforts, first covered with cheese cloth, and that in turn covered with finest grade of silkoline, at $3.50 and $4.50 each.

Fine Comforts filled with down that is perfectly odorless, covering of best grade of fancy satine, for $5, $6, $7, $8 and $9 each.

Down Comforts covered with best grade of plain and fancy Japanese Silk, and filled with purest down, at $15, $18 and $20.

500 pairs country-made Blankets, strictly all wool, at the singularly small price, for an all-wool Blanket, of $2.50 a pair.

1,000 pairs country-made Blankets, all wool and unnapped—double bed size—$3.25 a pair.

Other exceptional values in Blankets in this range of prices: $4, $5, $6, $7, $8, $9 and $10 a pair.

The New Fall Jackets for Women.

Just a hint in passing. You'll find variety, and that is what women like, next to considerate prices.

New Box Coats—27 inches—black, tan and castor kersey cloth, all lined with self-colored satin and trimmed back and front with straps of cloth—double-breasted fronts, side pockets, two-inch turn-back cuffs, at the popular price of $10.

New 19-inch Black Coats of pebble cheviot and kersey cloth, double-breasted fronts, fitted backs, velvet collars, entirely lined with black satin. The price only $8.50.

Special—Women's Initialed Handkerchiefs, 10c Each.

A handkerchief on which your initial is embroidered in openwork effects by hand for 10c.

And that is not all: the cloth is pure Irish Linen. Further the handkerchief is finished with a one-fourth inch hem, which is hemstitched.

We daresay you have often paid as much again for a handkerchief that wasn't as good.

Autumn and Winter Weights in Ribbed Underwear.

This department on the second floor is ready with its large stock of this best of underwear for women and children. Everything that either require.

Some of the prices—

Women's ribbed Cotton Vests, 50c and $1 each.

Women's ribbed Merino Vests and Drawers, 75c, $1, $1.35, $1.50 each.

Women's Natural Wool Vests and Drawers, 75c, $1, $1.25 to $3 each.

Women's Scarlet Wool Vests and Drawers, $1 each.

Women's White Merino Vests and Drawers, 50c to $2.50 each.

Women's ribbed Corset Covers—Cotton: 25c, 50c, 65c, $1, $1.25. Merino: $1.25, $1.50, $1.75.

Women's Black Wool Tights, 75c, $1.25, $1.50, $2.25, $3.

Children's Natural Wool Vests and Drawers, 30c to $2.25 each, according to size and quality.

Children's White Merino Vests and Drawers, 30c to $2 each.

Children's Ribbed Merino Vests and Drawers, 50c, 75c to $1.35 each.

Children's Ribbed Waists—2 to 12 year sizes—25c.

Two Special Lots of Hosiery for Women and Children.

We repeat they are a special hose, for they cannot be duplicated for anything like the price.

Those for children are of black cotton, and a fine stocking they are for school wear. A stocking fully worth 25c, but today we sell them for 18c a pair, 3 pairs for 50c. All sizes.

Those for women are in fancy cotton and lisle thread. The cotton stockings are black with daintily embroidered patterns, many designs, running up the instep. Of course, they are in contrasting colors. 35c and 50c values, for which we will charge you only 25c a pair.

The New Neckwear for Women.

Notwithstanding everything is of the newest in this Women's department, we are always prepared to offer impressive values.

For instance, like the following:

Special lot of Revers and Collars, 25c to $1. Former prices 50c to $3.

Special lot of Automobile Stocks, 10c, 15c, 20c—worth 25c to 30c.

The New Flannels and Flannelettes.

A great department of the big Basement. Stocked with every substantial weave of flannels and that other favorite—flannelette. We are selling these Autumn materials this way—

Flannelettes for day and night wear, 6¼c, 8c, 10c, 12½c and 15c a yard.

Fancy printed flecced Flannelettes, preferred for shirtwaists, kimonas and dresses, 10c, 12½c and 15c a yard.

White Domet Flannels, 5c, 6¼c, 8c, 10c, 12½c and 15c a yard.

Fancy Scotch Flannels, that positively will not shrink, 35c, 50c and 75c a yard.

Fine Correspondence Paper, 15c a Box.

Second shipment of that special lot mentioned last Saturday goes on sale today.

Choice for 15c a box is from 500 boxes Extra Smooth Finish.

800 boxes Kid Finish.

Above in white, swallow blue and violet, square sizes. The kind that sells for 25c a box.

Ladies' Knit Underskirts, 25c.

They are of cotton, but an Autumn weight, and warm as can be.

Finished with crochet edge. Choice of either blue and white or pink and white.

In buying these you are buying something that generally sells for 50c.

Men's Autumn Furnishings.

First of the new Neckwear at the popular price of 50c.

Our showing for early Fall is larger than ever—better qualities, prettier patterns.

For 50c there is choice of light and dark colors in that best of all shapes, Four-in-Hand. An enormous stock of other shapes, if they are preferred.

Medium weight Underwear. A comfortable weight for now, when you want to put off the real thin kind. Owing to broken sizes we today offer natural merino underwear that always sells for $1 and $1.50 a garment, for the greatly reduced price of 75c each.

Handkerchiefs, 12½c each. All linen hemstitched handkerchiefs—one-fourth or one-half inch hems. Also have linen handkerchiefs with the new narrow colored border, for which we ask 25c.

Imported Black Lace Robes.

Late yesterday afternoon a shipment of beautiful and dressy Black Lace Net Robes arrived.

There are five styles, all handsomely trimmed and cut in the very latest style.

All marked at the one price—a popular one—$25.

The New Coats for Young Ladies and Girls.

Well, we are ready with so many new things that we scarcely know where to begin with description.

Perhaps the best way is to go it at random.

New Jackets for young ladies, half-fitting and box styles, cheviot in Oxford gray, brown, blue and castor, the even $5.

Another good cheviot Jacket for $8.50. Same colors, and each jacket is finished with braid trimming and velvet collar.

At $8.50, also, we have the natty Norfolk Coats. They come in plaid cheviots—blue and brown. Sizes 14, 16. These same coats in plain cheviots and plain cloths from $10 up to $25.

Misses' Box Coats with Watteau backs, in red and blue cheviot, trimmed with black braid and velvet collar, at $8.50, $15 and $22; in fine kersey and covert cloth—half-fitting and box styles—from $15 to $35. Sizes 14 to 16 years.

Girls' short and three-quarter length Coats—blue and brown cheviot—yoke and sleeves lined, $5. The same in dark green cheviot, double-breasted, high collar, yoke and sleeves lined, at $6.

Girls' Norfolk Coats of tan covert, $7.50. Of blue plaid cheviot, $8.50. Sizes 6 to 12 years.

Girls' Coats of soft frieze cloths—brown and blue—made with fancy fitted collar, trimmed with braid and velvet, $10.

Girls' half and three-quarter length Coats of covert and plain cloths—blue, brown, castor and red—embracing all the new ideas in sleeves and collars, from $10 to $35.

The New Raincoats.

Women's best friend in the Autumn months, as well as in the cold weather months.

Many nice things to show in these garments.

Raincoats in tan, gray and invisible checks, the cloth perfectly impervious to rain, in fly-front half-fitting back style, new wide sleeve with turn-back cuff, at the even $10.

Better grades of waterproof cloth in Raincoats—tan, oxford, black and the new flecked effects, different styles, in this broad range of prices: $15, $16.50, $18, $20, $22.50, $25 and $28.

Walking Skirts, $5.

A notable gathering from the foremost makers in America. Too many styles to describe fully.

Of every style there are all sizes from 39 to 43 lengths; but there are only one and sometimes two of each size, which, by the way, is about all you will want, anyway.

The materials are fine all-wool cheviots, men's mixtures, tweeds, etc.

Bought in a regular way they would sell for $7.50.

Blacks, blues, grays, olives.

Special in Embroideries.

Anything good is worth calling attention to a second time—even a third.

Thus with this lot of hemstitched Scarfs and Covers. The embroidery is neat and the cambric is excellent, both of which account for their selling so fast.

25c for Scarfs 17x50 inches.

25c for Covers 32 inches square.

They are the kind that sold formerly for 50c.

A Glance at New Fall Millinery.

Enough to show the styles, but please do not consider it a general opening. We are not ready for that yet.

An early showing of Ladies' Street Hats—felt, in beautiful colors, in a range of prices from $2 along to $15.

New trimmed Hats, Toques and Bonnets, showing all the effective new trimmings.

Children's School Hats in plain colors of felt with contrasting trimmings, $1.50 to $4.50.

Boys' Golf Caps in different shades to match suits, 50c, 75c, 85c, $1.

Little boys' Corduroy Velvet Hats, with broad brims, plain colors, $4.50.

That's the proper name for them, but perhaps you know them better as shirtwaist boxes.

New ones on the fourth floor, $2, $2.50, $2.75, $3.

Grand Display of New Autumn Dress Goods.

It is superfluous to say the greatest interest today will center in the dress goods section of the main floor. That is understood. It has been full of interest all the week.

We say advisedly that such excellent Dress Goods as we are now offering have never in any season been sold for such little money.

We say advisedly that anything similar for the same prices have not been seen in Greater Pittsburg so far this Autumn.

As to assortments, there are none so large.

NEW APARTMENT HOUSE IN EAST END WAS SOLD

It Belonged to John McSorley and Brought $30,000.

FOURTEEN SIXTH WARD HOUSES BOUGHT

Building Operations in August Took a Slump — Pittsburgh Architects Will Build Plant in East—Minor Realty Deals.

One of the best apartment houses in the East End has changed hands through the agency of S. H. Lloyd for a consideration of $30,000. It is a three-story brick building, standing on a lot facing 40 feet on the west side of South St. Clair street, between Penn and Friendship avenues. The building was completed only two weeks ago, having been erected by the former owner, John McSorley. It contains six flats of six and seven rooms each, finished in hard wood and provided with all the latest conveniences in the way of baths, laundry outfit, steam heat and gas and electric lights. The property was purchased by a prominent business man, who takes it for an investment. This is the largest sale in this immediate vicinity for several months and at the price paid for the poperty the buy is considered a good one.

A Bunch of Good Renters.

The Commonwealth Real Estate & Trust Company has disposed of a bunch of 14 houses in the Sixth ward for $25,000. The dwellings formerly belonged to Mrs. Mary Munn and were sold to a leading business man. They are four-room brick houses, so arranged as to nearly cover the lot, which faces 60 feet on the south side of Forbes street, just east of Magee street with a depth of 125 feet to Gibson street. As the houses are steady renters at $2,000 a year or more the purchase is regarded as a good investment. The property is known as Munn's court.

The same company has sold for the Rev. Dr. W. J. Reid to James J. Mahon a property on the east side of Oakland avenue, near Forbes street, Fourteenth ward, for $8,000. The lot measures 31.5x110 feet and is improved with a nine-room brick house.

Fell Back in August.

The report of August building operations in Pittsburgh, issued yesterday by Capt. J. A. A. Brown, superintendent of building inspection, make a rather unfavorable showing for that month, judging by the estimated cost of the buildings proposed. A total of 325 permits were issued, the estimated cost of which was $1,256,485. Of these 81 were for brick, 100 for frame, 21 for brick veneered, three for ironclad and three for brick and steel buildings. Thirty were 45 permits granted for additions and 63 for alterations and repairs. The Twenty-first ward led in the number of projects permits having been taken out for 32 buildings in that ward to cost $128,925. In the Twenty-second ward 11 permits were granted the estimated value of the buildings being $148,600. During the month, 19 violations of the building ordinances were reported and three complaints were made against dangerous buildings.

Compared with August, 1901, the month showed a decrease of 80 permits, for buildings valued at $166,487. It also showed a loss of $2,195,830 in the value of buildings projected as compared with July, 1902, although 21 more permits were issued. This is accounted for by the fact that permits were taken out in July for several large buildings which placed Pittsburgh third in the ranks of big cities for that month.

Pittsburgh Firm in East.

Thomas H. Hannah, of the firm of Struthers & Hannah, architects, has just returned from Newark, N. J., where he secured the contract from the Oscar Bennett Foundry and Machine Company for the erection of a $50,000 plant in that city. This is only another instance of the way Pittsburgh architects and contractors are spreading out in their operations, a number of big jobs having been landed lately by them in the east, where eastern firms are supposed to have a monopoly of the business. The plant to be built at Newark will consist of a foundry and machine shop, 175x200 feet, two and three stories high. This will be constructed of brick and steel and will be equipped with electric cranes, cupolas and overhead traveling cranes. Bids on the machinery will be taken by the architects next week, and for the buildings by the owners at the same time.

The same architects are taking bids on the two-story brick and stone bank and office building for the First National bank of New Bethlehem, Pa., to cost $50,000. They also have plans for a $10,000 brick house to be built for Morgan Harris in Crafton.

Extensive Improvements.

The Penn building, purchased a few months ago by J. Alexander Hardy of the firm of Hardy & Hayes, jewelers, is having the finishing touches put to a lot of improvements that will add greatly to its convenience and renting value. The entrance, which has always been a drawback to the building, has been entirely overhauled and the old tile vestibule has been torn out and a new one of Italian marble substituted. New tile floors have been put in and mahogany doors with French glass have taken the place of the old ones. The mahogany in the elevator and stairways has been refinished in a brighter color. Bronze sliding doors and bronze pilasters have been substituted for the old woodwork on the first floor and a handsome bronze electrolier with a bronze directory give the vestibule a cheery appearance. New lighting apparatus has been put in all over the building and many of the rooms have been repainted. The Penn building has been famous for its good light and with the improvements will be one of the most attractive office buildings in that section.

Small Buildings Projected.

Architects Thomas W. Boyd & Co. will take bids, September 22-28, on two $3,000 brick houses to be erected in Wheeler avenue, Allegheny. They also have plans for three frame houses to cost $3,000 each. One will be built in Sewickley, one in Sheraden and one in Conway, Pa.

Architect Marius Rousseau has awarded the contract to J. M. Quinn for the R. M. McPherson residence in North Avalon. It will be a 10-room frame house costing $3,000. The same contractor has given the contract to Frank Resner for a similar house to be built for W. F. Crawford, in East Pittsburgh.

Architect C. G. Meniel has plans for a $3,000 brick residence to be built for August Fertig in the University plan of Allegheny.

Architect R. G. Vandervort is preparing plans for a three-story frame apartment house to be erected in McKees Rocks. It will belong to Stanley Szarzynski and will cost $6,000.

A Popular Plan.

West Park: Haas & Lauinger sold for Martsolf & Baker to Thomas E. Anderson a six-room frame house on lot, 230x100 feet, at the corner of Third street and Russelwood avenue, West Park, McKees Rocks, for $3,700.

Bluff street: M. J. Ehrenfeld sold for W. H. McClelland to Charles Burkhart an eight-room brick house, on lot 20x83 feet, on the north side of Bluff street, Fourteenth ward, for $4,000.

Allegheny: Edward and John Vogler bought from William McKelvey two four-room frame houses, lot 24x100 feet, in Kornoff street, near East street, Fourteenth ward, Allegheny, for $1,600. Edward Vogler also sold for H. Kleber to Sarah Blenning a lot, 40x100 feet, in his Brighton road plan, for $1,225. The purchaser will improve at once with a $5,000 brick house.

Bought on Hill.

Fifth street: John C. Jarrett bought at sheriff's sale two lots, 50x100 feet, at the corner of Fifth street and Murray avenue, Thirty-eighth ward, for $1,850.

Schenley avenue: William Boyd sold to Bernerd O'Kane an improved lot, 25x146 feet, at the northeast corner of Schenley and Marguretta streets, Nineteenth ward, for $1,210.

Craig street: The United Realty Trust Company sold for Reed B. Coyle to Reed F. Blair a lot, 41x186 feet, on the west side of Craig street near Center avenue, Thirteenth ward, for $2,400.

Wylie avenue: A. C. Stein sold to J. H. Wise and W. E. Schmidt an improved lot, 22x70 feet, in Wylie avenue near Crawford street, Eighth ward, for $6,750.

School street: C. J. Hoffmann sold for Eliza J. Woolslayer to Michael Mohr an improved lot, 20x100 feet, in School street, Sixteenth ward, for $2,000.

House Brings $2,000.

Overhill street: Michael T. Farrell sold to James T. Farrell an improved lot, 20x100 feet, in Overhill street near Reed street, Eleventh ward, for $2,000.

Miltenberger street: Marcus W. Stoner sold to Simon Sedersky an improved lot, 24x72 feet, at the southwest corner of Miltenberger and Tustin streets, Sixth ward, for $4,900.

Bedford avenue: Anna M. Shirley of Brighton, N. J., sold to Joseph Sacklowsky an improved lot, 25x75 feet, at the southwest corner of Bedford avenue and Peach alley, Eleventh ward, for $2,500.

Johnston avenue: Silas P. Sadler sold to John L. Holpp a lot, 25x125 feet, at the southwest corner of Johnston avenue and Winston street, Twenty-third ward, for $725.

Camelia street: P. C. Byrne sold to Daniel Shields 16 lots at the corner of Camelia and Fifty-sixth streets, Eighteenth ward, for $3,000.

Scattering Transfers.

Rural street: A. Z. Byers & Co. sold to for Mary A. Kuhn to Thomas C. Lindsay an improved lot, 28x125 feet, at the northwest corner of Rural and Beatty streets, Nineteenth ward, for $7,000.

Bond street: Harry Long sold to Joseph M. Bevins an improved lot, 25x100 feet, in Bond street near Collins avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $1,000.

Julius street: The Farmers and Mechanics Savings Fund and Loan Association sold to Robert F. Griffith an improved lot, 50x100 feet, on the west side of Julius street near Frankstown avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $1,900.

Kincaid street: James Nance sold to Timothy J. Hickey an improved lot, 70x1,000 feet, at the southeast corner of Kincaid and Matilda streets, Nineteenth ward, for $8,100.

Baxter street: Harry S. Fouse sold to Isaac K. Bechtel an improved lot, 25x125 feet, on the north side of Baxter street near Bruston avenue, Thirty-seventh ward, for $2,500.

Lambert street: Virginia E. Smith sold to Ellen M. Smith an improved lot, 25x100 feet, in Lambert street, Twenty-first ward, for $1,200.

Henry Mattison yesterday purchased from George Ross a business property fronting 40 feet in Mifflin street, Homestead, improved with a double brick two-story building, containing storerooms and flats, for $7,000 cash. The property is located in the hill district of Homestead and the price paid is considered fair.

A Day's Building Projects.

Building permits were issued yesterday as follows: Joseph Beringer, frame dwelling and store, No. 154 Pearl street, $2,500; William McGuity, brick dwelling, South Thirty-fourth and Carson streets, $6,500; T. F. Roberts, brick dwelling, North Craig street, near Center avenue, $6,500; R. Hartley, three brick dwellings, Shady avenue, near Fifth, Twenty-second ward, $48,000; Lena Pippel, frame dwelling, Lilliana street, $1,800; James J. Kennedy, brick dwelling, Elyse street, between Grandview avenue and Sycamore street, $7,000.

Sails on Saturday.

Miss Bessie Locke, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Locke of St. Clair street, East End, will sail on Saturday from New York on the steamer Ponce for Porto Rico. Miss Locke taught last year in the government schools in Porto Rico and after a two months summer vacation at home is returning to continue her work. She was one of several American teachers established in the island and is very enthusiastic over the work.

CAR SHORTAGE IS STILL THE BIG HANDICAP

Iron and Steel Interests Are Hampered by Railroads.

CANNOT GET THE COKE FOR FURNACES

Plenty of Demand for Bessemer, but Furnace Men Are Chary About Taking Orders—10,000 Tons of Plate Sold.

The manufacturers of raw iron and steel material who last week predicted an ultimate slump in the market for finished product because of the dereliction of the transportation interests have seen no reason to change the tone of their forecast because of any developments of the last eight days. The bases of the finished product are coke and iron, and as without coke the pig cannot be manufactured, and without the pig the finished and semi-finished product will be short, the cry is still for more cars to haul away the huge stocks of coke piled up in the Connellsville district. The railroad companies have not yet responded to the demand, being still away behind in furnishing cars.

Furnacemen and Coke.

To the manufacturers who are constantly demanding cars in which to move their coke to the furnaces very little satisfaction if any is given by the railroads. The usual reply to the urgent demands refers to the scarcity of cars, but why cars are scarce is not explained. It is well known to the manufacturers, however, that the railroads have their cars tied up in the coal trade; that they are transporting enormous quantities of bituminous coal to the market usually supplied by the anthracite district, which is now afflicted with a strike, and that this trade is so remunerative that the railroads can afford to disregard the distress of the coke and pig iron manufacturers.

Manufacturers Not Pleased.

Negotiations are now on for 150,000 tons of pig iron to be imported from abroad, and as there is no outlook for any amelioration in the car "famine," the deal will likely be closed. Pig iron makers with many furnaces idle and others banked on account of the scarcity of coke are not overmuch pleased with the conditions that prevent them from supplying the home market for pig iron and causes an influx of the article, while the very interests on whom lies the responsibility for the congestion of coke in the district where it is produced derive profit from their own inches by bringing back their cars from the seaboard loaded with foreign pig iron, steel and iron.

During the past eight days very little business in Bessemer pig iron was closed. There is plenty demand for Bessemer, but owing to the conditions just explained the furnace men are chary about taking orders, nor are the big steel manufacturers buying far ahead. Some few sales made were at $21.75 at the Valley furnaces, or $22.50 delivered in Pittsburgh.

The market for German foundry iron is about the same as last week. Sales were made of 500 tons at $22 and 100 tons at $22, to be delivered in the last quarter of this year and the first quarter of the next year. One order of 600 tons of Rome iron, deliverable in 1903, was at $27.50 and 100 tons of disk iron was at $24. In forge iron there was no improvement, the market being almost stagnant, at from $20.75 to $21 on deliveries in next year.

Steel Rail Market.

In steel rails the conditions have not altered from the past week, and prices remain the same, $28 for lots of 200 tons and upwards, $30 for carload lots and $32 for less than carload lots; $38 for 30, 35 and 40-pound rails in less than carload lots; $39 for 25-pound, $40 for 20-pound, $42 for 16-pound and $45 for 12-pound. Girder and T rails for the use of traction companies are from $38 to $40 a ton. On special orders of open hearth forging billets the quoted prices last week were $38 a ton.

The market for structural steel was active and the demand was satisfactory to the Pittsburgh producers. From 12,000 to 15,000 tons of structural material was sold by Pittsburgh producers in the past eight days for delivery in next year. Basic prices are as follows: Beams and channels, from 3 to 15-inch, $1.60 for 100 pounds; beams, 18 to 24-inch, $1.70 for 100 pounds; angles, 3 to 6-inch, $1.60 for 100 pounds; tees, 3 to 6-inch, $1.65 for 100 pounds.

Sold 10,000 Tons of Plate.

Pittsburgh plate producers sold 10,000 tons, a great deal being for delivery well into the next year, some mills still refusing to accept orders for delivery prior to next May. Premiums of $1 a ton are offering for prompt shipment, 60 or 90 days. On tank plate for small lots for prompt shipment, $2.25 a ton premium is offered. On forward business the prices remain as follows: $1.90 for 100 pounds of tank plates, 1/4-inch and heavier and up to 100 inches wide; boiler plate, $1.70; ordinary firebox, $1.80; special firebox, $2.10 and upward; flange plates, $1.70; stillbottom, $1.90; circles, $1.80.

About 10,000 tons of merchant steel bars were sold by the Pittsburgh producers. On large lots the prices were $1.60 for 100 pounds for the bessemer bars, with a premium of $2 a ton for the open hearth bars and the same on bessemer bars on orders of less than 2,000 pounds in one size, and as high at $5 on contracts for less that 1,000 pounds in one size.

In the sheet market the conditions are about the same. The minimum price of $3 for 100 pounds of No. 28 gauge is still maintained, on quantities of a carload and more. The buying is very large, and discounts of 75 and 5 off the old lists can be obtained. Jobbers' prices are from 70 and 5 to 70 and 10 off on smaller lots from stock.

Little Action in Tin Plate.

In the tin plate market there was not much action. The price holds at $4 for the 100-pound box at the mills, for standard coke plates. The price on steel hoops is $1.90 for 100 pounds in 200-ton lots; smaller lots cannot be had at less than $2.

On account of the shortage in pig iron, scrap still continues active. The prices are still the same as before. No. 1 melting stock, $21 to $21.50; No. 1 cast scrap, $18.50 and $19; No. 1 wrought scrap, $22.50 to $23; turnings, $15.50; borings, $12 to $12.50; old steel rails, $21.50; old iron rails, $26; steel rails for re-rolling, $24.

The mills are still crowded with orders for the finer lines of crucible and merchant steel. The quotations remain as follows: Tire steel, $1.80 for 100 pounds; toe calk, $2.25; spring steel, $2.25; plow slabs, $2.25; rolled lay steel, $2.50 to $2.75; tool steel, $7 and upward, according to quality; cold-rolled shafting, 42 and 17 per cent off the list.

Hardware Business Good.

The hardware business continues in excellent condition, large stocks of goods moving out freely, the trade evidently buying better quantities than they have ever bought, and showing no hesitancy at all in replenishing to keep their stocks in shape to sell goods. The demand for nails shows no abatement, but on the contrary there seems to be quite a large increase in this demand, for both cut and wire nails. There is great trouble, however, in getting sizes of cut nails, owing to the inability of the mills to furnish them. This trouble seems to extend other lines, notably certain styles of builders' hardware, on which the factories are behind. The indications are that trade will continue in large volume. Conditions in the window glass market seem stronger with each coming day, the report now coming to the trade in general that there seems a very good likelihood that all troubles will be adjusted and the business of selling window glass will be put into the hands of the distributing jobbers. A weak condition still exists in linseed oil, as it is probable crops will be so large that prices will go down considerably. The general tendency of prices seems to be firm, if anything upward, the prospects being that some advances will be made because of increased cost of raw materials. The Bindley Hardware Company furnishes the following quotations: Wire nails, $2.95, carlots; $2.15 base, less than carlots; cut nails, $2.95, carlots; $2.20 base, less than carlots; galvanized wire No. 9 $2.50, carlots; $2.60 base, less than carlots. Other sizes usual advances. Columbia pocket knives, discount of 75 per cent; Albion hatchets, discount 50 per cent. Bindley canal shovels, $9.50 a dozen; great western files, discount 70 and 10 per cent; window glass, discount 80 and 5 per cent in less than carlots; 90 per cent in carlots; sheet iron, base No. 26, $3.10 for 100 pounds; galvanized sheet iron, discount 70 per cent.

IRON FROM EUROPE REGULARLY SHIPPED

Importations Solving the Problem of Metal Shortage—English, German and Canadian Material.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say:

Our monthly report of the pig iron industry shows that the production in August was close to 1,500,000 tons, which is rather low for a month of 31 days, as it would have been considerably exceeded had it not been for the short fuel supply. In fact, it seems quite safe to predict a monthly production of close to 1,600,000 tons when once again coke and fuel are regularly supplied.

The seaboard has now settled down to a regular supply of foreign foundry iron. An interesting transaction bearing on the supply for some time to come is the purchase by Rogers, Brown & Co. of this city of the total foundry output of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company of Sydney for six months. This, it is estimated, will amount to about 7,000 tons a month. It does not, of course, include the whole product of the Canadian company, since a part of the iron is made in the coke hearth furnaces of the company.

Reports originating abroad speak of large further purchases of pig iron for American account, but they cannot be traced here. It is a fact that large interests in the central west are considering the feasibility of importing a heavy tonnage of Bessemer pig, the Pittsburgh dispatches speaking of 100,000 tons as the amount. Inquiries that figures have already been submitted.

Our Chicago correspondent reports the sale of a block of 35,000 tons of German steel rails to the Gould lines for early delivery at Galveston. The price is said to be $25.50, but the domestic mill makes such a transaction possible. Some indication of the differences in the prices named by European mills is furnished by the reported sale on the Gould lines to the Canadian Pacific road. It seems that the lowest German bid was close to $24.25, while the lowest English tender was about $26.40.

In the steel market similar differences among foreign quotations prevail. Some considerable business has been put through in billets and sheet bars at prices which control the tidewater markets and are considerably lower than domestic material in the central west. The offerings of domestic material, however, are becoming somewhat freer.

Reports in all the heavy lines continue exceedingly favorable, and there seems to be little less than open work in the most unbuilding trade. The tonnage in structural material and plates is very heavy and shipments are not gaining monthly on new orders. The leading interest has sold for a full year's work on structural material.

The wire trade is beginning to show such signs of improvement as to encourage the belief that the spring season will be fully taken up when the fall demand attains its full vigor. The western movement is hampered to some extent by the uncertainty of railroad facilities for moving the crops now going on, but this will not last long. The eastern demand has already overtaken the record made last year and is handsomely surpassing it.

Hood-Collins.

Miss Lizzie K. Hood and James F. Collins were married last evening at Wilkinsburg. Mr. Collins is assistant teller of the Liberty National bank, Pittsburgh. The Rev. Thomas Parry, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Wilkinsburg, officiated. The marriage was witnessed by only the immediate members of the family and a few intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Collins will be at home to friends about October 1.

Morning Card Party.

The morning card party given by Miss Agnes Black at her home in Thorn street, Sewickley, yesterday, was small and informal, but dainty in appointment. It was in honor of Miss Louise Seiler of Philadelphia, who is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. John E. Porter of Beaver street. The guests included only a few of Miss Black's girl friends, who will soon return to school. After the game a luncheon was served.

Homestead Church Wedding.

Miss Annie Boyle of Munhall, and Joseph Lutz, a Homestead business man, were married yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed in St. Mary Magdalene Roman Catholic church by the Rev. J. Bullion. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Hanna Boyle, and Charles Smitt was best man. After dinner in Pittsburgh the couple left on a trip west.

A Theater Party.

In honor of Mrs. Robert Campbell (Kate Campbell) of "The White Slave" company, Miss Naomi Larkin, daughter of City Controller Larkin, gave a small box party at the Bijou last night. Others in the party were Miss Marion Higgins, Miss Annie Newall, Miss Marie Friday, Mrs. Elizabeth Higgins and Mrs. A. S. McSwigan.

SOCIETY

A LARGE party of wedding guests went to Hoboken on the West Penn railroad to attend the wedding last evening of Miss Estella Mae Taylor, daughter of Mrs. Agnes Taylor of that place, and Chambers Stanley Orr, son of Dr. W. J. Orr of Springdale, Pa. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church of Hoboken, the first church wedding in the place for many years. The little country church was filled with people, a large number of them from Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and the intervening towns, where both the bride and the bridegroom are well known.

Tall palms and maidenhair ferns decorated the pulpit platform, and the bridal party, during the ceremony, stood just before it. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Clara Taylor Hunter, as matron of honor; and by her cousin, Miss Mollie Taylor and Miss Lou Mattler, and Miss Alice Orr and Miss Lucile Orr, sisters of the bridegroom, as bridesmaids. Robert Orr was his brother's best man, and the four ushers were Howard Taylor, John Greer, Knox Elder and Roy Remaley. Two little flower girls completed the bridal party. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Duff, the pastor of the church.

The bride wore a beautiful wedding gown of white moire en train, with a veil of tulle fastened by an algrette and pompom of tulle. Her bouquet was composed of white bride's roses, lilies of the valley and maidenhair ferns. The matron of honor wore a gown of pink crepe de chine trimmed with white lace. Two of the bridesmaids were gowned in sheer white, tucked and trimmed with lace, the other two maids wearing gowns of pink crepe de chine. The attending maids all carried pink asters.

Immediately after the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Taylor, the bride's mother. The house was decorated in pink and white. A centerpiece of pink flowers adorned the bride's table, and the lights were covered with dainty pink shades. Last evening the bride and bridegroom drove to Pittsburgh, taking a train east, where they will spend their honeymoon, returning home in a couple of weeks. For a short time they will remain with the bride's mother and then expect to live in Aspinwall.

Among the invited guests, some of whom had a varied experience in returning home on the late train, being delayed for several hours because of a wreck at Tarentum, were Miss Margaret Knox of Allegheny, Miss Wilda Moore of Beaver, Mrs. Chambers Bovard and Miss Martha Orr of Kittanning, Samuel Orr, Howard Orr and Dr. W. J. Orr of Springdale; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Orr of Sharpsburg, Mrs. George E. Couch of Springdale, the Rev. Franklin Orr and the Rev. S. C. Orr of Punxsutawney, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Melion and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Taylor of the East End, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Taylor of Crafton, Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer of Bellevue, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. C. Grubbs of Beaver, Mr. McFarren and Miss McFarren, Miss Mildred Stotler and Mr. and Mrs. McConnell of Allegheny, Mrs. Beck and Mrs. Albert Reese of Pittsburgh.

Boggs-Allison.

At noon yesterday Miss Anny Janet, daughter of D. P. Boggs of Harmony, Pa., was married to the Rev. Alexander Bertman Allison of Allegheny, the Rev. T. Ross Paden, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church, Allegheny, officiating. Miss Sue Allison, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and the Rev. Hugh Leith of Zelienople, a classmate of the groom was groomsman.

The ceremony took place at 12 o'clock The bride's costume was of white batiste, daintly trimmed with insertion, lace and tucks, and she carried white roses. The bridesmaid wore a gown of white Persian lawn, with pink roses.

The invited guests from out of town included Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Allison of Allegheny, parents of the groom; Miss Margaret F. Allison, Miss Della M. and Miss Louise E. Allison, sisters; David C. Allison, brother and J. E. Allison, another brother and his wife, all of Allegheny; the Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Miller of Parkersburg, W. Va.; the Rev. and Mrs. J. Sill Blayney of Glenfield; the Rev. and Mrs. H. T. Kerr of Hutchinson, Kan.; Mrs. M. M. Slocum of Pittsburgh; Harry Dunn of Pittsburgh; Mrs. M. E. Boggs of New Brighton; the Rev. and Mrs. N. W. Crowe of East Liverpool, O.; the Rev. and Mrs. T. V. Boggs of Sheraden; Frank L. Boggs, James M. Boggs and Clarence M. Boggs of Pittsburgh, brothers of the bride; Miss Stella E. Hedger of Allegheny; Miss May Dunlap, Allegheny; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. White, Wilkinsburg; the Rev. W. J. Holmes, Independence; the Rev. E. R. Tait and wife, Princeton, Pa.; the Rev. H. W. Hanna and wife, Dawson; Prof. W. T. Slater, Wilkinsburg; Miss Helen H. Faris, Wilkinsburg; the Rev. E. Van Dyke Wright, Jennings, Neb., and the Rev. R. W. Post, Martville, Tenn.

The bridegroom was graduated from Washington and Jefferson College in 1897, was principal of the Wilkinsburg High school from 1897 to 1900 and was graduated from the Western Theological Seminary, 1902, both bride and groom received their appointment on June 2, to go to India for eight years as missionaries. As announced in yesterday's Gazette, they will sail from New York on October 25.

Easton-McKeag.

At six o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. McElroy, in Highland avenue, Washington, Pa., the marriage of Miss Matty Easton, daughter of S. L. Wilson, and George B. McKeag was celebrated. It was a quiet affair, with only near relatives present. The young couple left immediately for New York, and sail Saturday for Porto Rico, where Mr. McKeag will be employed as a teacher. Mr. McKeag was graduated at W. & J. in '98, and enlisted immediately in the Tenth regiment, going with it through the Philippine campaign. The first year since his return he taught in Porto Rico, and the past year taught in New Jersey.

Wilson-McIlvaine.

Miss Annie Gertrude Wilson, daughter of John Wilson, superintendent of the County Home, Washington, Pa., and W. A. H. McIlvaine, a young attorney of the Washington county bar were wedded at the bride's home at Arden at 7:30 this last evening. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. N. W. Temple of the First United Presbyterian church of Washington, assisted by Rev. J. H. Snowden, of the Second Presbyterian church. Mr. McIlvaine, was graduated from W. & J. in '94 and is a nephew of the Hon. J. A. McIlvaine, of the Washington county courts.

Dunn-Fair.

Miss Daisy Dunn, daughter of Edward Dunn of No. 1041 Forbes street, and C. L. Fair of McDonald, were married yesterday by the Rev. Father Sweeney, at St. Paul's cathedral, and a reception at the country home of the bride, Middleton road, Ingram, followed the ceremony at the church. The bridesmaid was Miss Pearl Dunn and Edward Dunn, Jr., brother of the bride, acted as best man. The couple left for a trip through the east, and after September 25 will be at home to their friends in Sheraden.

Gocsine-Byers.

Miss Martha Gocsine and Robert Byers both prominent society people of Monongahela, Pa., were married at the Methodist Episcopal church yesterday afternoon. The Rev. D. B. Johnson, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. A large number of guests were present, after which Mr and Mrs. Byers left for a trip to Atlantic City and other eastern points.

A Wedding in Shadyside.

Announcement is made of the date of the wedding of Miss Mathilda Battaile Ewing, third daughter of Col. and Mrs. John Ewing, and Ralph Grant Kennedy of Chicago. The wedding will take place at the home of the Ewings in Center avenue, Shadyside, on Wednesday, October 8.

RAILROADS FAST SWALLOWING UP GREAT FORESTS

Necessity for Finding Steel Substitute for Wooden Ties Apparent.

FORTUNE IN STORE FOR SOME INVENTOR

Steel Shares Attracting More Attention in the Stock Market. Big Speculators Indifferent About the Money Market.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 10.—Railroad managers and steel manufacturers are freshly interested in experiments in steel lines. This is not a new subject by any means, but it is steadily increasing in importance, and as time lapses without a satisfactory substitute being found for wood ties it is likely to become really serious.

More than 100,000,000 ties are annually required by the railroads for some 200,000 miles of roadway, and to supply them there is yearly sacrificed the equivalent of a forest one mile wide reaching from the Atlantic to the Pacific. As the necessity for finding a substitute becomes more urgent inventive genius may be expected to rise accordingly. Close observers of this situation are persuaded that it is a matter of short time only until some more satisfactory tie shall be produced. Experiments have been going on for several years, but until recently they were conducted in a more or less indifferent manner.

Railroad managers, assisted by steel manufacturing interests, have taken up the matter in a very serious spirit. A great fortune awaits the man who will produce an available railroad tie of steel.

Steel Stocks Lively.

In the stock market today there was fresh interest in independent steel issues, such as Tennessee Coal and Iron and Colorado Fuel. Both advanced sharply, but subsequently lost their gains, Tennessee closing unchanged and Colorado Fuel ending with a net loss of 1 per cent.

The bullish demonstration in steels was coincident with the initial hearing in the suit of J. A. Hodge, Jr., against the United States Steel Corporation's conversion plan. This hearing was begun today before Vice Chancellor Emery in Newark. The management of the steel combine desires it to be understood that there is not the slightest official disappointment over the refusal of the vice chancellor to dismiss the suit because of the discredited character of the litigants.

Effect of Sage's Illness.

Wanting a better explanation of the reactionary tendency of stocks in the late dealings today, traders attached undue importance to news of the sudden illness of Russell Sage. The pretext was peculiarly plausible, owing to the circumstance that the so-called Gould stocks, in all of which Mr. Sage is heavily interested, have been uncommonly prominent in the market this week.

Notwithstanding Mr. Sage's long and active association with the stock market and his prominent position as a lender of money in large amounts, his death probably would affect stock values less than the death of any one of 20 other financiers. Indeed, it is doubted whether his death would have any material effect upon stocks at all. He is not involved in the market, which is to say that he is in no sense of the word a speculator, although for many years he was intimately associated with one of the greatest of speculators Wall street ever knew, Jay Gould. The stocks Mr. Sage owns he owns outright, and his decease would leave no hypothecated stocks hanging over the market.

Indifferent About Money.

The New York banks so far this week have lost nearly $5,000,000 on their operations with the sub-treasury, and everything points to another unfavorable bank statement next Saturday. It is evident, however, that the speculative interests now in control of the market are indifferent about money. The big people are well provided for, and this is nothing if not a big people's market. Commenting on the money situation, George G. Williams, president of the Chemical National bank, said:

"From present indications there will be sufficient money to meet all legitimate requirements during the crop-moving period. I am of the opinion that if a 6 per cent call money rate is maintained here and rates in London do not get above 3 per cent, a considerable amount of gold will be attracted from the other side within a very short time."

Smelting and Refining Affairs.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the American Smelting and Refining Company was held in Jersey City today at which the following directors were elected to serve one year: E. W. Nash, Daniel Guggenheim, Barton Sewell, Isaac Guggenheim, Morris and Solomon Guggenheim, Simon Guggenheim, and also Grant B. Schley and Henry L. Higginson. The report of the company for the year ended April 30 shows earnings of $7,058,682. E. W. HARDEN.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—A Rossland (B. C.) correspondent writes that there is sufficient ore blocked out in the Le Roi to warrant shipments of 30,000 tons a month for an indefinite period. During July Le Roi No. 2 shipped 5,675 tons, which returned net profits of $27,950. The cost of mining was $21,500. At Trail, where a large amount of ore has accumulated since the War Eagle and Centre Star resumed shipments, the Canadian smelting works will be blown in again this week. The Alta Lincoln is preparing to resume shipments next month.

The mines of the Great Lincoln Company in Pima county, Arizona, have been bought by a syndicate of Chicago and Cleveland capitalists, among whom are John D. Rockefeller and President Worth of the Motorcycle Company. The price is said to have been $6,000,000. The property embraces 1,000 acres of mineral land in which copper, gold, silver and lead abound.

Only 50 men are now employed at the Horn Silver at Frisco, Utah, most of them on development work. The company has a good surplus in the treasury, but the manager says dividends are unlikely, since the money may be required for the erection of a smelter.

A rich strike is reported on the Golden Era, near Bannack, Mont. The ore body, which was encountered at the end of a 150-foot tunnel, is six feet wide and the ore assays 40 per cent copper, $28 gold and some silver.

In the Metal Markets.

Offerings of copper were much heavier than the demand today and values were therefore generally easier, both in the home and foreign markets. The sales movement was light. Standard spot closed at $11 00@11 05 large, $11 80@12 25; electrolytic, $11 15@11 90; and casting, $11 15@11 40. London reported a decline of 10s, closing spot at £58 7s 6d and futures at £58 15s. Tin in the local market had few features of interest beyond its firm tone, business proving light. Spot closed a little higher at $27 00@27 35. The advance abroad amounted to £5s, spot closing at £124 and futures at £119 5s. Lead remains unchanged and steady with trade dull. Spot quoted at 4¼c. London closed at £10 17s 6d—unchanged. Spelter was quiet and unchanged, with a small business transacted at 5¼c cash rates. London is unchanged at £19 7s 6d. In iron there was little doing, owing to the scarcity of supplies, and the tone held firm. Warrant's nominal. No. 1 foundry northern, $22 00@23 00; No. 2 foundry northern, $22 00@23 00; No. 1 foundry southern, soft, $22 00@23 00. Glasgow closed higher at 58s, whereas Middlesboro was lowered to 53s 7½d.

CARRIERS MOVE UP ON STRENGTH OF PEACE STORY

Belief That Pennsylvania and Gould Interests Bury the Hatchet.

OVER MILLION SHARES CHANGE HANDS

Industrials Are Practically Neglected for Railroads Except for Activity in Gas Stocks and American Ice Preferred.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 10.—For the most part the tendency of today's market was irregular, though opening with considerable strength, which was well maintained until the last hour. About that time rumors of the serious illness of Russell Sage caused a selling movement in the Gould stocks, the remainder of the list being sympathetically affected. Conditions as a whole favored higher prices. London reported a strong tone for Americans, another gold importation was announced, call money, though nominally as high as 9 per cent, was actually hardly higher than 7 per cent; crop news was encouraging and early advices told of a truce between the Pennsylvania and Gould interests.

Largely as a result of these last rumors, and aided by clever manipulation, Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio, whose interests are virtually identical, advanced over a point each and the Gould stocks also gained. In the same move improvement was shown by St. Paul, Louisville & Nashville, Rock Island, New York Central, Illinois Central and the Wabashes, but the industrial list was neglected, save for some activity and better prices in the gas stocks and American Ice preferred.

Brisk Trading in U. S. Steel.

Following a brief halt toward the end of the first hour, during which the list sagged, there came an active demand for Union Pacific, Reading, Manhattan, Atchison and some of the specialties. At the same time there was some selling of Missouri Pacific by brokers who had been active on the other side. St. Paul, on persistent rumors of an increased dividend, made a further advance, and Reading's strength was well maintained in spite of obvious profit taking in Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio and New York Central.

United States Steel shares were taken up, the common being extensively traded in, and simultaneous strength was shown by Tennessee Coal and Iron and other stocks of that class. There was no news to account for the increased interest in these issues other than the general prosperity of the steel and iron trade. In the miscellaneous list the shares of the express companies advanced from 2 to 6 points on very light trading. Westinghouse Electric and Pere Marquette gained 6 points each.

Sharp Decline in Missouri Pacific.

The feature of the last hour was a 5-point decline in Missouri Pacific and the recessions in the standard railway list, including Baltimore & Ohio, Norfolk & Western, Reading, St. Paul and New York Central. The selling movement wiped out the greater part of the day's gains and in some instances caused net losses. St. Paul and Missouri Pacific making the most serious declines. New high records for the day included St. Paul, Missouri Pacific, Rock Island, Baltimore & Ohio, Reading first preferred, Southern Pacific, Missouri, Kansas & Texas preferred, Wabash common and preferred, Wheeling & Lake Erie 2d preferred, St. Joseph & Grand Island 1st preferred, Keokuk & Des Moines, Westinghouse, Republic Iron and Steel and American Car and Foundry.

The new issues of the Rock Island company were again the feature on curb, the 4 per cent bonds selling up to 89¾ on transactions aggregating about $1,000,000. London's operations here amounted to perhaps 50,000 shares, very equally divided as to purchases and sales.

Money Conditions Easier.

Increased public interest was reported by leading commission houses and the day's business, which was in excess of 1,200,000 shares, was well distributed. Money conditions were somewhat easier, but the loss of cash by the banks to the sub-treasury continued, and last week's surplus reserve was completely obliterated. The gold movement from Australia is likely to assume formidable proportions. Foreign exchange broke some 20 points early in the day. There were no transfers by the sub-treasury.

The bond market maintained a firm tone during the greater part of the day, despite the heavy realizing in Wabash debentures, which depressed them 2 points. The market sold off in sympathy with the decline in stocks. Total sales, par value, $4,895,000.

United States old 4s declined ¼ per cent and the new 4s registered advanced ½ and the do coupon ⅝ per cent on the last call.

Talked About in Wall Street

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The Herald this (Thursday) morning says: "There were signs of a weakening in the wonderful demonstration of strength with which the professional element in Wall street has been entertaining the general public in the last few days. Probably the pools had reached the end of their ropes, so far as their line of credits was concerned, and it was decided to begin the process of profit-taking. At any rate, the restless workings of the money market were beginning to bear fruit, for more attention was paid to that as a factor in speculation yesterday than on any other day this week. Money rates for call contracts did not work much higher than on Tuesday, but the market was as tight as a drumhead the whole day.

Brokers were inclined to explain the cause of the late reaction as due to reports of the death of Russell Sage. In the afternoon vague reports of the serious illness of the aged financier reached the floor, and incidentally the shares of Missouri Pacific become very weak. As a matter of fact, there had been fairly large profit-taking sales going on in the stock for some hours, and the break in prices was only an incident made more acute by the unfortunate reports concerning Mr. Sage. Opinion was divided regarding the over-night developments in the coal strike.

The active stocks during the day were Baltimore & Ohio, Atchison, Missouri Pacific, the Readings and other hard coal shares, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Southern railroad. The pool activity in Baltimore & Ohio was marked in the early dealings. Blocks of 4,000 to 6,000 shares appeared frequently on the tape. Rumors of a new stock increase were denied and nothing definite was secured concerning its Reading connection. The grangers were advanced on good crop news. A less definite tone was exhibited by the hard coal stocks. In the late decline a great part of the gains made early in the day were wiped out.

Many traders were under the impression that the long-looked-for advance in the shares of the United States Steel Corporation was at hand when speculation became active in its securities yesterday. The movement had all the appearance of substantiality in its inception, as blocks of several thousand shares appeared on the tape on a scale upward. It was started at noon, after a period of interrupted activity and a weakening tendency. This movement carried the common shares up to 42¾, which, considering the recent dividend taken off, brings the price up to the figures prevailing at the time the send-off was given the stock conversion plan by the Gates following.

PAR VALUE COMPANY PRODUCING ORE.

From the Denver Republican, Sept. 6, 1902.

LOOKS LIKE A BONANZA IN THE MARY CASHEN.

PAR VALUE COMPANY CREDITED WITH A BIG FIND.

Entire Heading of Drift in Virgin Territory Assays $170 a Ton in Gold.

VICTOR, COL., Sept. 5.—The Par Value Mining Company, leasing on the Mary Cashen, is accredited with an important strike tonight in the drift at the 425-foot level at a point 40 feet south of the shaft. The entire heading assayed tonight eight and one-half ounces gold, or $170 to the ton. Only yesterday arrangements were completed by which the Gold Coin Company will furnish air for the machine drills. The connection was made through the fifth level of the Coin. The new discovery is in virgin ground, and if the chute extends upward the leasing company has the ore on which to become a dividend payer.

In closing up the sale of Par Value stock an unusual opportunity is offered for a safe and profitable investment and early returns.

The company is now producing ore in two mines, has three others developed to the point of production and owns or operates nine properties, five of which are located on Battle Mountain, adjoining or surrounded by the Portland, Stratton's Independence, Gold Coin, Ajax, Strong and the Granite, the richest mines in the Cripple Creek district, and comprise the Mary Cashen, Coriolanus, Mary Alice, Par Value and Stonehouse. Two others are located six miles distant and two in the Mercur-Bingham district, Utah.

The company has nine properties, containing nearly 700 acres, over 600 acres of which are owned by the company. It is capitalized for only $1,000,000, the usual capitalization of one mine, while it has sufficient acreage and every promise of opening a dozen other mines on its properties. It is not, therefore, dependent upon one for results.

The price of shares is 50 cents, par value $1, full paid and non-assessable, the original subscription price thus giving present investors the benefit of the lowest figure, and of two years' time and work done and nearly $100,000 spent by the company on development and plant, in addition to $100,000 expended by former operators on the properties.

The company has been established and in operation over two years, has developed and proven mines in the best locations in America, and it is on a producing basis.

The present sale of stock is to provide money for additional development, and the sale will shortly be discontinued. Now is the time to secure the stock.

Adjoining mines are paying from two to three cents per month per share dividends, or 24 to 36 per cent.

The shareholders of the company include leading business and professional men of Pittsburgh and vicinity. It is virtually a home enterprise, managed by local men. The directors include bank officers, merchants, manufacturers and professional men of the highest character, and the affairs of the company are conducted on business principles in the interest of all the stockholders, as are all meritorious companies.

The general manager of the company is now in Pittsburgh, direct from the mines, and will be pleased to give particulars in person of the work and properties at our offices.

For prospectus, maps and reports of those who have visited and examined the properties, including representative men from this locality, call on or address

Stocks Were Not Quite So Active, but Some Big Advances Occurred

BANKING SHARES MAKE SOME BIG GAINS IN PRICE

Sensational Advances Scored in Efforts to Secure Favorite Issues.

ELECTRIC SECONDS ON THE BOOM

Alleged Earnings Are So Per Cent and the Bulls Are Enthusiastic. Crucible Steel Reacted—U. S. Steels Higher—Coalers Easier.

The volume of business on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was considerably smaller than that of the day before, but the proceedings were fully as interesting, if not, indeed, much more so. The features were again in the banking group and many sensational advances were scored and several new high records reached. Another sensational performance was Westinghouse Electric seconds, which grew quite active toward the close of the day, the firsts advancing $2 to $116 on comparatively light sales, while the seconds broke all previous records by selling up to 116¼ and closing strong at 116, a gain of 2¼ for the day. The advance in these two stocks is based upon the belief that something really sensational is about to be sprung. Yesterday Pittsburgh was flooded with the wildest of bullish tips on the seconds especially, and some heavy speculators and also some large investors are reported to have closed out all other deals and put the proceeds in Electric seconds. That is, they are alleged to have bought as much of the stock as they could yesterday and to have held the rest to "get aboard" today. There was undoubtedly a large amount of enthusiasm on the street after the close yesterday, and many brokers were scurrying from place to place in their efforts to buy the stock. The report was made on what was termed "good authority" that a statement of the earnings of the company, which has been prepared for submission at the long-expected and hoped for annual meeting, will show $9 per cent earned on the capital. This is a phenomenal showing, if true, and is undoubtedly most bullish. There have been unusual "tips" out on the stock for weeks that something sensational would be forthcoming shortly, and it was said yesterday that a prominent Pittsburgher was in New York then consulting with President George Westinghouse. The bulls after the close yesterday freely predicted from 120 to 125 before the stock ought to sell, and it sold to 150 when all the "news" was out. Out of all the talk yesterday it was clear the talkers believed they were at last on the straight track and that the long-expected developments would now be given. It is well, however, to remember that where nothing is absolutely certain a conservative course is wisest. The money one fails to make doesn't hurt half as seriously as that which is lost out of pocket. Westinghouse Airbrake did not share in the movement, being only nominally quoted at 187½@190. Switch & Signal was dull at 95 bid and 95½ asked.

In the banking group the movements were sensational in the extreme. Columbia National closed $10 higher at $390; Cosmopolitan National gained $2 at $110; Duquesne National went up $5 to $285, while Colonial Trust advanced $1 to $500 and closed strong at $503 bid. Prudential Trust jumped 80 to $150; Pittsburg Trust opened at $670 and jumped to $695, a gain of $35 for the day and a new high record. Real Estate Trust was active and strong at $285.50, a gain of 50 cents for the day and a new high record. First National Bank of Pittsburgh scored the biggest advance of all by jumping $50 to $690, another new high record. A basis for the rise in the latter stock is found in a report that the dividend in October may be doubled. The bank has been paying quarterly dividends of 2 per cent on its capital of $750,000, and it is reported to have been at the rate of 30 per cent per annum. It recently increased its capital to $1,000,000, selling 2,500 shares of new stock at $800 a share and giving stockholders the right to subscribe for one new share for every three shares of old. It is understood that the new stock was over-subscribed, some stockholders relinquishing their rights in order that the new stock might be placed with outside interests. The sum realized from the new stock was $1,500,000, and by passing the premium to surplus the First National was given a capital of $1,000,000 and surplus and profits of about $2,300,000. Despite denials of rumors it is believed that the bank contemplates extensive improvements and additions to its present banking quarters, and there is a belief that a further increase in capital is probable before very long. The latter aspect of the case, however, was vigorously denied by a director yesterday.

In the industrial group there was comparative dullness. Crucible Steel common sales fell off to less than 2,000 shares and the stock declined ⅝ to 23½. The directors yesterday declared the regular 1¾ per cent dividend on the preferred, but the common was not given anything. This will be a big disappointment for some who hoped it would be placed upon a 4 per cent basis at the least. United States Steels were somewhat firmer and fractionally higher. Pittsburgh Coal was less active than for days and closed with a loss of ⅜ at 31¼. The preferred advanced ¾ to 91¾. Brewing common was firm and ½ higher at 31⅝. The remainder of the list was dull but about steady. Bonds were quiet and unchanged.

CROP REPORT GIVES PROMISE OF RECORD YEAR

Corn Average Is Far Ahead of Any for the Last Ten Years.

RECORDS ARE HIGH ALL ALONG THE LINE

Wheat, Oats, Barley and Rye All Doing as Well as the Yellow Cereal—Prospects for Big Apple Crop Good.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—The monthly report of the statistician of the department of agriculture shows the average condition of corn on September 1 to have been 84.3, as compared with 86.5 on August 1, 1902; 51.7 on September 1, 1901; 80.6 at the corresponding date in 1900, and a 10-year average of 78.8.

Except in Kansas and South Dakota, which report a decline of 12 points and 10 points, respectively, during August, no material change of condition is reported from any of the principal corn states, and except those of the south and the state of Michigan they again report condition averages in excess of their respective averages for the last 10 years. Notwithstanding its marked decline during August, Kansas reports a condition of 91, or 25 points above its ten-year average, while Nebraska and Missouri exceed their respective ten-year averages by 35 and 22 points respectively; Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Iowa by 16, 11, 14 and 10 points respectively, and Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and Minnesota by 6, 4 and 3 points respectively.

Depends on Good Weather.

The crop, however, is so late that throughout the entire northern portion of the belt predictions of more than an average crop are invariably made contingent upon the immediate advent and continuance of some days of the most favorable conditions of weather.

The average condition at harvest of winter and spring wheat combined was 80 against 92.8 last year, 69.6 in 1900, and a ten-year average of 78.9. Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Illinois report 13, 18, 15 and 23 points, and North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Missouri 20, 24, 25 and 24 points respectively above their ten-year averages; the condition in Minnesota differs only 1 point from the state's ten-year average, while Pennsylvania and California report 5 points below the ten-year average, Iowa 12 points below, and Kansas, with a condition of 49, 23 points below the ten-year average of the state.

Big Gain in Oats.

The average condition of oats when harvested was 87.2 against 72.1 last year, 82.9 in 1900, and a ten-year average of 79.7. While correspondents report the harvesting of an exceptionally large crop of oats, there are indications that the crop will be very deficient in point of quality. This, however, will be more fully reported upon in December, when the final returns as to yield per acre are sent in.

Of the 10 states having 1,000,000 acres or upward in oats Iowa alone reports a condition comparing unfavorably with its ten-year average. New York reports the phenomenally high condition of 107, the highest reported from this state since 1877, and 24 points above its ten-year average; Wisconsin 100, its highest since 1882, and 15 points above its ten-year average; Ohio 100, its highest since 1883, and 13 points above its ten-year average; Michigan 99, its highest since 1884, and 17 points above its ten-year average.

Crop in Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania reports 98, its highest since 1895, and 16 points above its ten-year average; Indiana 96, its highest since 1894, and 10 points above its ten-year average; Minnesota 95, its highest since 1895, and 11 points above its ten-year average; Nebraska 86, its highest since 1897, and 20 points above its ten-year average, and Illinois 86, or 6 points above its ten-year average, but not an exceptionally high condition for that state.

The average condition of barley when harvested was 89.7 against 88.8 last year, 70.7 in 1900, and 82, the mean of the averages of the last 10 years.

The condition at harvest of winter and spring rye combined was 90.2 against 84.9 last year, 84.2 in 1900, and 86.4, the mean of the averages of the last 10 years.

The average condition of buckwheat on September 1 was 86.4 against 91.4 on August 1, 1902, 90.9 one year ago, 80.5 on September 1, 1900, and 86.7, the mean of the averages of the last 10 years.

Hops Show a Decline.

During August the condition of hops declined 1 point in Oregon and 8 in New York, and improved 2 points in California, while the condition in Washington remained unchanged during the month.

Of the states having 4,000,000 trees and upwards in apples 11 report an improvement in condition during August. All but six of the important apple-growing states report conditions ranging from 7 to 32 points above their ten-year averages; in Ohio the condition agrees with such average; while Indiana, West Virginia, Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky report conditions below such average.

There is a decrease in the number of stock hogs now being fattened as compared with the number a year ago in every important hog-raising state except Pennsylvania, where an increase of 1 per cent is noted. Reports as to size and weight of stock hogs indicate a condition above the ten-year average in but four of the principal states—Illinois, Missouri, Tennessee and Pennsylvania.

COTTAGE CITY ASHORE.

Steamer in Alaska Trade Meets With Accident on Pacific Coast.

SEATTLE, WASH., Sept. 10.—The steamer Cottage City of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company went ashore late Sunday night on Island Point, 20 miles south of Fort Wrangle. Fifty feet of keel are gone and her forefoot is dry at low water.

The 150 passengers were transferred to the steamer Spokane of the same company, which came along three hours after the accident, bound north. The Cottage City was bound for Seattle when the accident occurred and was due to arrive here today.

CONSULTERS OF THE BISHOP TO BE CHOSEN

Several Important Changes May Be Made in Bishop Phelan's Official Family.

The terms of the various consulters of Bishop Phelan expire the latter part of this month, and it is believed there are to be several important changes, in view of the fact that a coadjutor will be appointed soon. The bishop has six consulters, three of whom are appointed by himself. The priests of the diocese select nine names, out of which the remaining three are chosen. Several of the present board of consulters are well up in years and may not be reappointed.

It is certain, however, that Vicars General Bush of Allegheny and Tobin of Lawrenceville will be appointed. The present board of consulters is made up of the Very Rev. E. A. Bush of St. Peter's, Allegheny; the Very Rev. F. L. Tobin of St. Mary's, Lawrenceville, and the Rev. Fathers Canevin, McDermott, Kaufman and Suehr. The appointments will be made the last week of this month, but will not be ratified until the synodical meeting in October.

The bishop and his consulters are now making out a list of the permanent rectorships of the diocese. According to church discipline every tenth parish should be a permanent rectorship, but the late division of the Pittsburgh diocese took nearly half of the rectorships. The diocese will be decimated and the regular number established before the synod meets. According to the number of parishes in this diocese, there should be nearly 17 rectorships. There are now only nine, one of which, St. John's, South Side, is vacant. The latter appointment is to be made the first Tuesday in October.
